MODERN ELECTRICAL APPARATUS.

The electrical apparatus to be insailed at the Hume mill is of the very latest design and an apt illustration of the wonderful uses to which the power is now put. Not the least interesting fixtures to be placed are the intercommunicating telephones, which are on display at the office of Trullinger & Hardesty. There will be 10 'phones in the mill, each with a different number. On the boxes are numbers from 1 to 10.

and to secure communication with any phone it is only necessary to turn an indicator to the proper number. The electrical fixtures for the new Presbyterian church are also on display. They are of black finish and very hanlsome

COUNCIL DISCUSSES MATTER

Spends Time of Long Session in Disposing of the Street Improvements to Be Made.

The council wrestled with street mat ters until 10 o'clock last night. During the course of the meeting members ex pressed themselves emphatically and, while the session was unusually long, it was quite interesting.

The most important street matter aken up was that of Franklin avenue between Thirty-first and Thirty-fifth streets. Property owners living on that street had requested the council to postpone the improvement until next spring or summer, while other property wners living in the district had urged nimediate improvement, for the reason that the street is now impassable. The condition of the thoroughfare seriously interferes with communication to that large district beyond Thirty-fifth street and the statement was made that the McGregor mill will be closed down of necessity if the repair was not now un-

no valid reason for shutting off all of East Astoria just because a few kickers desired to hold up the work, while Mayor Suprenant remarked that solid ground improvements, such as that under discussion, had been deferred unill winter because the contractors were ushed with work during the summer nonths. The request that the repair be postponed was not granted, while the report recommending an immediate improvement was adopted without dis-

Thomas Nelson called the attention of the council to the dangerous condition existing on Eighth street at the crest of the hill, where great boulders overhang the sidewalk, along which many from school. Seventh street, in the same vicinity, is also in bad shape. Members of the council who have visited the locality verified the complaint of Mr. Nelson, and the matter was referred to the street committee. A long discussion followed presentation of the claim of C. G. Palmberg for extra work on Eighth street. It appears that the resolution ordering the improvement made provisions for gutters, but the specifications were deficient in this respect. Mr. Palmberg, the contractor, had, at the instance of mem ers of the council, put in the gutters whether the city or the property owners should foot the bill. Just a few moments previously several claims of W. A. Goodin of similar nature had been

OFFERS ARE TO BE INVITED

Proposal for Property Already Received and Others Will Doubtless Be Submitted Later.

The city council has decided to sell the property on which the city hall stands. A new city fall is to be built and the sale of the present site will be the first step towards the improvement. At last night's meeting of the council the matter was thoroughly discussed. and there was unanimous sentiment in for extra work one was for $220.10, for favor of the new public building. The proposition was brought before the coun cii by a communication from S. S. Gordon, which read as follows:

Mayor Suprenant and City Attorney could be secured at a reasonable figure Forty-second and Forty-fourth streets; the best, perhaps, being that at the southwest corner of Commercial and Seventh streets. The mayor has communicated with the owner of this property asking him what price he demands for it. Should the city hall be built there all public buildings would be topropriating $272.45 to pay for the gether.
