The little daughter of John J. Jorgenson of East Astoria died Sunday forenoon from a complication of scarlet fever and diphtheria. The funeral, which was conducted privately, was held yesterday with interment in Greenwood cemetery.

The steamer Redondo arrived yesterday from San Francisco and docked at the Packers' wharf. She will leave out today for Tillamook to load lumber for California.

Rev. Oscar Ostrom left this morning for Portland to attend the annual meeting of the Columbia conference of Lutheran churches which will be held there this week.

A member of the family of John Leahy, 406 Eighteenth street, is down with the scarlet fever and the home has been placed under quarantine restrictions. This is the first case of the fever that has developed in the lower part of the city since the schools reopened.

Mayor Supplement created momentary interest and then a laugh last night when he announced to the council that the office of city attorney was vacant. He meant to announce that the office of city physician was vacant, and when he corrected himself the spectators and members enjoyed a hearty laugh.

The case of E. P. Parker, set for trial yesterday in the circuit court, was not concluded but will be continued indefinitely. It is probable that it will not be brought up again, as it is the wish of the parties concerned that it be settled outside the courts and this, it is understood, will be carried out.

The funeral of the late Michael Nowlen was held from the family residence on Third street, Sunday afternoon. Rev. William McCormick and Rev. W. S. Short officiating. The interment was in Greenwood cemetery. The services were conducted under the auspices of the Pioneers' society, the members of which attended in a body.

W. J. Scully, the hardware store and tinshop man, has moved from his old location on Bond street to No. 478-472 Commercial street, opposite the Beehive, where he has a well appointed storeroom and shop, a fine stock of stoves, ranges, bath tubs, plumbers' goods, hardware, tinware, etc., and the best of facilities for plumbing and steam fitting.

Robert McEwan, president of the Pioneers' society, has been brought up from Morrison station on the west side, where he has been ill for some time, and taken to St. Mary's hospital. Mr. McEwan is showing marked signs of improvement, but owing to his advanced age it is believed that it will be some time before he will be entirely well. Mr. McEwan is 85 years of age and is the oldest settler in Clatsop county.

The receipts of the recorder's office for January and February amounted to $451.19. The receipts for the same period of last year were $430. One of the deeds recorded last month contained 12,500 words and the recording fee exceeded $24. The deed was executed by the Astoria Co. and transferred to the Hammond Lumber company all of the railroad subsidy. The deed was one of the most voluminous ever filed for record in Clatsop county.

Fines and forfeitures in the police court during February were $181, instead of $78, as was stated in these columns on Sunday. The receipts were exceptionally heavy, for February and November are regarded as the poorest months. When Auditor Anderson read his monthly report to members of the council last night gratification was depicted on the faces of the councilmen, who were pleased with the good showing of Chief Hallock's department.

As soon as authority comes from Washington, the fish commission steamer Albatross, now at San Francisco, will go to the Mare Island navy yard for repairs, preparatory to going to Alaskan waters for the annual cruise. The vessel, it is stated, needs a general overhauling, at an expense of perhaps $20,000, but the money for the work will not be forthcoming until it is allowed by congress. The work of the Albatross the coming season will be an investigation of the salmon grounds of the Alaska coast.

At Sunday's meeting of Astoria aerle of Eagles, Worthy President Herman Wise appointed the following committee to arrange for the memorial services to be held on the third Monday in May: Herman Wise, Thos. Dealey, J. N. Laws, J. Chesbire, C. E. Foster, Dr. R. L. Pilkington, C. F. Wise, Joseph Gribler, James Hannaford and A. Seafeldt. The motion for appointment of the committee provided that President Wise should be ex-officio chairman. Extensive preparations are being made for the memorial exercises and a large number of outside Eagles are expected to attend.

Last night's meeting of the Astoria Debating society was one of the most interesting ever held. Hon. John H. Smith addressed the club on "Sam Simpson and His Poems," and almost 100 persons were out to hear him. Mr. Smith sketched the life of the lamented poet from the time of his boyhood and told of the trials and tribulations of his career. He spoke particularly of his life in Astoria, where his first newspaper experience came to him. Mr. Simpson was employed on the Budget, under O. W. Dunbar, whose lack of appreciation of Simpson's work was hardly encouraging. Mr. Smith expressed the belief that many of Mr. Simpson's best poems had been thrown into the wastebasket. He compared the life of Simpson with that of Poe, Rest Harte and Joaquin Miller, and paid a high compliment to the intelligence of the Oregon writer. During the course of his address he recited "Beautiful Willamette" and "Mississippi" to the delight of the audience. Mr. Smith spoke for an hour and a half and his remarks were listened to with marked attention. His address was one of the best he has ever made and he handled his subject in a masterly manner. The usual program was dispensed with.

