The new stone bicycle racks are causing a great exhibition of muscle. Almost every man that passes one of them tries to lift it; some succeed, while many do not. The racks weigh 82 pounds.

Miss Elliot has been forced to leave the old Shively homestead she has occupied for so many years and which has been recorded a historical novelty of Astoria, owing to it being considered unsafe for occupancy.

All the ordinances that were passed at the last meeting of the city council were signed yesterday by Mayor Suprenant, with the exception of the one providing for the improvement of a part of Thirty-fourth street.

The barkentine Amaranth left up the river this morning for Portland, where she will load 1,500,000 feet of lumber for Chee Foo, China. This vessel is one of the largest carriers for its size on the coast. Captain Bowes expects to sail about the first week of next month.

The school board held a meeting yesterday regarding the repairing of the McClure school. The school is in great need of a general renovation, and it was decided upon by the board to award the contract to Rudolph Basel, who will begin the work immediately. It was also decided to open the regular school term on September 23.

Your attention is called to the fact that the most important arrival in Astoria recently is the mammoth shipment of stylish clothing in latest cuts, best fabrics and handsomest patterns just received at headquarters for men's and boys' clothing and furnishing goods. The prices will be made within reach of all. Call and see P. A. Stokes about it.

Present conditions seem to indicate that the present salmon canning season is about ended. Having packed all their requirements the cannerymen do not seem disposed to continue operations with the poor grade of fish now being taken unless they can be purchased at a price which will justify placing them on the market. On the other hand the fishermen do not see very large profits in fish at two cents a pound and many prefer not to lay out their nets at that price. The season so far has been fairly satisfactory both to fishermen and to packers, and it is fortunate that the present conditions have been delayed until so near the close of the season.

Yesterday afternoon the yacht Skylark sailed into the harbor and anchored. She hailed from Portland, and was manned by A. R. Dutterworth, J. E. Allen and L. E. Smith, all Portland lads. They are out for a two weeks' vacation cruise, having left Portland Wednesday afternoon. They leave here this morning for Ilwaco, where they will spend a few days in fishing. The Skylark is said to be the swiftest boat on the Columbia river, and the boys are very proud of her. They are out for a high old time and are certainly having one. Before returning home they will visit several other seaports, and then be able on their return to spin yarns as long as a main-royal-halyard. The old salts of Portlandtown will have to look out for their laurels.

Oyster suppers are never out of season at the Toke Point oyster house, because Toke Point Eastern oysters, developed in our waters, have the peculiarity of being in season the year round. This popular house has the peculiarity of serving the daintiest delicacies of all seasons in the most appetizing manner at all hours of the day or night.

Captain Jack Reed's gasoline launch, the Swan, is becoming the most popular picnic boat on the Columbia. And it is an ideal craft for this purpose, being large enough to carry a good sized crowd, and also being quite speedy. Today she carries a crowd of Astorians to the Lewis and Clark, where they will enjoy themselves all day, returning home in the moonlight. Captain Reed enjoys these picnic crowds just as much as though he was a member of them.

Office of C. Q. M., Vancouver barracks, Washington, July 31, 1902. Sealed proposals in triplicate, will be received here until 11 o'clock a. m. August 29, 1902, for furnishing forage and bedding at posts in this department for year ending June 30, 1903. Information furnished here or by quartermaster at posts. U. S. reserves right to reject or accept any or all proposals or any part thereof. Envelopes containing proposals should be marked: "Proposals for forage and bedding at—" and addressed to undersigned. J. W. Jacobs, C. Q. M.

The foundation for the new Catholic church on the southwest corner of Eleventh and Grand is being put down. It is expected that the building will be closed in by the first of October, but it will not be ready to be used for services until sometime next spring. The extreme dimensions of the building will be 102x43 feet. It is to be quite a beautiful structure, and can be plainly seen from the river. It is to cost $19,000. Julius Jacobs is the contractor; he also built the Catholic parsonage. The present church building will be used for a lecture room, for Sunday school, and as a hall for various entertainments given by the church. This will be a very great convenience, as heretofore a hall has had to be rented down town for the church entertainments. The Rev. Father Lane, pastor of the church, is very popular with the members of his congregation. He has been pastor here for nearly three years. Father Lane is a native Oregonian, having been born in Roseburg; he is a grandson to General Joseph Lane, and son of former Congressman Lane.

Standing room is usually at a premium on the local train lately. Another coach added to the train would be very acceptable to those who are doing the standing. Even a smoking car would relieve the pressure.

PROMPT ACTION.

The directors of the Commercial Club held a special meeting yesterday at which the matter of cutting tides and destroying life on the part of reckless steamboat captains, as explained in Mr. Herman Wise's article in yesterday's Astorian, was taken under consideration and a committee was appointed to investigate the matter and report at the next meeting. The committee consists of John Hahn, Herman Wise and A. M. Smith, and as all three gentlemen are friends of the fishermen it may be expected that some steps will be taken which will put a stop to this crime, which has already flourished too long.
