She will be replaced by Sister Tancredi, from Westminster. While in charge of the hospital here Sister Cleopha made many friends who regret to see her leave.

One of the neatest places of business in Astoria is the new store of John Svensen, at 557 Commercial St. Mr. Svensen is a deservedly popular man, and has built up a fine business. His new room presents a very tasteful appearance and shows a well selected stock of books, papers, toys, notions, musical instruments, etc. The window displays are notably excellent.

The executive board of the Woman's Club decided yesterday to close a date for a lecture, from Mrs. Conde Hamlin, of St. Paul, Minn., in the interests of civic improvement league, for a date any time between April 28, May 5. It is hoped that the itinerary already arranged for will allow a lecture at Astoria. Mrs. Hamlin is fully versed in all the practical workings of the civic league and would be of great assistance to the movement about to be inaugurated here.

Voters made a rush yesterday and swelled the registration list more than 60 registrations. Politics are waking things up and the registration is now promised to be a large one. The county Republican central committee has been called to meet at Republican headquarters in this city next Thursday at 2 o'clock p. m. When arrangements will be made to open up the present campaign in earnest.

It is reported that Mr. C. R. Thomson will be placed on the citizens' ticket in place of Mr. Smith, who has declined to make the race. This is denied, however, by promoters of the move.

A. M. Smith comes out in a card and states that he will not make the race for county judge on the "citizens non-partisan" ticket. Mr. Smith states that his duties as city attorney and the cost of a campaign prompt him in declining to make the race.

Sheriff Linville left for Salem last night with a mixed trio in charge. One of the number was A. Hoyt, the log-thief, who was bound for the state penitentiary; another, Patrick Farrell, he was taking to the insane asylum, and the third was the young sailor boy, Earl Myers, whose father had sent him a ticket to return home and had requested the sheriff to see that he got started on his way properly.

Professor Parker reports hard work and good results at the city High School. There are several record winners this season. Onay Jackson who has been chosen valedictorian for 1902 made an average of more than 90 in the work for over four years' work; Alice O'Connor, who has been chosen as salutatorian averaged over 89 in four years' work, and of the graduating class of eight, 84-1-3 is the lowest made. The High School boys are now practicing for a game of basketball to be played at an early date for the purpose of raising funds for improving the laboratory. The game will be matched between the freshmen and seniors and juniors and sophomores.

Foundmaster Olof Peterson, speaking of the complaint made against him in regard to impounding dogs states that with the allowance made to him to provide a pound and take care of animals, he is doing the very best that he can. He is only allowed $2.50 a month to pay for the rent of a pound and gets $1 for each dog impounded. He is compelled to keep dogs three days before killing them and as meats are high and he is compelled to feed the dogs while he keeps them, and the average dog is a hearty eater, especially when picked up from the streets. While there is nothing in it to him he is doing his best in the matter and thinks he should not be condemned under the circumstances.

The efforts of the Woman's Club to interest property owners in the appearance of the city has met with hearty co-operation on the part of the O. R. & N. Co. Some time ago the chairman of the civic improvement Department addressed a communication to Mr. Lainsberry, agent of the O. R. & N. Co., asking that the company remove the unsightly ruins of the old coal bunkers and put the property in proper condition, so that it should no longer be a disgrace to the city front.

Yesterday a letter was received saying the request had been considered by the company and they would do as requested. This being the first effort in this direction, the ladies are greatly pleased at the result and will be encouraged to persevere in this good work.

Personal Mention.

A Wilson, of Deep River, is in the city.

Donald Ross came down from Portland yesterday, after a two-days' visit.

AN UNSINKABLE SHIP.

Experiments are being made on a new apparatus for use in case of collision on the ocean. By turning a small wheel in the pilot house 29 watertight doors are instantly closed, and these compartments are more than enough to keep any vessel afloat. If it is a success it will make ocean travel as free from danger as Hostetter's Stomach Bitters does the road through life. It is a splendid tonic, free from all injurious narcotics, and one that the most delicate system can retain.

In the spring, when the weather is so variable, it is very beneficial as it protects the system from sudden colds and la grippe. Don't fail to try it. It also cures indigestion, dyspepsia, insomnia, headache, nervousness and biliousness.

FINDS WAY TO LIVE LONG.

The startling announcement of a discovery that will surely lengthen life is made by editor O. H. Downey, of Chubbuck, Ind. "I wish to state," he writes, "that Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption is the most infallible remedy that I have ever known for Coughs, Colds and Grip. It is invaluable to people with weak lungs. Having this wonderful medicine no one need dread Pneumonia or Consumption. Its relief is instant and cure certain." Charles Rogers will guarantee every 50c and $1.00 bottle, and give trial bottles free.

ONE OF MAN'S FRIENDS.

It is the Dog—Many Are Worthless But Many Are Valuable

The recent dog show in Portland has caused all kinds of comment on the subject of dogs. Some men can see no good in dogs. Others prize them very highly. Some men think the pound and sausage factories are the proper places for them, while others think good kennels, good food and kind treatment are the thing. Speaking of the matter yesterday, a man not a friend to the dog said: "It makes me tired to see men, or women, parading a dog pet about the streets. Why, you see some of them associating with dogs almost on 'social equality.' They actually value the companionship of their dogs above that of most friends. And you see them go into restaurants and carry out more for their dogs than they eat themselves. Then there are others who go to the market and buy fresh meat every day for dogs, a sufficient amount to sustain a family.

"When I see men lavishing their kindness upon a dog, and their money, too, I think of the poor about town, the children who rarely ever get a good meal, and to whom fresh meat is a stranger.

"The most disgusting thing in my judgment is to see a man or woman walking down the street accompanied by a dog carrying a package for the owner and at the same time see the owner 'rubbering' to the right and left to see if any one is admiring the smart trick the dog is performing. I cannot see where there is any good accomplished in having a dog carry a little insignificant package that could be carried in the pocket or hand. And as a usual thing the dog 'stobbers' over the package until it is really filthy to handle.

"Suppose," continued the dog-hater, "these dog-lovers would bestow their attentions upon some poor, deserving child? Spend the money which they throw away on worthless dogs toward educating and making comfortable children of humanity? Something would be accomplished. The dog-lover is a nuisance and there should be laws passed against such mono-idoocy."

But another looked upon it more liberally. He said that a dog was one of man's best friends. He never deserted his owner. He was his most ardent slave. He told of the lives the dogs have saved, of the wonderful feats they have performed for humanity, of the comfort and satisfaction there is in the companionship of a faithful dog. The good dog, he insisted, is worth all of the cost of keeping him.

It is admitted that there are many worthless ones, but it is contended that there are more that are valuable.
