Attorneys representing the interested parties were aboard the Cyproena yesterday taking testimony in the suit for damages filed against the vessel by the O. R. & N. Co. The suit grew out of the collision between the ship and the steamer Hassalo. The repairs to the vessel have been completed and a final survey was made yesterday. She will probably go to sea within a few days.

Cured of Asthma

After Years of Terrible Suffering.

Mary Josephine Bozy, Floyd Knob, Ind., writes: "After suffering untold agonies for 33 years from Asthma, I was cured by Schiffmann's Asthma Cure. I used to be so bad that I could not move without help, but I can now do all my own work." Another writes: "My little boy 7 years old has been a sufferer for several years, sometimes so bad that we could not hold him in bed, expecting any moment for him to breathe his last. Doctors did him no good and we had almost given up in despair, when through accident we heard of Schiffmann's Asthma Cure, tried it and it almost instantly relieved him." Mrs. D. C. Harris, Elbow P. O., Va.

J. J. Kenney and William Ford, who spent a few days on Clatsop plains, brought home a long string of ducks and two geese, the first killed this season by local sportsmen. The duck hunters have been enjoying fine sport thus far.

A half interest in the steamer Vanguard, which plys between this city and Cathlamet has been sold by Captain Haslam to F. L. Parker, 4000 being the consideration. Captain Max Skibbe still retains his interest in the boat.

The new mantle folding beds are destined to supersede the old styles. Made of metal they are vermin proof, sanitary and the acme of convenience and neatness. Ask to see them, both in wood and metal, at Chas. Heilborn & Son's.

The sum of $5 was added to the city funds yesterday through the medium of the police court. A personage belonging to the Doe family who had been arrested on the charge of drunkenness failed to appear for a hearing and forfeited his bail.

The new dredge Columbia was tested Wednesday at Portland and all but proved a perfect success. A rubber connection in the long pipe line slipped and this put a stop to the proceedings. The dredge is believed to be an excellent machine and is expected to do good work.

The Oriole Go Basket is a handsome and light go-cart which can be easily folded and carried on the arm, can be conveniently carried on cars. Must be seen to be appreciated. Prices $8 to $10. Chas. Heilborn & Son are sole agents.

A Portland mining publication has asked the local commercial bodies for use of some of the cuts which were used in the book of Astoria just issued. It is the intention of the paper in question to give Astoria a write-up. The request has not yet been acted upon, but it is probable it will be granted.

Mr. Frank S. Grant, a prominent young attorney of Portland, was in the city yesterday accompanied by his bride. Mr. and Mrs. Grant were married in Portland a few days ago, and have been spending a brief honeymoon at Locksley Hall, Seaside. While in the city they were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Harrison Allen.

There is a man in the city jail who appears to be trying to work a game on the city whereby he can subsidize at the public expense. He appears to be sound in health and strength, but he pleads incapacity to do hard work. He was formerly listed with the paupers and was an inmate of St. Mary's hospital, but was discharged as being unworthy of public charity. If he had a rock pile staring him in the face perhaps he would think differently.

Rev. A. E. Backman, since the beginning of the year pastor of the Finnish Lutheran church, left yesterday morning with his family for Finland, where he will assume the duties of a large parish. He spent many years as pastor in this country, after which he returned to Finland, and this was his second sojourn in America. Pastor Backman was liked by his people and all were very loath to have him leave them. But he consulted some private interests in the matter and decided to go.

Cigar dealers in Portland in order to determine whether or not they have a legal right to operate slot machines on their counters have combined to test the law. Yesterday six of them introduced machines in their business and employed a lawyer to look after their interests. The officers give it out that the dealers will be attended to for violating the law, but as yet no arrests have been made. Attorney Henry E. McGinn is representing the men. Much interest is being manifested in the affair.

Captain Knutson of the Columbia football team is negotiating with the Ilwaco team for a game at that place on Sunday. Last Sunday's game was prevented on account of a breakdown on the way over, and the local aggregation is anxious that the game take place next Sunday. The Ilwaco people have been requested to set aside the date, but a reply has not yet been received. If the game is arranged the steamer will depart from Astoria at 11:30, thereby affording a large crowd an opportunity to make the trip.