Astoria aerle of Eagles has taken the initiative for the holding of a state convention, and it is probable that the convention will be held at Astoria. There is a general grand lodge of Eagles of the United States, and provision is made for state conventions, which may be convened to discuss matters of interest to the order, and to recommend new laws. No state convention has yet been held in Oregon, and the suggestion originated with Past President J. N. Laws of the local aerle. The idea meets with popular approval and there is little question that the convention will be held. The grand lodge of Eagles meets in New York in August, and the delegates from Astoria aerle will be Past President J. N. Laws and Joseph Gribler.

"The Gamekeeper," a beautiful and interesting Irish comedy-drama from the pen of Con. T. Murphy, will be produced at Fishers' opera house next Saturday evening. Thos. J. Smith who is a recognized star of youth and talent is at the head of this production, and his managers, Messrs. Rowland and Clifford, have surrounded him with a company of unusual talent. "The Gamekeeper" is a pretty story of the Emerald Isle presented with a wealth of gorgeous scenery and effects. During the action of the play, numerous specialties are introduced. Thos. J. Smith, who is one of the greatest singers of today, will introduce several new songs expressly written for this production. He is ably assisted in this feature by Sadie Marion, and a very clever child artist, Baby Patti. Seat sale opens Friday morning at Griffin's book store.

According to the statements of Astorians who were at Salem during the closing hours of the legislative session, one of the Astoria amendments provided that all city officeholders would have to pay at least $25 in city taxes. The maximum city levy is 10 mills, and in order for a candidate for office to pay $25 in taxes he would have to be assessed on a valuation of $2500. Property is assessed in this county at from 25 to 33 percent of its actual value, so, in reality the provision meant that an office holder would have to be worth from $7500 to $10,000. Representative Carnahan vigorously opposed the provision. He said that his property interests were outside of the city, but that he regarded the provision as un-American. Just who was responsible for its insertion in the bill does not appear from statements made yesterday to an Astorian man.

At yesterday's session of the circuit court, Judge McBride handed down formal orders in the following cases: Otto Nelson vs Geo. Hill, confirmation of sale; Claude Thayer vs Manius Buchanan, motion to strike out parts of amended complaint sustained; C. G. Palmberg vs S. Salovan, judgment and decree; C. G. Palmberg vs Annie C. Keen, judgment and decree; L. Samuel vs E. E. Lewellyn, dismissed; C. B. Treseott vs F. M. Warren et al, motion to strike out portions of answer allowed, referred to C. E. Runyon to take testimony and plaintiff directed to put in testimony 30 days before the June term; Charlotte Grimberg, administratrix, vs Columbia River Packers' association, motion to strike out parts of complaint argued and submitted. The court adjourned until today when the case of Otto Skibbe, charged with using a deadly weapon upon the person of Paddy Lynch, will be brought up for trial. Attorney J. M. Hughes will represent the defendant.

Special Agent Max Pracht, who signs himself "of Oregon," jumped on ye editor yesterday because of the statement that Senator-elect Charles W. Fulton of Oregon was a lawyer, and insisting that in his case the word should have been spelled with a capital "L." says the Pueblo, Colo., Daily Chieftain. "Not only is he a lawyer," said Max, "but he stands 6 feet 2, weighs 220 pounds and can lick his weight in wildcats, and Oregon has once more a blooded team in the senatorial harness. Mr. Fulton is not of the class of lawyers such as we had down in Jackson county when the populists were rampant. They, you know, objected to sending lawyers to the legislature—they wanted farmers to represent farmers; but nevertheless they put a little fellow on their ticket who had a new sign with "Attorney at Law" painted on it. Fault being found with them for such a departure from the faith his republican opponent excused them on the ground that he was not lawyer enough to hurt." It may be added that of the 88 United States senators, all told, 61 are lawyers. Of the rest, one is a civil engineer, two are doctors, three are journalists and the others are bankers, miners, farmers, business men and politicians.

