

BANQUET OF HOSE TEAM

Captain Brown is Presented with Handsome Gold Medal

The Astoria hose team treated themselves to banquet last night at the Toke Point oyster house. The feature of the festivities was the presentation of a gold medal to Fred Brown, captain, as a token of appreciation on the part of the men in consideration of valuable services rendered to which was due to a large extent the recent series of victories. Chief Stockton presented the medal which has on one side the engraving of a hose cart, and on the other the words "To Fred Brown by A. H. T., 1903." A neat speech was delivered by W. J. Barry and Chief Stockton. Toasts were responded to by W. C. Curtis, John Corno, Al Minard, William Palnter, W. Johnson, Otto Peterson, J. Phillips, C. Stellwright. It was the intention of the team to have present the judges and the regatta committee, but as some of the gentlemen were absent from the city, and the others were otherwise engaged, the boys went it alone.

FESTIVAL AND AUCTION

The ladies aid society of the Norwegian Danish Methodist church, will hold a festival and auction in the basement of the church Tuesday evening. Many beautiful articles of fancy work, etc., will be sold.

TAKE FIRST CITIZENSHIP PAPERS

Kristian Olaf Sunderling, native of Norway; Hans Peder Yuhkolia, native of Norway and John Westerslund, John Emil Hendrickson and Otto Akola all of Russia; George Papa Ganika, native of Greece and John Aspen, native of Norway.

STORES CLOSE EARLIER

Beginning tomorrow the stores will resume the old time schedule of closing, 8 o'clock.

THE LAST NIGHT

Tonight the popular Allen Company will complete its very successful week's engagement with the old favorite play "Davy Crockett." Most every one has read "Davy Crockett" and the old motto "Be sure you're right then go ahead" will be used for many generations to come. The piece is brimful of good, wholesome comedy and its quaintness of characters and exactness of frontier life endears it to the heart of every listener.

The entire company will appear in the cast and all who wish to see this splendid company in any of their plays, should be present at the opera house to-night.

"The Burglar" last night drew a full house and the people appreciated the performance. The company are all right and when they go will be sadly missed.

HATS OFF TO OREGON

It is stated that California now ships about 350,000 boxes of apples a year to Great Britain, and that with more care in packing the sale would increase very largely. A number of Oregon packers who engage in the business with the determination to perfect packing, regularly outsell any California apples by about $1 a box. This is not because the apples are better, but because the packing is better; but the result is that since but a few Oregon packers are in the business, all of whom do good packing, Oregon apples have come to be regarded in the British markets as "better" than California apples. Prestige earned in this way is well deserved, and we respectfully take off our hats to Oregon; but it is disgraceful that our California shippers should compel us to do so.—San Francisco Chronicle.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Callendar, of Knappa, Wash., entertained a party of Astoria friends last night. The steamers Melville and Electro took them out and they report a most enjoyable time.

PROSPERITY ENJOYED

St. Helens, too, is satisfied, of course, with the result of the county seat vote of Columbia county, and the Mist patriotically turns to the development of the county's resources. Its last issue says: "It is settled, and we are all residents of what is destined to become the wealthiest county in Oregon, taking the size into consideration. Whatever benefits any part of the Nehalem country inures to the benefit of all alike a new saw mill, shingle mill or door factory at Clatskanie or Rainier, adds to the taxable property, gives employment to more people—lightens the burden and increases the prosperity of the entire county. Columbia county not only needs more people at Clatskanie, Rainier and St. Helens, but in every other section of the county. This section needs more mills, wood working plants, more farmers and dairymen, and the coal and iron mines should be developed."

BURTON, WHERE ART THOU?

Editor of the Astorian:

Where are all the great fish commissioners? Coming up on the boat this morning I saw at Eagle Cliff the cannery operated by B. A. Seabrook running in full blast with from 700 to 1000 fish on the dock and being unloaded. Is this right, one man running contrary to the law, perhaps there are others. Where is the protection for our fish? If this is allowed is it not putting a premium on dishonesty and a direct injury to those law abiding cannery men who uphold our laws and endeavor to protect this great industry.

"THE CHRISTIAN" GREAT PLAY

Hall Caine's Masterpiece Shows Here Saturday August 29

"The Christian," the literary and dramatic triumph of the day, will be the attraction at the Fisher Opera house Saturday night, August 29.

The question has been repeatedly asked: "What is the moral of the play?" To answer that question it is only necessary to revert to Hall Caine's own explanation:

Glory Quayle and John Storm, the two principal characters in the drama, represent types which have been brought into existence in the latter half of the nineteenth century: the educated girl who has to fight the battle of life in professions which are usually controlled by men, and the sincere young clergyman who makes an effort to realize in a liberal sense the Sermon on the Mount. But the social and religious problems which surround, the steps of these characters in the novel are not dwelt upon in the play, which is simply a romantic story of love.

In the play Glory Quayle is imbued with a love of the stage—she desires to become a great actress—she loves John Storm, but refuses to surrender her ambition to her love, but in the end she learns that the love of a good and true man is better than the honors of the world, and becomes the wife of the self-sacrificing young clergyman. Othello, she chooses what to her is the "crown of thorns" when the chaplet of flowers look fairest. Although Mr. Caine's intention, in the construction of this play, was to teach a moral lesson, he has not forced it on the attention of the audience; it is presented but incidentally to one of the most fascinating dramatic love stories that has ever been related upon the stage.

The part of Glory Quayle will be in the hands of the beautiful Cathrine Counties, while Aza Lee Willard will appear as John Storm.

Among the members of the company may be mentioned Frederick Esmelton, Winona Bridges, Chas. Edwin Omlies, J. Kadow, Nicholas Copley, Hedy von Ettner, Charlotte C. Hamner, Thomas Delaney, Eileen Blair, W. B. Fredericks, Paula Herbert, Hazel Kilday, Chas. B. Miller, Herbert Bradley, L. Rankin, Joseph Carden, Louis Christ, Chas. Ryan.

FREAK WALL PAPER SOLD

New York, August 22.—William Amory, former secretary of the Third Avenue Railroad Company has sold his house in East Sixty Second street. Along with the house he disposed of wall paper which is probably like no other in this country, because it was originally intended to sell for several million dollars. Amory's wonderful wall paper was made up of intrinsically worthless bonds of a coal and iron company in Kentucky. Their owner was before the public last March and April when he made public charges of fraud against the Metropolitan Street Railway Company and sued H. H. Vreeland for libel.
