that is creating so much agitation in Portland, the Oreconian points out that the back rooms are not nearly so much responsible for the fall of young people as their imperfect home training. The Oregonian is right. The boy or girl whose home training is what it should be will seldom fall from grace. Children whose parents are lax drift naturregular habitues. Many young men fall victims to the temptations which surround them no vadays, but those who have been preperly reared soon break away from the vicious practices, thoroughly disgusted with the halfworld. What's bred in the bone will come out in the flesh, and the only safeguard against the downfall of youth is proper home training.

It is said that to Dr. Winkler, a lawyer of Lucerne, Switzerland, belongs the honor of having settled what is tory of any country. Since 1370 a boundary dispute has been going on between Hungary and Galicia. The ly by Prince Hohenlohe, a German, and Count Zamoyski, an exiled Polish noble from Posen. This dispute of five hunbitter feeling in the neighborhood, as both Hungarians and Poles have hotly contested the question and loudly asserted their claims. The arbitrator has decided in favor of the Galician claim, and allows Hungary only 20 acres to straighten her boundary.

Another quaint belief is that the application of an oil-

With the near approach of the time for the convening of the legislature the strength of Senator Fulton mant fests itself. The republican papers of the entire state are rallying to his standard, and it is evident that the Astorian will be successful very early in garded in Oregon as a man who wih popperant all sactions in the branch of congress as the logical candidate politcally, and as the most worthy of the aspirants who have combefore the people. His qualifications, political and otherwise, entitle him to the place, and it is gratifying to note the widespread sentiment in favor of his election.

John Barrett will not be named as representative there, Minister Buck, Mr. Barrett is an Oregonian-or wasand we should naturally be pleased with his appointment: but it is not quite clear that he was equal to the responsibilities of the position. want San Francisco to succeed at the game Seattle herself tried to play less than two years ago. There was then a competition for warehouse and wharf facilities at Tacoma or Seattle, and Tacoma offered the best facilities for the least money. Whereupon Scattle made a desperate effort to secure, secretly and by underhand means, an amendment to the best Seattle bid, and a committee of Seattle citizens had the nerve to ask President Mellen to withdraw the Tacoma bid. But Seattle failed to carry her point. The government secured facilities at Tacoma for handling supplies for the army in the Philippines and Alaska which were and are superior to anything Seattle had or has to offer. If San Francisco fails in her efforts to secure the retention of the transport service, and the contract is awarded to the Boston Steamship company, it may be regarded as a foregone conclusion that Tacoms-not Seattle-will handle the principal share of the traffic. But Seattle is getting the benefit of the advertising in this connection, and Tacoma is scarcely mentioned in the press dispatches on the subject. Crafty Seattle!
