The work of reclaiming the tideland on the Dement farm is progressing satisfactorily, and it is expected it will be finished about October 1. The digging is the best work of the kind ever done in this part of the country.

The steamer Bailey Gazert, which was put behind on account of a rush business, arrived down the river yesterday afternoon at the usual hour, and did not disappoint the big crowd that gathered to see her come in.

The second annual regatta is now in progress at Skamokawa, and the opening day's weather was fine. Yesterday morning the Eagle Military band left up the river to furnish music, and a big crowd of Astorians visited the enterprising up-river town.

Those merry parties still continue to reside at the Eleventh street resort because the toothsome delicacies served at the Toku Point Oyster house make it the most popular place in the town. Fresh Toku Point oysters and other shell fish always on hand.

All members of Astoria Lodge No. 80, R. P. O. E., who intend to take part on Elks' day, Thursday, September 4, in Portland, are earnestly requested to go to Cooper's store today and get measured for their suits. L. E. Selig, Secretary of Carnival Committee.

At 9 o'clock this morning the seat sale for the Elizabeth Hats Company opens at Griffin & Reed's. Seats are sold at 50 cents. The opening performance is the emotional comedy-drama "Won Back," and no doubt the house will be crowded Monday evening. A change of performance is given every evening during the week, so secure your tickets and avoid the crowd.

The uniform committee, which has charge of the regalia with which the Astoria Elks will be adorned on the occasion of their visit to the Portland carnival, yesterday announced its selection as follows: White military coat with purple elks on the collar; white trousers, with purple stripe and roll Panama hats, with purple ribbon band, stamped "Astoria, No. 180."

There has been much speculation as to the number of eggs in a salmon, and some wild guesses are occasionally made. The subject was under discussion yesterday afternoon and the Astorian has been asked to settle the dispute. Approximately speaking, a female chinook salmon contains from 4000 to 5000 eggs. This is shown by the report of the superintendent of the Clackamas hatchery for 1901. Last year 5,104,000 eggs were taken there, 1121 salmon being spawned. The average number of eggs taken from each fish was 4612. The average number of eggs in a female steelhead is 3000. At the Sandy river hatchery last year 7,332,300 eggs were taken, from 2511 salmon, the average being almost 3,000.

John Grant was down from Portland yesterday on a brief business trip. He returned on the night train. In conversation with a reporter Mr. Grant said that the river at Portland registered eight feet above zero, and that the depth was 13 feet. "Providence has certainly been good to Portland," said Mr. Grant. "For the past six or seven years the river has been from six to eight feet above zero all the time—a condition of affairs almost without precedent. If the water falls this season, I do not know how Portland will handle her grain business." When asked about the anti-cruising crusade in Portland, Mr. Grant said all his information came from the papers; personally he had no knowledge of the alleged unsatisfactory condition of affairs existing there. He characterized the agitation as "rot," saying the boarding house people were acting in entire fairness.

There are to be several weddings "in high life" in Portland during the September carnival of the Portland Elks. These weddings are of more than passing interest to the public, inasmuch as the ceremony of tying the matrimonial knot will be performed in a balloon from a 100-foot tower, a thousand feet above the ground, in plain view of thousands. This is one of the novelties that will be seen during the early days of the Elks' carnival, which will open with a grand parade on September 1. Several applications have already been received by the management from willing candidates for the matrimonial state. For their willingness to experience this rather unique, if not sensational, ceremony in a balloon, the management is prepared to set the happy couple up with about $50 worth of householding equipment, including everything from a piano to a sack of flour. It is known there will be a trio of weddings, and if dubious swains elsewhere outside of Portland are anxious to receive a handsome dowry sufficient to set up and keep house for six months without expense to themselves, all they have to do is to address a letter to the secretary of the Portland Elks' carnival to make the final arrangements in advance. Wedding day will be a grand time in the carnival.

The sloop Wizard, one of the Oregon Yacht Club fleet, arrived down the river Thursday evening. The Wizard left Portland Saturday night. The party aboard consisted of Louis Woodward, owner of the boat; Ned Barry, Fred Morey and George L. Cherry. The Wizard went over to Ilwaco yesterday afternoon, and will leave up the river on her return next Wednesday.

For the Elks' Carnival and Street Fair to be held at Portland from September 1st to 13th, inclusive, the A. & C. R. R. will make a rate of $2 for the round trip between Astoria and Portland on the following dates: For the evening train of September 3d, morning train September 4th, evening train September 8th, all trains of September 9th, and morning train of September 10th. These tickets will be good to return until September 14th.

Sheriff Linville wired yesterday that Governor Gage, of California, had issued requisition papers in the case of the two Italians who are wanted here to answer to a charge of robbing Elco of $300. The prisoners will probably arrive on the next San Francisco steamer. One of the men is said to be a desperate character. It was told that the man who was robbed does not place dependence in banking institutions, but keeps his money at home for fear of financial crises and consequent bursting of banks.

After a long illness, Silas B. Smith, a native son, passed away at 11:30 yesterday morning at St. Mary's hospital. Mr. Smith had been a sufferer from consumption for many years, and of late had been quite ill. Last week Mr. Smith's condition became so serious that he was, on Friday, taken to the hospital. The end came yesterday morning and was not unexpected by the friends who watched at his bedside. Deceased was a native of Washington county, this state, and was born September 22, 1829. His father settled in Oregon in 1852, marrying a daughter of Chief Cabaway, of the Clatsop tribe of Indians. Mr. Smith was educated in a Massachusetts college, and married while in the East. He engaged in the practice of law in Astoria for several years, finally settling on his West Side farm, his father's sonation land claim. Mr. Smith was a very intelligent man and was beloved by all who knew him because of his kindly disposition. He is survived by his wife and five children, of whom three are daughters. Deceased was one of the claimants against the government for a large sum of money due the Indians of the Clatsop tribe for their lands. The funeral will take place on Sunday and the interment will be in the old Presbyterian cemetery. Rev. McCormack will conduct the services. The funeral cortege will leave the city on the 11:30 train, and all members of the Pioneer and Historical Society and Native Sons and Daughters are invited to attend.

COUNTERFEIT FIVE DOLLAR BILL

The secret service has discovered that some one is raising $1 bills to $5 by a clever method of changing the figures, and unless they are closely examined will pass unnoticed. It has also been discovered that many unscrupulous dealers are refilling the bottles of the celebrated Hostetter's Stomach Bitters and offering them to the public as the genuine. These imitations have no merit and are so dangerous to your health that in order to protect the public, the proprietors of this famous medicine have adopted a Private Stamp which is placed over the neck of each bottle. Please observe that the stamp is unbroken when purchasing. The Bitters is a specific remedy for such ailments as flatulency, indigestion, belching, nervousness, dyspepsia and liver and kidney troubles. Try it.
