Charles Wempe won the first prize at the Red Men's masquerade ball last night. He impersonated the "trusts," and his makeup attracted much attention.

Miss Mary Empe who has been suffering with typhoid fever for some days is reported to be out of all danger and on the rapid road to recovery.

About 425 registrations were on the rolls at the close of business yesterday afternoon. This is one-fourth of the vote of the city. The indications are that not more than 1000 persons will register.

The current issue of the Literary Digest contains a likeness of Governor-elect Chamberlain, who is accredited with being a republican. Mr. Chamberlain has written the editor of the paper to deny the allegation.

The O. R. & N. Co. and I. R. & N. Co. are considering plans for improvements to the Ilwaco boom and rafting slips. The plans were drawn up here today and Superintendent John R. Goulter submitted them in person at Portland tonight.

It is reported that the labor organizations of this state are contemplating entering the political arena, and that a movement is on foot to place a full state ticket in the field at the next state election and at all local elections. The plan is in an indefinite state as yet.

Andrew Olsen was brought to St. Mary's hospital last night from his home to receive treatment for an injury suffered yesterday afternoon. Olsen fell and hurt himself quite badly, but last night he was reported to be getting along very well.

The usual union Thanksgiving service will be held this year in the Baptist church, beginning promptly at 10:30 o'clock. Rev. Henry Marcotte will deliver the sermon. Everybody is very cordially invited to attend and participate in the observance.

Governor Geer yesterday granted a full pardon to Ezra Durand, who was serving a sentence of 22 years in the penitentiary upon a conviction of forgery in Multnomah county in 1875. Durand was the head of the Durand Oregon company and his operations extended over the entire northwest.

P. A. Stokes' store is one that is a credit to this city. Mr. Stokes is always alive to his own business interests and by carrying only the very highest grades of goods has built up a trade that is a flattering tribute to his enterprise. His holiday lines have just arrived and his store presents an attractive appearance.

Within a very few days the new Clatsop mill will be in operation. The rollers in the new powerhouse are being used at present to furnish power for the box factory, and as soon as the remainder of the machinery is placed in position the mill will be started. More than 1,000,000 feet of logs are now in the boom.

Daniel C. Cummings, an A. & C. brakeman, met with a peculiar accident yesterday. He had climbed on top of a car to remove the carcass of a seagull that hung to a telegraph wire. A stick that was thrown to him to facilitate the removal of the bird struck him on the left arm and a ball in the end of the stick pierced an artery. Blood flowed profusely and it was some time before the flow was stopped.

Miss Marie M. Burkholder and Mr. Samuel M. Gallagher were married yesterday afternoon at the rooms of Mrs. Gilmore in the Mansell block. Rev. William Seymour Short officiating. Miss Nellie Anstadi was bridesmaid and Captain Burkholder, brother of the bride, stood up with Mr. Gallagher. A large number of friends of the young couple were present. The rooms were tastefully decorated, and during the ceremony the bride stood under a wedding bell of carnations and smilax. After a sumptuous wedding supper, which was attended by 30 guests, Mr. and Mrs. Gallagher took the 4:10 train for Portland, with the best wishes of a host of friends.

Hundreds of people attended the grand masquerade ball given last night by the Improved Order of Red Men in Foard and Stokes' hall. The music was excellent, the floor in perfect condition and everything connected with the affair passed off with all the eclat anticipated. The ball was a most pronounced success from start to finish.

The attendance at the McClure school yesterday was so great that seats for all the pupils could not be provided, and the high school class did not occupy the assembly room. The attendance was extremely gratifying to the teachers and encouraging to the pupils. Hereafter, if the heavy attendance continues at exercises of the kind, the students will be divided into two classes, so that there may be accommodations for all.

As the result of a drunken row at Garibaldi Sunday night, James Sawhaw, a half-breed Indian, lies at the point of death. While drinking and dancing he was cut and hacked with a butcher knife in the hands of Mrs. Harry Mitchell, a white woman, the wife of a half-breed. Sawhaw and Mitchell have had several fights, and in the row Mitchell's wife took the matter up and used the knife. The cutting occurred in Mitchell's house, and after Sawhaw was insensible he was kicked and thrown out in the road.

John Curran, a mining man of Cottage Grove, arrived in the city last evening, bringing with him a fine lot of sample ore from the Bohemian mining district, which are now on display in the windows of the Conn Drug company. With the ore is a relief map of the district drawn by the noted sculptor artist, A. D. Whittier. Mr. Curran is one of the directors of the Judson Rock Mining company, which owns some of the richest property in the Bohemia district, for the development of which a limited amount of treasury stock is being sold at 5 cents a share.

