There will be no services at the Salvation Army for one week. The officers have been called away to attend a large Salvation Army camp-meeting in Seattle. They will be back on Wednesday, the 20th, when meetings will be resumed as usual.

W. S. Crain, superintendent of the North American Fisheries Company at Anacortes, Wash., reports having just finished packing 22,000 cases of salmon at that cannery. Mr. Crain is in the city on business connected with the company's cannery at Aberdeen, Wash.

The Sunday school of the First Lutheran church Upper Astoria, will hold their annual picnic at Fairfield Point, Youngs Bay, next Tuesday, Aug. 19. The committee has not undertaken to provide either boat or teams, but all are invited to come early and have a good time.

The Troy Laundry Company is endeavoring to purchase a new site for the location of a laundry building. They wish to erect one to cost $15,000. They have several pieces of property under consideration at the present time, but satisfactory terms have not been made.

A large number of Astoria society folk will go over to Knappa tonight, where a grand dancing party will be given. It is expected that a number of Portland, Seattle and San Francisco young folk will be present. The merry makers from here will go over on the Electro.

The steamer Wilvis, Captain Smith, came down from Rooster Rock yesterday and towed a fleet of fishing boats up to Eureka. The Wilvis has been serving as tender for the C. R. P. A. cannery at Rooster Rock during the past season. The total pack at this cannery was 7000 cases.

The next great event will be the annual Sunday school excursion to Seaside, Aug. 21st. The rates will be 75 cents for all over 15 years of age, and 40 cents for all under 15 years. Members of the Congregational, Baptist and two Methodist schools, under 15 years of age, will be charged 25 cents.

Court Astoria of the Foresters of America give a musical and literary entertainment in its hall this evening. This promises to be one of the most enjoyable entertainments of the season, and a large crowd of Foresters and their friends will be present. When the Foresters do anything, they always do it right.

Sheriff Linville has been wined to the effect that the chief of police of San Francisco has in custody the two men wanted in Astoria for the robbery committed at George Elio's store. The sheriff, being at Salem, it is expected he will secure the necessary requisition papers, so that the men can be brought back to answer the charges.

The Fishermen's Union has appointed a committee of three to co-operate with the committee appointed by the Commercial Club to investigate and secure protection for fishermen. This question will be thoroughly looked into and in the near future a meeting will be held and the proper authorities interviewed as to the necessary steps to be taken.

Hon. Benj. Young who returned from an extensive trip to various points in British Columbia, says that the salmon canneries along the Fraser River are a complete failure this season. Forty canneries were running and the total pack was but 220,000 cases. The season on the Sound was but little better and will fall greatly below that of last year.

The crack bark of George W. Hume's fleet, the Willscot, seems to be very much in demand in Hong Kong at present. She is wanted by two different firm there, one wanting her to carry a cargo of sugar from the Philippines to New York, the other has a general cargo from Hong Kong to San Francisco. It is not known which offer will be accepted.

The steamer George R. Voshug arrived in yesterday from Tillamook. It brings the report that the schooner Merchant, that went ashore there Tuesday, is resting easy. No survey has yet been made of the schooner as yet, and the extent of her damage is not known. Her cargo of 250,000 feet of lumber is still on board. To all appearances the schooner is very little damaged.

The Astoria Box Company is making preparations to build a wharf at the harbor line in front of their mill, and a roadway 1200 feet in length leading to it. Manager McGrogan says he will commence making cargo shipments this fall. The Clatsop Mill Company are planning for a wharf also, and when the Hume mill is completed, this will present an important shipping port.

The gasoline schooner Anita, owned by John Kierman, of Portland, is lying in Alsea Bay with a broken shaft. The particulars of the accident are not known, but as she is partly loaded with lumber for Astoria, it is supposed that she struck a snag while moving in the Alsea river. The steamer W. H. Harrison has been chartered by the underwriters to tow the Anita to Astoria, where she will be repaired.

George W. Hume expected the piling for his new sawmill to be on the grounds, and ready to be used today. Mr. Hume is going to stay in Astoria until he sees the first pile driven, and then he will return to San Francisco. His son, W. R. Hume, will remain here and superintend the building of the mill, and then manage its business. Mr. Hume, Jr. is well pleased with this city, and like every Astorian, believes its future is a very rosy one.

Mayor Suprenant entertained and explained the different sections of the city today to a party of capitalists from Ohio, who are looking for a location of a lumber mill. On leaving the city they were much impressed with it and if a suitable site can be secured at a reasonable price, they will move their plant to Astoria. It is said that Mayor Suprenant and Judge Taylor have two good sites in view, which they present to the Ohio capitalists for their approval.

