GOOD-FELLOW-CHAMBERLAIN.

Mr. Chamberlain and his friends are urging that he is a "good fellow." This is the principal point upon which they are urging his election. Everybody likes a "good fellow" in his place— and while his money lasts. The streets are full of good fellows. The "weary willies" of the country, the hobos, were all once "good fellows." Canada and the surrounding countries are full of Americans who were good fellows. This is not intended to reflect upon Mr. Chamberlain for being a good fellow, but it only illustrates the fact that to be a good fellow alone is no qualification for office. There are hundreds of good fellows who may be able to please the "gang" and shake hands and be sociable and yet not be the proper person for a dignified office. There are as many good fellows in Astoria as at any place in the state, but all of these good fellows desire to see a good man elected governor. In an

A Child's Cry

Pierces the mother's heart like a sword. Often the mother who would do everything for the little one she loves, is utterly impotent to help and finds no help in physicians. That was the case with Mrs. Duncan, whose little one was almost blind with scrofula. But fortunately she was led to use Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and so cured the child without resorting to a painful operation. The great blood-purifying properties of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery have been proved over and over again in cases of scrofula, eczema, eruptions, and other diseases which are caused by an impure condition of the blood. It entirely eradicates the poisons which feed disease, and builds up the body with sound, healthy flesh.

My little daughter became afflicted with scrofula, which affected her eyes, writes Mrs. Agnes L. Duncan, of Mansfield, Sebastian Co., Ark. "She could not bear the light for over a year. We tried to cure her eyes, but nothing did any good. We had our home physician and he advised us to take her to an oculist, as her eyes would have to be 'scraped.' She had become so thick he thought she would never recover her sight. As there was no one else to whom we could apply my heart sank within me. I went to your 'Common Sense Medical Adviser,' read your treatment on scrofula, getting the properties of medicines there advised. With five bottles of 'Golden Medical Discovery' I have entirely cured my child. Hoping this will be of some use to you and a blessing to other sufferers, with heartfelt thanks I remain, executive position like the governorship or the presidency of the United States, the people desire to see a man there of dignity and cool-headedness and a man of business tact rather than a slipshod good fellow. It is well to have a good fellow call on you and take in the town with you, but when it comes to matters of state the best of good fellows like to be represented by a different calibre.

Doctor Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are an excellent laxative for children. They are easy to take and thorough in action.

Another charge has been made against Mr. Furnish that he cannot make a pyrotechnic speech; that he makes a sober, plain statement of facts. It is claimed that he does not run the "gang" wild like Chamberlain. He only makes a plain straight forward business talk. Chamberlain just raises Cain and makes the boys laugh. The clown in the circus can do this; the street huckster can do the same; the broad-mouthed, narrow-pated, the jesters of old could do this. Men of brains, successful men, men upon whom the people could rely have always been serious on important occasions. The immortal Lincoln had his droll wit and often used it as an illustration, but he did not claim to be a good fellow and was never charged with being such. The rugged features as shown in every correct picture of the great statesman illustrate the seriousness of the man. It is the serious men that are required in important positions; the clowns and hucksters and street mountebanks do well in their place, and the people enjoy their performances, but when it comes to a solemn consideration of the polls they tie to the man who has made a success, who seriously realizes the importance of his position and remark that "George was a good fellow, but he is not the proper man for a serious executive office."

Some of the most eloquent addresses ever delivered are heard in the police courts where some slyster attorney is representing a hobo. He expects to get notoriety or sees a drink in some admirer; some of the greatest appeals ever heard have come from the most virulent demagogues; it is so common everywhere. The pleasing orator has never been regarded as a safe executive officer. Clay is an example; Blaine is another; Bryan is a later issue. The services of the coal-headed McKinleys, the Grants, the Garfields, and a thousand others like them, down to our own Furnish, are in demand and will be, after all of the windbags of the country have blown away. It is the stammering of the country upon which the people rely and the good-fellows and sentimental fellows will still continue to occupy their position in the private ranks, or just a little above the private ranks.

Mr. Wise comes forward again today. Mr. Wise made a good start and then followed again a little weaker, but this time his article deserves pity. It is dreary, sleepy, draws out, and in an "as I went on to state" form that tires the reader before he gets started, and it will only be through the high personal standing of the writer that any will ever be induced to read it through. Mr. Wise is a good business man, and highly interested in his home, but in a continued discussion where he has no ground upon which to stand, like all others who attempt to stay he gets lost in the woods. To boll the whole matter down in a nutshell, Mr. Wise is an enthusiastic Democrat; he is not an exception to the men of that political creed; he imagines that he has home at heart above politics, but in this hour when in local politics his party is running under an assumed name, he is making a spasmodic fight for it and with all of the "bad men" on the opposing side he has not found a bad one in the "non-partisan" aggregation. Such is politics.

A local paper insinuates that a local lawyer is writing the editorials of the Astorian. Every line that appears in the Astorian not credited or quoted as coming from the outside is written by the editor of the paper. The paper does not need the assistance of a lawyer to meet the mongrel gang, which is without a name, without a platform, without a country and without a motto, save "We want office."

SAVED FROM AN AWFUL FATE. "Everybody said I had consumption," writes Mrs. A. M. Shields, of Chambersburg, Pa. "I was so low after six months of severe sickness, caused by Hay Fever and Asthma, that few thought I could get well, but I learned of the marvelous merit of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, used it and was completely cured." For Desperate Lung and Throat Diseases it is the safest cure in the world, and is infallible for Coughs, Colds and Bronchial Affections. Guaranteed bottles 50c and $1.00. Trial bottles free at Chas. VIOLENT CANCER CURED.

Startling proof of a wonderful advance in medicine is given by druggist G. W. Roberts, of Elizabeth, Va. An old man there had long suffered with what good doctors pronounced incurable cancer. They believed his case hopeless until he used Electric Bitters and applied Bucklen's Arnica Salve, which treatment completely cured him. When Electric Bitters are used to expel bilious, kidney and microbe poisons at the same time this salve exerts its matchless healing power, blood diseases, skin eruptions, ulcers and sores vanish.
