BIG JOB OF VACCINATION

Quarantine Officer Scratches the Arms of Sixty of Liner's Crew.

HAD SMALLPOX ON BOARD

Twelve Whites and a Bunch of Chinks Rendered Immune By Dr. Earle and the Ship's Physician.

Dr. Baylis H. Earle, quarantine officer at this port, yesterday vaccinated between 55 and 60 persons. The vaccination took place aboard the Chinese Commercial liner Ching Wo, which is lying at the quarantine station. The vessel brought nine smallpox cases from Hongkong to Salinas Cruz, Mexico, and as a precautionary measure Dr. Earle ordered vaccination of the entire complement of the steamship. The ship's doctor, an American, assisted in the big job, and both physicians were kept busy during almost the whole of the day. Some of the men had previously been vaccinated, but these were again required to submit to the scratching process. Twelve of the men were whites and the balance Chinese.

The Ching Wo was still under process of fumigation last night. Dr. Earle expects to release her today, and it is probable she will leave up the river for Portland this afternoon. She is receiving a very thorough fumigation, and the quarantine officer will see to it that there is no danger of contagion from this vessel.

HEAVY WEATHER YESTERDAY.

Several Vessels Unable to Get to Sea Because of the Blow.

The storm which sprang up Thursday afternoon continued until late yesterday afternoon, and several vessels which expected to get out were compelled to remain in port. The Oregon was ready for sea yesterday morning and went down as far as the mouth of the river. The bar was breaking badly, however, and the steamship put back to her dock. She remained until the afternoon and when she went down the second time the waves were not breaking so badly. She got to sea about 5 o'clock.

The cannery tender North Star was also detained by the blow. She tried to get to sea Thursday night, and was reported out, but could not cross. She remained at the mouth of the river until morning, but did not succeed in getting to sea during the day. As soon as the weather quiets down she will depart for the Nushagak.

The Oregon was the only vessel to leave the harbor during the day.

Marine Notes.

The French bark Marechal de Noailles left up the river yesterday to discharge her cargo of coke and cement.

The Indrasamba did not put in an appearance at the mouth of the river yesterday, as had been expected, but will doubtless reach port this morning.

The work of placing a lumber cargo aboard the barkentine Chehals, which is lying at Knappton, is about completed. The vessel's deckload is now being placed aboard her. She is loading for the far east.

FOR EMBASSIES' HOME.

German and British Colors to Fly Over Lennox.

Washington, April 22.—The German embassy will be established at Lennox, Mass., for the summer and the ambassador will raise the embassy flag there early in June. The ambassador expects to remain there until October. He will return to Washington early in that month to complete arrangements for the unveiling of the statue of Frederick the Great at the army war college here October 2. Baron von Dembusche, first secretary and counsellor of legation, probably will go on a leave of absence in October and will take his family to Germany. With that exception Mr. Scheller, second secretary, the ambassador and the Baroness Speck von Sternberg will have the entire embassy staff at Lennox this summer.

It is probable that Sir Henry Mortimer Durrant, the British ambassador, will establish the British embassy also at Lennox for the summer, but he will not leave Washington until late in June. Mr. Falke, the first secretary, and Mr. Waterlow, the third secretary, will apparently go on leave, and it is probable that both will be transferred.

The Russian ambassador and the Countess Cassini, with the embassy staff, will transfer the embassy to Har Harbor, Me., for the entire summer.

The French ambassador and Mme. Jusserand will spend the summer in France and the embassy probably will be transferred to Manchester-by-the-Sea, with the first secretary in charge.

Private advices received at the Italian embassy say that Italian and Signora Mayor des Planches will return to this country in June, but the locality of the embassy for the summer has not been settled upon.

Another Subway Proposed.

New York, April 22.—Work will probably be started on another rapid transit subway in New York before the end of the year. The plan and scope committee of the rapid transit commission has decided to report next week in favor of a new subway and incorporates its views as to the proper route proposed by the Metropolitan Street Railway interests. This starts at Third avenue and One Hundred and Thirty-eighth street, where seven of the companies converge. The company proposes to round the battery with a loop and continue the line back northward to the juncture with the main lines.

Mortgage Broker Arrested.

Chicago, April 22.—Frank R. Chandler, a real estate dealer and mortgage broker, has been arrested on a charge of neglecting to obey a court order to turn over $10,000 due the estate of Chauncey Kilmer of Saratoga, N. Y. Chandler later was released on $20,000 habeas corpus bonds.

Favor Hitt Bill.

Denver, April 22.—The principal action taken at today's meeting of the executive council of American Federation of Labor was the adoption of a resolution requesting the adoption of the Hitt bill on Chinese exclusion now pending before congress.

Appreciation.

The Alameda Daily Enclinal of Monday takes appreciative cognizance of The Call's article on Alameda's progress of that date. It says:

"The Call this morning devotes the better part of a page to Alameda. It gives illustrations of some of the leading buildings, including the library, new churches, etc., and in the accompanying letter press commences with a brief summary of Alameda's advantages, and follows it with matter concerning the Improvement and Advancement Associations, the Adelphean Club, etc. Altogether the article is well calculated to attract attention to this town as a desirable, live and progressive community. It is such publications as these that make the best advertisement for this city, and the people of Alameda are indebted to the Call for the liberal space given and for the admirable tone of the article."

Saved by Cigarettes.

"If I should say that cigarette smoking gave me my start you would laugh, but that is the fact," declared a successful professional man the other day at the Press Club. "It was this way. I had been down on my luck and drifted into a large seaport city on the Atlantic side, 'broke' and 3,000 miles from home.

"For several days I tramped along the water front in search of work, but my ill-fortune followed me. Disgusted, depressed and disconsolate, I drifted down to the end of a large steamship company pier, sat on a pile of stuff, pulled out a cigarette and started to smoke. In a few minutes a gruff voice aroused me with:

"What are you doing here?"

"I replied that I was resting.

"It's against the rules to smoke here. Stop it or leave the pier," demanded the voice.

"I turned about to see who owned the chesty loud toned voice and he looked at me closely. There seemed to be a responsive glint in his eyes, and I asked him who he was. He replied that he was superintendent of the dock and had been attracted to me because I had been smoking. Well to make a long story short, one word led to another and I told him I was 'broke,' out of work and 3,000 miles from San Francisco, my home. Lucky smoke. He was born near the Golden Gate, too, and declared I should have a job at once. True to his word, he put me to work. I earned enough money to get home and to resume my studies that resulted in at last fixing me in first class shape in my profession. And it was all from the cigarette."
