A telephone message from Chinook yesterday conveyed the information that the body of W. S. Hargus, who fell overboard and was drowned, in East Astoria, a few days ago, had been washed up on the beach. The body will probably be buried at Chinook.

A handsome Kimball organ, the best made by the Kimball company, has been placed in the Elmore chapel for the West Astoria M. E. Sunday school. The instrument cost $125, of which the school will pay $25, and the balance has been donated by the Astorian Publishing Company.

On Tuesday last an enlisted man at Fort Stevens was taken ill and the appearance of a rash created the impression that he was afflicted with smallpox. Strict quarantine was maintained until yesterday, when it became positively known that the soldier did not have smallpox.

The quarantine at the Coulter residence in East Astoria was raised yesterday. Mrs. Robert Coulter, the patient, having entirely recovered. Dr. Estes, the attending physician, has caused all the bedding to be burned and the house fumigated, and danger of the disease has been avoided.

Contractor Suprenant yesterday finished the work of laying the second floor at the new Clatsop mill. Within 10 days the buildings will be ready for the machinery. The work of erecting the structure has progressed rapidly. About 60 days will be required to install the machinery, and by September 15 the mill will be in operation.

Don't forget the Forester excursion to Seaside Sunday. Remember this is the chance of a lifetime to enjoy yourself. Tickets for round trip are only 75c; children, 5 to 12 years of age, 50c. There will be amusement for everybody. Train leaves at 9 a. m., returning leaves Seaside at 4:45 p. m., giving seven hours of pleasure at the seashore.

The Forester's excursion to Seaside today will be one of the best attended events ever held by a local civic society. A great many tickets have been sold and as the weather promises to be fine, the outing will prove a pleasant one. It is quite probable there will be a big crowd from Portland and that Seaside will be crowded with excursionists.

The Cathlamet Sun baseball nine will try conclusions with the Eagle team, of this city, at A. F. C. park this afternoon. The Eagles won the game heretofore played at Cathlamet and the visitors are out for revenge. The lineup of the Eagles' team is as follows: Catcher, Edwards; pitcher, Wrasen; shortstop, Smith; first base, Harris; second base, Chesbire; third base, Duffy; left field, Hill; center field, Bay; right field, Cisco; substitute, Palmer.

Frank Geroy; Sir Kt. Lieut. Com. Joel Grutes; Sir Kt. Finance Keeper, Wm. Walker; Sir Kt. Record Keeper, H. A. Smart; Sir Kt. Chaplain, M. Hauey; Sir Kt. Sergeant, Wm. Stuart; Sir Kt. There was a big falling off in the run of salmon yesterday, and the receipts at the different packing houses were very much below those of the previous day. Packers who were asked about the situation yesterday stated that the receipts of salmon were fully 75 per cent less than the run that has heretofore prevailed, and that even the cold-storage supply was too small to justify operations all day. Whether or not the slack run will continue is problematical, but the situation yesterday was anything but encouraging.

Don't forget that the greatest of all conjurers, Zamloch, will be at Fisher's Opera House three nights, commencing Tuesday next. With a high reputation as a master magician and a delightful entertainer, Zamloch will give a performance surpassed by none. His work, always smooth and artistic, with added new features, must be seen to be appreciated. The large number of elegant costly presents he gives away each evening is itself a feature of the entertainments. No trinkets or useless articles of any kind given away. Prices are within reach of all, reserved seats 25c; gallery 20c. Seat sale opens tomorrow morning at Griffin & Reed's.

H. A. Webster, the new deputy fish warden, arrived in the city last evening on the Gatzert, and will at once assume the duties of his office. The work is new to Mr. Webster, but he believes he will soon learn the ropes. Mr. Webster is, as has been stated, a member of the legislature, and the question has been raised as to whether or not he could hold the deputy wardenship while a member of the legislature. Asked yesterday about the matter, Mr. Webster said his appointment as deputy warden was temporary, otherwise he would be unable to hold office. Mr. Webster comes from Clackamas County, and was originally slated to be superintendent of hatchery work in Tillamook County.

