LIST EXCEEDS ESTIMATES

Today Number Of Bodies Found Expected To Reach Two Hundred.

DOUBTLESS MANY MORE LOST

Survivors Dazed And Can Not Realize The Appalling Conditions Besetting Them.

Hegppner, June 19.—Following is a list of additional persons missing and believed to be lost:

Otto Bullis, 23 years old, of Tower City, N. D.

J. Staley, 40 years old, of Meacham, or Hardman, Ore.

Joe Potter.

The bodies of the wife of Douglas Gurdane, city marshal; Mrs. Boyd and child, a Chinaman and Erma Ashbaugh, found and identified, today, bring the list of dead up to 157.

Five carloads of provisions have arrived at Lexington for the destitute. The work of the relief committee is becoming more arduous. Hungry and destitute families are being found and cared for as rapidly as possible.

Superintendent O'Brien, of the O. R. & N., arrived this morning and hurried five wagons out to load provisions. Trains may reach here by Sunday, when danger of want will have passed.

Carloads of rations from Fairfield, Tekoa and a second installment from Portland are at Lexington. The relief fund has reached $20,000.

The developments of yesterday afternoon and today show the Hegppner death list will exceed estimates. It seemed at first impossible that 300 people could have been killed, and the estimate was cut down in a measure. Now, prominent citizens are beginning to make estimates from 250 to 300, no one falling below the former number. Not all these bodies will be found. Some were washed to the Columbia, some are probably buried in cellar bottoms right in town and destined never to be found.

There are several large drifts of work and corpses are expected to be found as far down as Lexington. At the rate bodies are coming in, the list by tomorrow will easily reach 200 actually found, identified and buried. There are doubtless dozens more.

Several outside ministers are relaying each other, officiating at the graves, and all the dead have brief funeral services now. Danger of grave mixing is also reduced.

The apparent stoicism of the survivors who have lost relatives is astonishing the only explanation being that the situation is not yet realized. Realization will come when the thousands of helpers leave town and the remaining population finds the streets deserted. Many women said today they were afraid to stay here when the people were left alone with their dead. Men talk with dry eyes of wives and children killed. Many say they do not know yet what has happened.

While the bodies found yesterday and today were in horrible condition, many were frozen stiff when brought into the hot sun, a phenomenon rendered possible by their covering of hail. Great banks of hail still lie in the drifts with bodies, or parts of bodies, enclosed. Corpses not thus situated are so bad that workmen dislike to handle them. Where people were rolled before a wall of hail during the flood, they are stripped and their flesh is whipped into shreds.

A pitiful scene was witnessed last evening in the morgue, when a mother and her babe lay side by side, having been found together in a drift two miles below town, from which six bodies had already been taken, with more to come. The woman was Mrs. George Kinsley. There are many children still to be found.

No more laborers are needed, as all that can be fed are here. Mayor Frank Gilliam and Sheriff E. M. Shutt have issued orders to all persons not working or with business to transact to leave town as soon as possible. No attempt is being made to save boards or timber—it is a question of getting the ruins out of sight.

The question of rebuilding the town is still unsettled. Some think the place is permanently injured, and a majority think it will not be rebuilt for several years. Leading men, however, declare that fine brick structures will go up, strong enough to withstand floods; that the streets will be terraced back from the creek, and that new and better homes will be erected on the hillside. Hegppner's location at the mouth of the four canyons makes rebuilding in the bottom a dangerous proposition.

AVERAGE POLICEMAN HONEST
General Greene Has a Good Word to Say for the Cop.

New York, June 19.—In a speech before the Order of Acorns General Francis V. Greene, commissioner of police, has intimated broadly that attempts are being made in the police department to re-establish the machinery of blackmail which he attacked when he remanded the ward men to patrol duty last January. He added that he hoped to thwart the plan by preventing the formation of a new chain of connections.

"I want to say from my experience," he said, "that the average policeman is not crooked. He has more temptations thrown in his way than any man in another walk of life. He can make a month's salary in a minute by simply turning his head. The great majority of the force resist this temptation and do their duty."

"Organized blackmail has been broken in two and it has not been put together again yet, though efforts may be making in that direction. I think they can be defeated by preventing the re-establishment of the chain of connections."

JEWS OBTAIN AUDIENCE

Russian Government at Last Recognizes Protest to Massacre.

Chicago, June 19.—The Russian government has taken cognizance of the protest against the Kishineff massacre. Important concessions have been granted to the Jews, which will relieve their terribly confined condition in the large cities, where they are herded together and constantly under the eye of the governmental officials. These advices were received from Odessa in a cablegram. According to the dispatch, a committee of 50 of the most influential Jews of Odessa, consisting of lawyers, bankers and philanthropists, went to St. Petersburg and were received by the minister of the interior, Von Plehne and the minister of finance, Witte.

INFRINGED OTHERS' WORK.

And In Consequence Strike Is Declared by 700 Men.

