NEW HEALTH LAWS.

Attention is called to the notice published elsewhere in this paper by Judge C. J. Trenchard, the County Health Officer, concerning the observance of the health laws passed by the last legislature. The law provides for the appointment of a County Physician if deemed expedient, but Judge Trenchard thinks it unnecessary in this county, and will not make the appointment at present. It becomes the duty of Judge Trenchard to keep a complete record of all vital statistics, and to report to the State Board of Health each month all infectious diseases deaths, causes thereof, places of burial of every person dying in the county, and all births, with names, residence and occupation of parents. It is made the imperative duty of physicians, midwives, heads of families, nurses or others under whose charge a birth, death, or case of infectious disease occurs, to report the same at once to the Health Officer, and no burial, cremation or shipment of any dead body can take place without a certificate from that officer. He also has power to quarantine any case of infectious disease reported and to call upon any or all officers of the law within the county to enforce the quarantine, or he can declare a quarantine against any other county or state for the purpose of protecting against travel from them to this county. A penalty of not less than $10 or more than $100 is provided for failure to observe these requirements.

STRAY STOCK IN THE CITY.

A certain prominent citizen living on the hill was awakened from dreams of a happy childhood yesterday morning by the tinkling of a cow bell. Thinking he was again in the old farm house and that it must be near 4 o'clock and time to get up and attack the morning "thores," he arose to find not the farm scenes of long ago, but that a neighbor's cow was breakfasting on his wife's choicest flowers and shrubbery, while trampling all the common ornaments into the soft soil. To be aroused in the gray dawn and obliged to hastily sally forth in white to chase the marauder from the premises, occurring not once but often, is fast tempting this good man to forget the instruction of a pious mother for the sake of doing adequate justice to such an aggravating grievance, and unless the poundmaster will assume an activity and allow himself to be recognized in his official capacity occasionally in this respect, there is liable to be a case of moral lapse directly traceable to his neglect. Perhaps there are others.

NATIVE DAUGHTERS ENTER-TAINED.

Last evening was social meeting evening with the Native Daughters. The ladies brought their husbands, brothers and best fellows and had a royal good time. About 40 were in attendance, occupying nine tables at progressive euchre. After the games one of Hoefler's famous suppers was served, at which the head of the table was graced by Senator C. W. Fulton. The prizes were won as follows: For progression, Mrs. Senator Fulton and Judge C. J. Trenchard; for lone hands, Senator Fulton and Mrs. Herman Prael; consolation, Mrs. W. F. Chutler.

HENRIETTE AT VICTORIA

The French bark Henriette arrived at Victoria after a tow of 30 hours from the Columbia. Her present owners have a contract to transport over 250,000 tons of ore from mines on Vancouver Island to the smelters at Vancouver and will convert the bark into a barge for the purpose. Mr. Kern who bought the vessel when she was sunk on the Sylva de Grasse reef a year ago, and raised her and patched her bottom, has made a snug profit on his investment.

EPIDEMIC AT STANFORD

Relatives and friends of Stanford students residing here are alarmed at the reports of typhoid fever raging there. A dispatch received by The Astorian last night from the University says: "A typhoid fever epidemic continues to spread among the students of the University campus and the residents of Palo Alto. Up to this morning 32 cases were reported on the campus and four or five more students were taken down with the fever."

BENNINGTON IN SERVICE.

The trial trip of the gunboat Bennington made to test her machinery proved entirely satisfactory, says a dispatch from San Francisco. The vessel is now ready for sea and will sail in a few days for a cruise of the coast. She will eventually join the Pacific Coast Squadron which is now at Magdalena Bay.

OFF FOR NUSHAQAK.

The bark Harry Morse was towed to sea by the Wallula at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon, being the first ship to leave this port this season for the Alaska fisheries. She carries the outfit and men for the Columbia River Packers Association cannery at Nushagak on Bristol Bay. In the party are 73 white men, 74 Chinese and 26 Japanese. Preparations have been made for packing and bringing back 50,000 cases of salmon. Captain J. J. Reynolds is master of the bark and John Carlson superintendent of the cannery. A letter was received by the tug from Mr.

PLAN OF COMMERCIAL CLUB

It has been finally decided by the Commercial Club to enlarge its present quarters and not erect a new home as had been spoken of. The first plan of the club was to build a new gymnasium but when the question of putting up an entirely new building came up the first plan was put aside, but now, after a full consideration of the matter an annex is deemed more feasible than the latter proposition and so it will be adhered to. The gymnasium will be a modern one in every detail, it being the purpose of the club to omit nothing that will add to the comfort of the members. Its location will be immediately adjoining the present alleys and will be constructed so that it can upon occasion be converted into a hall. At a meeting of the executive committee of the club the plans drawn by A. S. Tee for the new club gymnasium were approved and the committee will ask for bids for its construction. The building is to be 60x55 feet.

BANK CAVED ON HIM.

W. P. Chapman, a resident of Chinook, was badly injured Thursday evening while working at Fort Columbia. A bank caved in on him, badly crushing him and bruising him in many places. He was brought to this city and placed in St. Mary's Hospital and everything possible was done for his comfort with the result that he is now resting easy and with indications of an early recovery. Dr. Henderson was called in to attend the injured man.

LABOR COUNCIL MET.

The Central Labor Council held a brief session last evening at Labor Hall. The Council instructed its Secretary to notify the headquarters of the Commercial Travelers' Association at Portland that the Occident Hotel is on the unfair list. J. F. Welch was elected to represent the Council at the meeting of the State Federation of Labor at La Grande on May 4.

FROM OREGON'S RESERVE.

C. F. Overbaugh, travelling agent for the O. R. & N. Co., has just returned from a trip through the stock ranges of Southeastern Oregon. He traveled 300 miles in a buggy, and saw a large portion of the fertile country which is now attracting so much attention and into which the O. R. & N. Company has announced its intention of building a railroad. Mr. Overbaugh says the country is all that is claimed for it and will undoubtedly sometime be an empire of productiveness. It is now so isolated that the farmers feed wheat to their cattle rather than haul it to market. The material for thousands of fine homes awaits the settler, where the land has not been gobbled by speculators and large cattle ranchers. All that is necessary is a means of marketing produce and that is inevitable with in a few years at most, whether this or other companies build the road. Most likely there will be more than one built, as there is pretty good authority for believing it is being aimed at by at least three corporations. Mr. Overbaugh says Eastern Oregon is ahead of the western part of the state for business, which arises from the immense stock and wheat interests and a larger amount of immigration. Settlers coming West have a way of dropping off east of the mountains, saying, "this is good enough for me," and "they say it rains all the time on the coast."

EX-SENATOR FILES SUIT.

Ex-Senator George W. McBride has filed suit against Inman, Poulsen & Co to recover $5000 for logs. The complaint states that McBride owns 90 acres of timber land in Columbia County and that the Gobel, Nehalem & Pacific Railroad Company, a corporation engaged in cutting and transporting logs, between January 1, 1900 and June 1, 1902 cut and removed from McBride's land logs to the amount of 1,000,000 feet, lumber measure and delivered the same to Inman, Poulsen & Co. The logs, it is alleged, were worth $5000.
