VOTE STILL STANDS SAME

Nothing Accomplished in the Ballot Cast Yesterday for United States Senator.

BOURNE IS IN THE CONTEST

Marion County Delegation Sure of Their Candidate and Stand Solid—Routine of the House.

Salem, Feb. 5.—(Special)—The balloting for senator yesterday was absolutely featureless. The expected and oft predicted coup by Fulton did not materialize and those not on the inside have given up trying to solve his plans for future action.

There is considerable talk going the rounds as to the candidacy of Johnathan Bourne but it is safe to say he will do nothing at once. It is predicted, however, that when he does enter the arena he will do so with the determination of winning out.

The marion county delegation, or that portion of it which is still supporting Gen. Bourne, held an informal meeting last night and talked over the situation. Their decision was to stand shoulder to shoulder and continue to vote for the ex-governor. If anything was said as to how long or how short a time this course should continue, no inkling of it got beyond the committee-room where the meeting was held. So the "solid six" will remain unbroken, and reports of impending defections are thus set at naught—for the present.

Following is the vote as cast today:

Fulton	34
Geer	16
Wood	17
Mills	12

IN THE HOUSE.

Salem, Feb. 5.—The house was called to order at 10 o'clock this morning by Speaker Harris, Rev. C. A. Ritchie offering prayer. The entire forenoon session was taken up with the consideration and passage or defeat of house bills.

The committee on resolutions reported favorably on the resolution to permit the chairman of the printing committee to hire sufficient clerical help, requiring, however, that he should present his list of appointees to the house for approval.

Miles' bill for the improvement and use of rivers was made a special order for tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock.

Simmons' bill to protect sub-contractors, material men and laborers upon third reading, was temporarily withdrawn. Malarkey objected to the section holding the state responsible for costs in case suit might be brought and to the emergency clause. The committee on revision of laws will make the necessary changes.

Nottingham's bill to prohibit the sale of adulterated linsed oil as the pure article was passed without objection being entered.

On motion of Galloway, F. X. Mathew was granted the courtesy of the house.

Simmons' bill to give the school boundary board authority to change the limits of a school district, and Eddy's bill to regulate the time of appointment of school funds, passed the house.

Johnston's bill to appropriate $165,000 for a state portage railroad between The Dalles and Celilo was made a special order for Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

OLYMPIA LEGISLATURE WILL PROTEST AGAINST TRIBUNAL.

Boundary Question in Alaska Needs No Further Settlement—Trade Relations May Be Affected.

Olympia, Feb. 5.—The extensive commercial relations existing between Puget sound and southeastern Alaska points, and which will be affected in the final settlement of the Alaska boundary dispute, have led to the introduction in the legislature of a memorial to the United States senate protesting against a confirmation of the treaty with Great Britain providing for a settlement of the controversy by a tribunal. This memorial passed the lower house this morning without dissenting vote and it is believed it will be adopted by the senate tomorrow.

The memorial declares that the boundary in the dispute was so clearly defined by the treaty between Great Britain and Russia and later by the identical language in the treaty between Russia and the United States as to preclude the possibility of any contention respecting the same. Both the senate and the house rail-

MOLINEUX RABBIT FOOT.

William Hooper Young Makes Strange Request During His Trial.

New York, Feb. 5.—When a recess was taken today in the trial of William Hooper Young, accused of the murder of Mrs. Annie Pulitzer, six jurors had been obtained. Young looked better than yesterday and walked into court. He sank heavily into a chair and his head fell on the table in front of him, but nevertheless he took an interest in the examination of the talesmen. Justice Herick included among his questions to the talesmen, "Have you any prejudice against any religious sect?"

During a lull in the proceedings Young said audibly to one of his counsel: "Can't you get me the Molineux rabbit foot?" At one stage of the proceedings he fell asleep for 15 minutes and then relapsed into an appearance of semi-consciousness. From one of the talesmen, Simon Geiger, news was received of Joseph Pulitzer, husband of the murdered woman. Geiger said he heard that Pulitzer was in Michigan two weeks ago.

TRAIN DELAYED IN TUNNEL.

Passengers and Train Crew Seriously Affected by Gas.

Seattle, Feb. 5.—A special to the Post-Intelligencer from Everett, Wash., says:

The Great Northern eastbound overland passenger train got stuck in the Cascade tunnel last night about midnight and 10 passengers in the sleepers and five members of the train crew were more or less seriously affected by gas. No deaths have been reported at the division superintendent's office here.

The delay was caused by the helper engine breaking away from the train, the regular engine not being of sufficient strength to pull the train through, owing to the slope in the tunnel. After the breakaway, the train was run back to Wellington.

Later a helper was coupled on and the train passed through the tunnel safely.

COAL COMMISSION ADJOURNS.

Next Monday Final Argument by Attorneys Will Begin.

Philadelphia, Feb. 5.—After a sitting of 51 days, the anthracite coal commission concluded its hearing of witnesses at 5 o'clock this afternoon and adjourned until next Monday when it will begin to hear arguments of the counsel representing the several sides. The argument will take up five and a half days, the operators having been assigned three days and the miners the remaining time.

PREDICT WAR WITH TURKEY.

Opinion in London Is That Macedonian Question Will Overshadow All.

New York, Feb. 5.—While the Venezuelan affair still has precedence as the leading foreign question, says the London correspondent of the Tribune, there is a general feeling in Fleet street that it will be speedily overshadowed by the Macedonian question.

A formidable insurrection against the Turks is expected in the early spring by nearly all writers who are following the course of events in the Balkans. Predictions of a similar nature have been made year after year, but never with equal confidence since the preliminary stage of the last war between Russia and the porte. The Turkish government clearly expects trouble and the Russian and Austrian governments also dread a movement from Bulgaria which they cannot control, since they cannot agree upon a joint policy.
