Berlin, July 21.—News was received here today that the Chicago police have discovered a plot against the emperor. They, however, express great appreciation at Chicago's vigilance and prompt communication.

DEATH POINTS TO SUICIDE

Boston, July 21.—Dr. Elwood S. Wood, professor of chemistry in the Harvard medical school, who has been engaged in making a chemical analysis of the organs, has reported that while Edward M. Thayer, who died suddenly while under arrest for forgery, may have died of poison, he was unable positively to prove the fact because at the first autopsy the contents of the stomach were lost.

Thayer carried insurance amounting to $470,000. His death was attributed by the authorities to acute kidney disease but the insurance companies refused to accept it without full investigation.

MISS JEWETT IN CONCERT.

Assisted By Capable Artistes Delightful Program Is Rendered.

Miss Jessie Jewett was accorded a most flattering reception at Fisher's opera house last evening on the occasion of her appearance in concert, by a large and enthusiastic audience of music lovers. With the assistance of the well-known artists, E. Spitzner, violinist; F. Konrad, cellist; Miss Grace Rannels, soprano; Mrs. Haddicks, elocutionist, and Mrs. Otto Heffern, accompanist, a most delightful program was rendered.

Her voice possesses the sweetness and charm, as well as culture and expression to please the most sensitive ear, and the applause that followed her singing of the various numbers came like a burst of spontaneity from the audience. In the rendition of "Life is Vain" (Ellen Wright,) and "Doris" (Nevin) she seemed to revel in the soft and melodious notes. To her charm of voice must be added a stately stage presence, and it is fair to presume that Miss Jewett will acquire herself with marked ability on the operatic stage, for which she has cultivated her art. The remainder of the program was admirable in every particular.

HAS STRANGE AFFLICTION

New York, July 21.—The authorities of Kings county hospital, Brooklyn, are awaiting information from Ashtabula, Ohio, concerning a patient who is afflicted with one of the most remarkable phases of aphasia that has ever come under their notice. The patient was sent to the hospital from the Kings county penitentiary to which he had been committed for vagrancy. He was able to discuss intelligently almost every topic, but his name and residence and the facts pertaining to his career before he fell into the hands of the police. After several days the man said he had a vague notion of having lived in Ashtabula and thought he could learn of his identity by visiting that city. He was permitted to make the experiment and started at once for Ohio.

Contest For Election of Regatta
Queen Growing In Interest-- Sensational Vote Coming

Miss Amy Lemon.....2,093
Miss Nellie Lidwell.....1,031
Miss Birdie Gunderson.....829
Miss Maja Fredrickson.....531
Miss Madge Sorey.....529

With Mrs. Ridehalgh in first place, Miss Thomas second and Miss Lemon closing up on them, it would seem to an innocent bystander that voting for queen for Astoria's ninth and greatest regatta, a settling down to a three cornered fight with a result that becomes more interesting as it daily becomes more involved in doubt. However, it is rumored that the greatest sensation in the contest is yet to be sprung. In the last day or so Miss Maja Fredrickson has obtained a phenomenal advance and the reports have it that there is to be a large vote cast for her before the contest is closed. In that event the fight now being waged will obtain an interest not yet felt.

R. W. Mills, who represents the regatta committee at Shoalwater bay, arrived in the city last evening and will remain here for some days. Mr. Mills, aided by the committee, has arranged for the appearance of nine sloops to participate in the races. Heretofore no more than four boats, of the Shoalwater bay class, have been brought around and the number that will appear this season is an indication of the great interest felt in the approaching event. Another contribution by Shoalwater bay toward the regatta will be the Indian canoe races, it being proposed that four crews of red men be on hand. These canoes will be brought around by the sloops, the small boats being lashed to the decks of the sailing craft. The Indians will not be charged for the service so there will be nothing to hinder their coming.

A marriage license was issued yesterday to Sigfrid Sigfridson and Sofia Nykard.

Work on the frame of the proposed mill at Warrenton will be started today. By delaying matters, the promoters of the enterprise have been fortunate enough to secure a millwright of rare ability. He is now on the field and will superintend the construction of a saw mill that bids fair to equal any similar industry on the coast.

As a mark of appreciation for the courtesy tendered the local Aerie on Sunday afternoon by Manager Al Hager of the Unique theater in allowing members of the company playing there this week to participate in the social session, members of the Aerie will attend the theater in a body on Friday night. It is whispered that some brain new jokes will be cracked over the heads of the members.

The members of the local lodge Knights of Pythias are making special preparations for the convention of the Sixth Oregon district, comprising the lodges of St. Helens, Rainier, Seaside and Astoria, which will be held in this city Aug. 20 and 21, Thursday and Friday of Regatta week. This will be the first convention ever held by the Sixth district and for that reason special interest is being taken in the preparations for the event. It is probable that the grand chancellor and other grand lodge officers will attend. Special prizes will be given for the best drilled initiatory teams, and the gathering will close with a social session and banquet.

Max Pohl yesterday exhumed four bodies that have rested in the Hillside cemetery for a number of years and reinterred them at Greenwood cemetery. Rev. Father Waters was at the graves of two. The bodies were John

Roman Public To Be Given Opportunity of Paying Last Farewell to Rome, July 21.—The body of Leo XIII lies tonight in the hall of the throne room a few steps from the one in which his death took place. The same vestment, comauro hood, rochet and white gown, which were put on yesterday, cover the form, which rests in semi-state, surrounded by lighted candles.

In the afternoon the body will be arrayed in all the glory of pontifical robes, the mitre replacing the hood, and at sunset it will be taken into the chapel of the sacrament of St. Peters, where for three days, commencing Friday, the public will be given an opportunity of paying a last farewell. The interment will occupy Saturday evening.

This evening was broken by a chorus, such as the world has seldom heard. On the stroke of eight, all of Rome's 400 churches commenced to toll the bells for the passing soul of Leo XIII.

Feeley, interred in 1876; child of Mrs. Cornelius Gilmore; Mrs. Duncan, buried years ago and Fred L. Trott, also laid to rest a number of years since. It was surprising in what good condition, concerning the length of time they had been underground, the coffins were when taken out. Only one of the coffins showed any marked effects of the ravages of time and the conditions to which it had been subjected during the years it had been under the earth.

THREATENED WITH A STRIKE

Chicago, July 21.—Unless Wells Bros. general contractors grant the demands of the Building Trades union and hire only union men it is said strikes will be called on all their jobs. The first of these has been called on the plant of the new Commonwealth Electric company and involves 100 men.

Wells Bros. refused to employ only union men on that job and the gas fitters and machinery installment men walked out. They were followed by the various unions affiliated with the Associated Building Trades, and the construction work has stopped. The new plant will cost $2,000,000.