NEW OFFICER IS NAMED

DR. PILKINGTON APPOINTED CITY PHYSICIAN.

Council Passes an Ordinance Fixing Eight Hours as City Working Day.

Dr. R. J. Pilkington was last night elected city physician by the common council. Mayor Supplement announced that the office of city physician was vacant, and that the election of a successor to the present officer was in order. He first presented the name of Doctor Cordier, incumbent, but there were no affirmative votes. Then the mayor offered Doctor Pilkington's name and he was unanimously confirmed for the place. The term of office is one year and the emolument is $25 monthly.

There was a decided split last night when an ordinance to regulate the tenure of office of officers and employees of the fire department was presented by Mr. Jahlstrom. The ordinance provides that officers and employees shall hold at the pleasure of the council, and that they shall be subject to removal at any time. Mr. Wright moved suspension of the rules and final passage of the bill, but Mr. Burns, the first man to vote, said he thought members of the council should have time to thoroughly consider the measure. He voted against suspension and was followed by Messrs. Lienneweber, Morton, Nordstrom and Robinson. It seems that the bill is calculated to take control of the fire department out of the hands of the committee on fire and water and place it in the hands of the council. The bill went over.

Mr. Burns' ordinance to regulate the hours of workmen employed in the street department had better success and went through under suspension of the rules. The new measure provides that all employees of this department shall work eight hours daily. Mr. Nordstrom said he was not sure that the measure was a good one, as he had not given it any consideration, but he voted "aye" for suspension of the rules. The meeting was a very brief one, and in less than an hour all the business had been transacted. An ordinance to confirm the assessment for the improvement of Thirty-fourth street between Franklin and Harrison avenues went through under suspension of the rules. Other ordinances were introduced to pay J. A. Fastabend $1,645.88 and $1896.14 for the improvement of Thirty-fourth street, and went over until the next meeting.

Liquor licenses were granted to Johnson & Enkstrom and August Danielson and requests for licenses were received from Kenney & Mathena, Peter Dourel, M. G. Franstovitch and August Erickson.

City Engineer Tee presented a report in which he recommended that the legality of paving Cedar street with gravel be taken from the Alderbrook bench be referred to the city attorney for an opinion. The report was to the effect that an improvement with gravel would be a lasting one. The report was referred to the street committee.

The report of Road Supervisor Foster showed that he had collected $900 in poll taxes and expended $40.15, leaving a balance on hand of $159.85. Claims were allowed as follows: B. F. Allen, 60c; Holmes & Asp, $11; Frye, Gerding & Co., 60c; G. W. Sanborn, $18; Budget, $124.85; Fraet & Cook, $24; Seale's bakery, $8.48; K. Thompson, $55; Astoria Woodyard Co., $5.25; Walter Wayne, $60; William Hubbard, $35; Frank Hart, $5.46; D. R. Blount, $57; board of assessors, $25; J. O. McGuire, $10.76; Astoria Electric Co., $34.50; W. A. Goodin, $33; Astoria Box Co., $14.22; Sherman Transfer Co., $3; Clatsop Mill Co., $2.10.

CUTTING SGRAPE IN THE WEST END

A serious stabbing affray occurred in the west end of the city last night about midnight in which one Eric Anderson received two frightful wounds that may prove his undoing. Anderson in company with an associate, Henry Johnson, had been out taring the curly part of the night and both had drunk much—too much for their good. Some little time before 12 o'clock both men entered the home of a mutual acquaintance to get something to eat and Anderson was the first to depart. Johnson followed and a moment later Anderson called out that he was being murdered. Friends hastened to his assistance, but arrived too late to save him from a most dastardly assault. Johnson had slashed him about the neck, causing a wound five or six inches in length and had also laid open his left arm a distance of eight inches. Officer Stark at once took the would-be murderer into custody. The wounded man was taken to Doctor Estes' office and remained there until 5 o'clock this morning, getting his cuts relieved. He was taken to his home then, suffering greatly from loss of blood. Just how seriously he is injured is hard to determine, but it is probable he will recover. No cause for the assault is known excepting that the drunken scoundrel who did the dirty work started, in a maudlin way, that Anderson had attempted to rob him. The knife was not upon Johnson's person when he was arrested, and it is thought that the weapon was thrown upon the beach after it had been used so disastrously.