In the circuit court yesterday an answer was filed by Nora Fitzpatrick to the complaint of James O'Brien against her and G. W. Sanborn. The suit involves ownership of valuable seining grounds up the river. O'Brien filed on the land in 1896, and the following year the defendant in the present action also filed, claiming that O'Brien was not a citizen and alleging other reasons tending to prove that his title was invalid. The answer filed yesterday is an explicit denial of all the allegations set up in the complaint. The answer states that the plaintiff neglected to make proper application to the state land board for the purchase of the grounds in that the application was not accompanied by the usual affidavit, and it is asserted further that he was neither a resident of this state or of the United States at the time of making the application. The defendant also takes occasion to deny that she unlawfully transferred the property to G. W. Sanborn, although the admission is made that the land was rented to him at an annual rental of $2000 yearly for five years, with the understanding that he was to purchase it for $15,000 at the expiration of that period. The case will be tried out at the next session of court.

EXERCISES IN THE SCHOOLS.

Thanksgiving exercises were held in all the schools yesterday, and hundreds of parents were in attendance. At the McClure school all the grades, including the high school, participated in a program of unusual merit. Exercises were also held at Shively school, Adair school, Olney school and Alderbrook school. Donations were made by the pupils for the poor and were turned over to the Salvation army for distribution. The weather was very stormy during the afternoon, but large crowds were out to hear the exercises in spite of the downpour.

NOTICE

Notice is hereby given that the annual meeting of the stockholders of the Columbia River Packers' association will be held at the office of the company, at Astoria, Ore., on December 8, 1902, at 11 o'clock a. m., for the purpose of electing directors, and for such other business as may properly be considered. By order of the president, GEO. H. GEORGE, Secretary.

WILL OBSERVE THE DAY

THANKSGIVING SERVICES IN ALL THE CHURCHES.

Offerings at Grace Church to Go to Good Samaritan Hospital of Portland.

Thanksgiving will be generally observed in Astoria today. The stores of all the merchants will be closed, the banks will suspend business and none of the public offices will be open. There will be no deliveries of mail by carrier, but the carriers' window at the postoffice will be open between 12:30 and 1:30, as is the custom on Sunday.

Services will be held at all the churches. The union services will be participated in by all the downtown churches and will be held at the First Baptist church, commencing at 10:30. Rev. Henry Marcotte of the First Presbyterian church will deliver the Thanksgiving sermon.

The usual Thanksgiving day service will be held at Grace church at 10:30 this morning. The offerings in kind and in money will be given to the Good Samaritan hospital of Portland in conformity with a custom of many years' standing. This institution turns away no one as long as there is a bed to spare and has done much good work. Last year 787 days' care was bestowed upon free patients, and Rev. Mr. Short, pastor of Grace church, feels that no better plan of assisting the needy could be arranged.

The services at St. Mary's Catholic church will be held at 9 a. m., and high mass will be sung. There will be a special collect of thanksgiving, as ordered throughout the diocese of Oregon. Father Lane will deliver an address appropriate to the occasion.

MARINE NOTES

The four masted lumber schooner Larson arrived in last night from California.

The schooner Wempe Bros, passed up the river yesterday to take on a load of lumber.

The British ship County of Roxburgh was towed up the river yesterday to take on wheat at Portland for Europe. The British bark Pass of Brander arrived yesterday morning from Portland with a cargo of flour for South Africa.

The British bark Bidston Hill arrived in port yesterday. The vessel has been outside for a number of days beating about and waiting for an opportunity to enter. She is a very large vessel and is heavily loaded with cement and it required a very smooth bar to effect an entrance. Pilot Gunderson brought her in. The Bidston Hill is consigned to Balfour, Guthrie & Company.

Gaston sells feed, grain and hay.

TROUBLES OF LOGGERS

SCARCITY OF BOATS CAUSES BIG BLOCKADE.

Booms at Ilwaco, Nahcotta and Bakers Bay Are Full of Timber at Present.

ILWACO, Nov. 25.—(Special).—A. L. Young, representing the four Portland logging companies in contract with the I. R. & N. Co. for the transportation of logs across the peninsula, received notification this morning that the owners of the steamer Jordan had absolutely refused to take logs from Bakers bay as heretofore, and as agreed in Astoria last Sunday. The Jordan has been the only available steamer on the lower Columbia this winter, and in consequence of this action on the part of her owners the logging traffic at Ilwaco is blocked until the Portland companies are able to secure boats from other points. The company's booms at Ilwaco and Nahcotta are full of logs, and two rafts in Bakers bay are waiting for a tow up the river.

George L. Colwell, the Ilwaco lumber merchant, who recently purchased the steamer Ilwaco, states that the boat will be brought around from the sound at the first indication of good weather. This steamer will do towing and general freighting on the lower river and bay, and the Portland mill companies hope to secure her services immediately upon arrival. This being possible the blockade will be relieved at Ilwaco.

C. C. Woodcock, of the Standard Box company of Portland, reached Ilwaco today and has gone to Bear river to arrange for the transportation of a large number of logs to Nahcotta and across to Bakers bay. On account of the scarcity of boats on the Columbia river the logs will be held at Nahcotta, on Shoalwater bay.
