

REPUBLICAN CONVENTION TO NAME TICKET TODAY

Interest in the Proceedings Centers in the Fight of the Aspirants for the Nomination for Sheriff.

Politicians Say Tom Linville Is the Strongest Man Available and He Will Unquestionably Be Named—Legislative Candidates and Nominees for Commissioner Are Problematical, but There Will Be Few Fights.

At 10 o'clock this morning the county republican convention will be called to order by George C. Fulton, chairman of the county committee. Temporary organization will be effected, committees appointed, and adjournment taken until 1 p. m. That no business of importance will be transacted at the morning session seems certain, for while many country delegates are already in the city, many others will not arrive until the noon train gets in.

The arrival of delegates from the outlying precincts was the signal yesterday for a lively political demonstration. During the entire day there was nothing talked of but politics, and groups of politicians were conspicuous on the streets and in the hotels. The fact that this is presidential year has lent additional interest to the situation, which has been rendered the more pronounced by the probability of a warm fight over the nomination for sheriff.

Linville the Strongest Man.

On all sides it is agreed that Tom Linville will establish a new record today by getting the nomination for the third time. His nomination is regarded to mean that he will unquestionably be elected, in which event he will have served three full terms and an unexpired term. He has now been in office for five years, and election in June will add another two years to his tenure of office.

Some of the country delegates who reached the city yesterday expressed a desire to support Linville at today's convention, but said they had been told by local politicians that he was not a strong man. These delegates felt constrained to support the strongest man available for the place, and were anxious to learn whether or not Linville could be elected.

From what could be learned, the statement as to the probable running qualities of the sheriff came from those city politicians who are working against him. There seems to be nothing personal in this fight over the nomination for sheriff, but it is merely a case of men lining up to battle for their friends. So the partisans of W. A. Goodin, the man upon whom the opposition to Linville centers its strength, declared Linville would not run well this year, because he has already held the office for five years.

Among those politicians whose opinions are sought when accurate information is desired the belief prevails that Tom Linville was never before so strong. His administration of the office has proved eminently satisfactory, and there is general demand for his re-nomination. That he will poll more votes this year than ever before is the opinion of those republicans who have long been identified with the party. Mr. Linville is likewise regarded by the democrats as the strongest republican available for the nomination, and it is said the only hope of the election of a democrat lies in the possibility of the convention naming some other man today.

John Frye's Name Sprung.

The name of County Roadmaster John Frye was yesterday sprung by the Linville opposition. Mr. Frye was himself out of the city and his political attitude was therefore not determined. It was repeatedly asserted Frye's name would be placed before the convention, not with the expectation of his nomination, but with the idea in view of taking away from Linville some of those outside delegates who have already declared themselves for the sheriff. There was also talk of submitting the names of Clark Loughery and C. E. Foster, but the former took no stock in this talk, saying his name would not go to the convention with his consent, and adding that Linville would surely be nominated.

Friends of Frye said they believed the Frye talk was all nonsense. They admitted his nomination might have considerable bearing on the situation, but said he would not lend himself to any combination calculated to defeat Linville. So, from all that can be learned, the fight will be between Linville and Goodin, with Linville so strongly in the lead as to justify the statement that he will be named.

Few Contests Likely.

There will be but few contests before today's convention. J. C. Clinton will be renominated for county clerk and T. S. Cornelius will again receive the nomination for assessor. For county commissioner William Larsen of the Lewis and Clark district, is prominently mentioned, although the precinct of Seaside will ask the convention to name R. A. Abbott. Ex-Commissioner Howell Lewis is also talked of.

For treasurer two men are mentioned—Charles A. M. Hellborn, incumbent, and W. A. Sherman. Hellborn seems to be assured of the nomination.

There will unquestionably be a scramble for the legislative places on the ticket. James W. Welch wants to go to Salem to represent the people of Clatsop. Other men mentioned for the place are C. F. Lester of Warrenton, who formerly represented this county in the lower house. Asmus Brix and C. A. Coolidge have also been talked of. It is very difficult to get a line on the delegates' attitude toward the various probable legislative candidates.

It is believed there will be no opposition to H. S. Lyman and W. C. A. Pohl, respectively for county school superintendent and coroner. Both gentlemen are democrats. Mr. Lyman could not well be beaten, and Mr. Pohl once ran independently against regular republican and democratic nominees and got more votes than the two combined. If some republican wants to make a try for school superintendent or coroner, the convention will probably name him.

From the talk yesterday, there will be no opposition to the renomination of R. T. F. Astbury for the office of county surveyor, and he was said by politicians to have a cinch.

Ten delegates will be chosen to the state and 10 to the congressional conventions. The congressional delegates will go instructed for Williamson, and the state convention delegates will be asked to support Supreme Judge Moore, Judge McBride and District Attorney Allen.

NATURE SPARES

The Stricken Rose From Grief.
What a fortunate provision of nature it is, that deprives the rose of mental suffering; for how poignant would be its grief to discover, in the height of its blooming glory, that a canker fed at its heart, and that its beauty and fragrance were doomed forever. Nature always spares the suffering; she is a veritable store-house of pleasing rewards, for those who seek her aid. In the years gone by falling hair and grayness have cast a gloom over the lives of thousands of young women, but thanks to the investigations of scientists the true cause of hair destruction is now known to be a germ or parasite that burrows into the hair follicles. Newbro's Herpicide absolutely destroys this germ, thus permitting the hair to grow as nature intended. Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c. in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich. Trials of Motherhood

205 Broad Street, PHILADELPHIA, PA., June 15, 1903.

I suffered for nine years with ovarian troubles making life a burden to myself as well as to my family. During that time I had two miscarriages and although we longed for a child to bless our home this seemed impossible. I had constant racking bearing-down pains in the pelvic organs and a pulling through my limbs with frequent headaches. I felt sick at my stomach and vomited frequently and no medicine helped me until I tried Wine of Cardui.

Then my general health improved, the pains gradually lessened and after 18 weeks I was well. I am now the happy mother of a boy eighteen months old and my husband joins me in sending heartfelt thanks to you for your splendid medicine. Without it I would have been a childless, instead of a happy and well mother.

WINE OF CARDUI

Wine of Cardui is the most successful menstrual regulator. By regulating menstruation, Wine of Cardui banishes inflammation from the entire female organism and the strengthened ligaments bring the organs back to their proper place. This is what Wine of Cardui did for Mrs. Nirdlinger. It banished the racking pains and burning inflammation and brought her relief. She was restored to health and strength and gives Wine of Cardui the credit of making her able to become a happy mother. This medicine equips a woman for every duty of wifehood and motherhood. There are many suffering women who think that health can never be theirs because they cannot secure the services of a great specialist, but we want to say right here that while Mrs. Nirdlinger lives in Philadelphia, a great medical center, she depended on Wine of Cardui for a cure and she was cured. This same medicine is within your reach. Will you take it?