Chicago, June 19.—All work on the new postoffice and the First National bank building has been stopped by a strike of the building laborers and the entire working force on both buildings numbering 700 men, has quit in sympathy with the building laborers. Only the carpenters remain at work. The hod carriers and building laborers' union called the strike because the carpenters insisted on setting and lowering centers and building and removing false work built for the use of the bricklayers and other skilled crafts. This class of work the building trades organizations have given to the building laborers.

"PROFESSOR" IN TOILS

After Twenty Years Of Wholesale Swindling A. A. Arthur Is Taken.

PASSED UNDER MANY ALIASES

Crook Who Has Been Entertained As Preacher And Bank President.

Chicago, June 19.—"Prof." A. A. Arthur, a septuagenarian who has been sought by the police of a dozen cities for nearly a score of years has been caught at Monmouth, Ill., by Chicago detectives. Arthur has operated under many different names and when he was arrested papers were found in his possession indicating that he was traveling as the vice-president of a bank, a professor in an eastern college, a tourist, a lecturer and a minister.

In his satchel was found a full banking outfit including 500 imitation drafts on the National Park bank of New York. The police of Chicago have been working on the case for more than a year, or ever since it was discovered that the drafts were printed in this city, where the "professor" apparently had headquarters.

The alias "Professor Arthur" was the name under which he made his last appearance as "an eminent member of the faculty of Hamilton college," as he is reported to have represented himself. He was to have lectured last night in Hinsdale on "Egypt and the Orient."

As "J. S. C. Bliss," he is said to have posed as the vice-president of the People's National bank of McMinnville, Tenn. A quantity of drafts and stationary duplicates of that used in the Southern bank were found in his possession. It was while working in this guise that the prisoner is alleged to have deceived many persons in the smaller cities and even some in Chicago.

As "S. C. Bliss," he posed as a tourist just returned from the orient and Egypt as lecturer. Letters of introduction given by pastors were found by the police.

As the "Rev. A. D. Postham," it is said, the prisoner professed to be a Methodist preacher driven by his health to travel to the mountains of Colorado and securing funds and entertainment by delivering lectures and "supplying" the pulpits of many churches.

Arthur's latest swindle, by which he is believed to have obtained $200,000, is thus described by the police. He would deliver a lecture and when about to leave would produce a New York draft, sometimes $25 and sometimes $200 or more. The paper appeared regular in every way and there seldom was difficulty in cashing it.

"J. S. C. Bliss," is wanted in Kansas, Nebraska, Indiana and Illinois.

EWEN MAY LEAVE KENTUCKY

Only Eye Witness to Jackson Murder in Fear of His Life.

Lexington, June 19.—Captain Ewen said he would remain here until Monday night and then either go to parts unknown or apply for board at Lexington jail. He said he was afraid he would be assassinated by Jackson men even here. As Ewen is the only eye witness against Jett and White who will testify, it is feared he may be disposed of before the new trial at Cincinnati.

PEACE WILL BE RESTORED.

Servian Minister Confident as to Future of Nation.

Belgrade, June 19.—The Servian foreign minister, M. Kalievich, talked to an Associated Press correspondent tonight. Commenting on the tranquillity which prevailed throughout the country the minister admitted he was surprised there had not been a single attempt at reprisals. Regarding an official version of the royal tragedy, the minister said the government was too busy now to draw up such a document. He did not expect complete revision of the constitution after the arrival of the king. The changes to be made were simply with a view to its easier working. In conclusion he expressed confidence the new regime would restore peace.

ABSURD, SAYS CLEVELAND

Has No Wish But to Continue To Live As A Private Citizen.

NO WISH TO BE PRESIDENT.

His Name Has Not Been Advanced By Any Political Leaders And Will Not Be.

New York, June 19.—The World today publishes a dispatch from Princeton, N. J., quoting former President Cleveland as saying:

"It is perfectly absurd to suppose for an instant that I have any desire to re-enter public life. Nor have I remotely entertained the thought since I left Washington more than six years ago. The matter is far from my thoughts as it was in 1896, when, all must admit, it was not within my hearing or my sight. I have no higher aspiration than to pass my days in peace with my family around me, and take no part in politics which any private citizen cannot take with the utmost propriety."

"I have not spoken to anybody on the subject of a fourth candidacy. I have never written to a single political friend one way or the other, nor have I been written to or spoken to by them. There is no political leader of any prominence endeavoring to advance any movement to nominate me in any state, so far as I have been advised, nor do I anticipate that any such effort will be made by any leader, prominent or obscure, in any locality in this country."

"I have on several occasions within a year undertaken to perform the labor which usually falls to the private in the ranks, but there has not lurked within me the hope of any reward save the consciousness of having made an effort to assist in bringing about salutary conditions in the party."

INACCURATE, SAYS CLEVELAND

He Was Interviewed Without Knowing It and Is Real Mad.

Princeton, June 19.—Grover Cleveland on being shown an alleged interview stating he had no desire to re-enter public life said:

"The substance of the interview as published is in some respects grossly inaccurate. There are statements attributed to me I certainly would not have made to a person no nearer to me and no more in my confidence than Mr. Bailey, who visited me. He left me without the least hint I had been interviewed for publication."