Peter DeBock, the character that is continually in trouble and who every now and then desires to be the only prizefighter in the land, is again under arrest. He owes the city 20 days of his valuable time, as it is, and he will perhaps serve that and then the judge can decide whether or not he can stand a little more. He has given the police considerable trouble and it seems that his promises of good behavior are only for the moment. So he will perhaps now get a sufficient quantity of time to think and prepare his future career.

Captain and Mrs. Samuel Mullin, of the British ship Brambletyle, expressed themselves as being very much pleased with Astoria. This is their first visit to this city. They spent Wednesday afternoon and yesterday ashore here, looking at the city from close range. The captain is from Belfast, his father being a master, and in active service. Captain Mullin, Jr., is the last of three brothers, the others having been drowned at sea. The master of the Brambletyle is the captain's 13-month-old boy, Samuel Mullin, Jr. He is a handsome little fellow, with tanned cheeks and merry eyes. And the ship belongs to him.

Governor Geer's proclamation setting aside the first Monday in September as labor day, is the first one in the history of the state. It reads in part as follows: "I, T. T. Geer, governor of said state, do hereby recommend that all places of business of whatsoever kind, as far as possible, be closed on Monday, September 1, 1902, and that the day be devoted to an observance of such exercises as may contribute to a better understanding between labor and capital, the great moving forces behind modern industrial development and it is especially urged that employers co-operate with their employees in a mutual observance of the day in such a manner as will fitly recognize the reliance which each must place upon the other before the best results from both may be expected, or attained."

Benjamin E. Lyster, a representative of Warren P. Reed, of Gardiner, Oregon, was an Astoria visitor yesterday. When seen by an Astorian man he gave an interesting account of that city and its prospects. The Coos Bay railroad, he says, will undoubtedly prove of great benefit to our district, as there is a great demand from the east for lumber and as yet we have had no satisfactory Eastern transportation. The mills are running full time and men are making good wages. The timber lands are unequaled at this point. The Sparrow-Kroll Lumber Company have secured 11,000 acres for the amount of $90,000. It is believed that this firm will construct a mill and utilize the timber. Though an Oregon city, still most of its business is transacted with San Francisco, owing to the fact that California utilizes all our products of lumber, dairy and farm produce at the present time, and in return furnishes merchandise by returning schooners. This is one of the several Oregon ports that Portland or Astoria should seek as a home market. The only interest we have in common with our state is the fish interest.

Iwaco was the scene of the convention of the Republicans of Pacific County, Wash. They nominated a ticket to be voted for at the fall election as follows: H. W. B. Hewen, county attorney; A. P. Leonard, county auditor; H. Gray, county commissioner; Thomas Rooney, sheriff; David Hood, wreckmaster; John T. Welsh of South Bend was endorsed as joint senator with Wahkiakum County, and as Pacific County has ten delegates to the joint convention to Wahkiakum County's five his nomination is assured. His only competitor for the nomination was Senator J. G. Meigler, of Brookfield, the present incumbent of the position.

Yesterday morning's Oregonian contained the following report of ships due here: "Eleven French sailers are on the Portland en route list, all bounty-eaters, and there will be many more before the end of the season. Their total net tonnage is 15,701 tons. One of them, the Cambronne, is now 137 days out from Leth. She is on the disengaged list. British ship Cypromene is another vessel which may be expected to arrive any day. She comes from Antwerp via Falkland Islands. British bark Samantha is out 133 days from Hamburg, and British ship Forrest Hall 44 days from Hong Kong. British ship John Cooke is out 113 days from Liverpool and German ship Peter Rickmers, 27 days from Higo. The Indravell will be due next week."

The steamer Sue H. Elmore arrived in from Seattle yesterday, where she was copper painted in Moran's drydock. She brought down from Quillayute 2500 cases of salmon packed last season by M. J. Kinney. On her arrival here her cargo was attached by Sit Que, the Chinese contractor, who furnished the cannery crew, for money alleged to be due him for labor. As Quillayute is without docking facilities, vessels loading there must anchor in the offing and the cargo is brought out by Indians with canoes, the method employed at Astoria in the days of the Hudson Bay Company. When the Elmore arrived off Quillayute there was not a redskin in the vicinity, the whole tribe having gone to Tatoosh to attend a grand potlatch. Whether the steamer repaired and took on board old Chief Quillayute and 30 braves, bringing them down to the cannery to load the vessel.