The reception to be given this evening to Rev. Harold Oberg and Mrs. Oberg, at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. S. Elmore, is in honor of Mr. Oberg's appointment for the second year to the pastorate of the First Methodist church. Under Mr. Oberg's administration the church debt has been obliterated and he has been tireless in working for the advancement of its interests. At tonight's reception the friends of the pastor and Mrs. Oberg will be out en masse to compliment him on the excellence of his work here. An interesting musical program will be rendered.

A new phase has developed in regard to the Law Enforcement League, the Portland organization alleged to have been created for the purpose of putting down vice and instituting law and order generally. The turbulence of the league's president, George H. Kliner, has been shown up in peculiarly brilliant colors by his wife. The lady claims that she has been terribly mistreated by her husband and has never been properly supported by him. They are now separated, she working in a clothing house and he, the champion of all that is correct, is out with his sleeves rolled up achieving fame as a reformer. The story told by Mrs. Kliner sounds very connected and altogether rational, in spite of her affectionate husband's assurance that she is crazy. Just what the lady's exposure of her estranged husband will accomplish cannot be told, but it probably will not enhance his popularity as a favorite with the people.

Quite a little expression has been given of late to an alleged strike that is reported to have taken place in the service of the Prael and Cook Transfer company. William Elgner, manager of the company, is some what reticent on the subject, but it has developed that a few nights ago he was handed a petition signed by all of the teamsters in his employ, which read that the men thereafter would not carry their horses after 6 o'clock in the evening. A refusal to grant the demand meant that the employees would discontinue in their positions. Mr. Elgner at once interviewed his men personally and succeeded in inducing all but three of them to withdraw the demand. The three, however, hung by the proposition and as a result their places were supplied. They were not discharged, as at first reported, but they simply meant business and stood by what they considered their interests, which, of course, was their privilege. It was optional whether they be influenced or not by any tactics brought to bear upon them and they declined to back down. The move was entirely independent of the union, but it was understood it would act as a test case, other teamsters following the example should the demand have met with success.

On the last day of the present month Astoria theatre goers will be enabled to enjoy a rare theatrical treat, Manager Selig having arranged for the appearance on that date of the roaring comedy, "Other People's Money." The play is presented by LeRoy Hennessy and an excellent company, and wherever it has been presented the welcome has been enthusiastic. "Other People's Money" is said to surpass "The Girl From Chili," "The Wrong Mr. Wright," "A Railroad Ticket," and other farces-comedies which have delighted Astorians.

A prank that is supposed to have been the work of either friends or irresponsible persons was perpetrated last night in West Astoria. One of the cars as it began the descent of the incline that leads into that part of the city suddenly shot ahead with lightning like velocity, getting away from the control of the motorman and endangering the lives of all on board. Fortunately the lives of all shrouded track so no real injury was caused. Upon an examination it was discovered that the rails had been carefully greased and that, of course, created the trouble. It is not known who the miscreants are but a thorough investigation will be made by Superintendent Coolidge and the police department.

L. E. Selig returned home yesterday from a month's visit with relatives at San Francisco and San Jose. Mr. Selig states that his trip was an enjoyable one. While in San Francisco he witnessed the murder of Marian Nolan, the famous beauty, by Edward Marchschutz. Mr. Selig was on a street-car at the time of the shooting, and the car had stopped at the corner just as the murderer fired. Miss Nolan had assaulted him with an umbrella, following which Marchschutz shot her twice in the head, killing her instantly. Then he turned the weapon upon himself and blew out his brains. Miss Nolan's body was taken into a nearby building, but that of her murderer remained uncovered on the sidewalk for an hour. Miss Nolan was a great favorite with the theatrical people of San Francisco, and her tragic death created much excitement among the members of the profession.

It is reliably stated that the mill which is to be erected in East Astoria by the Astoria Fir company will be the next largest concern of the kind in the city. It is understood that John Kopp Jr., will own a big block of stock in the mill and that he will be identified with the management. The company intends putting in a mill with fully 125,000 capacity and expects to have a large payroll. So far as can be learned, all the interested parties are local capitalists, and some extent of the scope of the enterprise can be gained from the statement that Mr. Kopp's investment alone will be $25,000. The work of putting up the mill will be commenced as soon as possible and hastened to completion. With the building of this mill and the Hume establishment and the rebuilding of the Clatsop mills, Astoria's payroll will be very materially increased. Meantime the joint manufactures committee has several new propositions under way, and the output of lumber after June 1, 1902, will probably exceed 650,000 feet daily.