The people of the entire State of Oregon are very much interested in the movement now on foot to hold the regatta this year, and from the state papers come expressions of hope that the carnival will be held. Like the citizens of Astoria, the people elsewhere in the state did not become anxious about the matter until it seemed that the regatta would not be held. Then everybody became interested, and there is a general demand that Astoria should provide for the usual week of sport. Elsewhere in the Astorian will be found an expression from the Portland Daily Journal, which voices the sentiment that is everywhere being expressed. The committee appointed by President Carnahan, of the Push Club, to report on the feasibility of holding the regatta will probably have all the details attended to by Monday night, when, if all goes well, a special meeting of the club will be held to ratify the action of the committee.

SYMPATHY FOR ENGLAND.

In the recent disaster at St. Vincent the United States was among the first to extend sympathy to England and also to offer assistance to the fortunate survivors. Giving sympathy is a very appropriate way of showing our feelings for those in distress, but the person who is unable to eat or sleep on account of a weak or disordered stomach needs more than sympathy. He wants a medicine that will cure him. Then Hostie's Stomach Bitters is needed, because it positively cures loss of appetite, belching, flatulency, indigestion, dyspepsia, insomnia or nervousness. Every sufferer should therefore try a bottle of it at once. Don't accept a substitute. The genuine has our private stamp over the neck of the bottle.

A GOOD CHANCE FOR PURCHASERS.

A visit to the store of D. Shanahan, the progressive dry goods merchant, would convince even the least observant that something is going to happen. Every article has a red tag, 63 inches, showing in plain figures the regular selling price and the Sale Price. "The sale price," Mr. Shanahan explained, "is taken from our Eastern invoices, less freight charges. In fact, to be short, we will sell goods for 15 days at the original factory cost." It's a conceded fact that Shanahan's Eastern buyers are the shrewdest in the market.

WERE DOWN BY THE SEA

PURE FOOD DELEGATES VISIT SEASIDE.

Spent a Pleasant Day and Returned to Portland on the Night Train.

The jolly delegates to the National Dairy & Pure Food Association spent yesterday down by the sounding sea, where they watched the sad waves roll in, inhaled an unexcelled quality of ozone, and took a dip in the ocean. Weather conditions could not possibly have been more favorable, and the outing proved about the most pleasant feature of their Western trip.

After an evening of fun in the city the delegates arose at an early hour yesterday morning and boarded their Seaside train. As Dr. Shepard of South Dakota expressed it, the doctors found the people the more hospital as they came West, and they wanted see the extreme limit of hospitality on the edge of the nation.

Arriving at Seaside the delegates soon spread out along the beach, and took in the beauties of nature. Few of the big crowd had ever before seen the grand old Pacific, and the sight was a rare one for them. The ladies in the party were particularly delighted with the Seaside trip, which does not, by any means, infer that the gentlemen were not pleased.

A feature of the outing was a dip in the ocean. The delegates soon had besieged the bath-houses and appeared on the beach clad in bathing suits. The crowd that watched the bathers from the beach enjoyed a most amusing scene, as those who remember their first sea bath will readily appreciate. The few experienced bathers had great sport with the novices, who were put through the stunt of "ducking." No inconsiderable quantity of salt water was swallowed by the visitors, but all enjoyed their bath.

There was no program arranged at the beach and the delegates were left to amuse themselves as best they could. They succeeded admirably, and when it came time to board the train for home there was general regret that the day had passed so quickly. The visitors were dined at Locksley Hall, Mrs. Carlyle doing everything in her power to make matters agreeable for her guests. The dining rooms were prettily decorated and a fine dinner was served. The ravenous appetites cultivated by the visitors since their arrival on the coast were the more acute at Seaside, and all did justice to Mrs. Carlyle's dinner.

The dairy and food commissioners have a habit of holding sessions wherever they go, and a meeting took place at Seaside. The executive committee made a partial report, but the other committees which were expected to report were unable to do so. The meeting was a brief one and nothing of public interest transpired.

The visitors were at the beach from 9 o'clock until 2 in the afternoon, and every minute of the time was enjoyed. They came back on the regular train, which arrived at 5:59 and proceeded on its way to Portland at 6:10. The local reception committee had a delegation at the depot to bid farewell to the parting guests, who were loud in their praise of the treatment accorded them. They said they had never been treated better in their lives, and all vow and declare they will come to the coast again whenever the opportunity presents itself.

After a meeting at Portland on Monday, the visitors will go to Corvallis, where they will visit the agricultural college and look into the course of study at that institution. They will depart for the East the last of the week. Locally the visitors made a very favorable impression, and were regarded as the jolliest crowd that had ever been the guests of the people of this city.
