SKIN DISEASES

The Outcropping of Bad Blood.

While not always painful these are aggravating beyond expression. With few exceptions they are worse in spring and summer, when the system begins to thaw out and the skin is reacting and making extra efforts to throw off the poisons that have accumulated during the winter months. Then boils and pimples, rashes and eruptions of every conceivable kind make their appearance, and Eczema and Tetter—the twin terrors of skin diseases—Nettle Rash, Poison Oak and Ivy, and such other skin troubles as usually remain quiet during the cold weather, break out afresh to torment and distract by their fearful burning, itching and stinging. A course of S. S. S. now will purify and enrich the blood, reinforce and tone up the general system, and carry off the bodily impurities through the proper channels. The skin, with good blood to nourish it, remains smooth and free of all disfiguring eruptions. Send for our book on diseases of the skin, and write us if you desire medical advice or any special information. This will cost you nothing.

COMES FROM THE ORIENT

Liner Arabia Reaches Astoria on Her Maiden Voyage From Far Eastern Ports.

BRINGS ONLY PART CARGO

Officers Report That They Could Learn Nothing at Moji as to Progress of War—Other Marine News.

The oriental liner Arabia, under charter to the Portland-Asiatic Steamship Company, reached port yesterday from the far east. The Arabia is now here for the first time on the Columbia river-oriental run. She is about three years old, a Glasgow vessel, and heretofore has been operated by the owner, the German-American Steamship Company. The vessel registers 4483 gross tons and 2368 net tons. She is in command of Captain Bahle, and carries a crew of 41 Chinese.

The Arabia comes this trip from Moji, Japan. She was at Yokohama when she received orders to load at Moji, and proceeded to that port. She brings only a partial cargo, which consists of sacking, tea, firecrackers, rice, rice flour, oils, matting, curios, etc.

The steamship brought a clean bill of health and was passed by Dr. Earle. She had but one passenger, Otto W. Heim, a tourist. Officers of the steamship report that the passage across the Pacific was uneventful. Not a sail was sighted on the trip. In Japan they were unable to learn anything as to the progress of the war, and state that the people of America are better posted on the actual progress of events than are those foreigners sojourning in Japan.

"Of course, foreigners are anxious to know how the war is going," said Captain Bahle yesterday, "but they get scant satisfaction from the Japanese. One who asks questions concerning the war is immediately regarded with suspicion, and learns absolutely nothing. The reticence of the Japanese is complete, and we had less war news while there than at any other time."

The Arabia did not go to Hongkong to take on cargo, but the Aragonia is now at the Chinese port taking on freight. She is the next vessel due and should be here a month hence. The Aragonia will bring a much larger cargo than that of the Arabia.

To Search for Disabled Bark.
The revenue cutter Manning is under orders to leave San Francisco to search for the American bark Holliswood, which is supposed to be in distress somewhere off the coast. The bark Prussia, sailing from Seattle, reported that the Holliswood hailed her May 16 for provisions. It was concluded that she was short of food, and therefore there has been some concern for her crew of 15 men. The bark is loaded with 1400 tons of coal and is bound from Newcastle for the Bay city.

Alliance Being Repaired.
The steamer Alliance has been placed on the Portland drydock for repairs. While on her way up the river recently she struck a snag and one blade of her propeller was broken off. The repairs to the vessel occupied but a few hours and she was again put into commission. The Alliance will depart today for coast points. She is doing considerable business between Eureka and Astoria and seems to be popular with travelers.

Marine Notes.
The schooner James Rolph, Captain A. Olsen, arrived yesterday from San Pedro to load lumber. She registers 517 tons.

The steamer Aurelia of the Independent line arrived yesterday from San Francisco. She brought 974 packages of merchandise for Astoria and 6284 land.

The French bark Laennec is on her way down the river. She has 107,826 bushels of wheat, valued at $80,869. She goes to the United Kingdom.

The Hyades finished her lumber cargo last night. The lumber is for the government and goes to Manila.

The Despatch is due today from San Francisco.

The oil tank Whittier departed yesterday for San Francisco. She took 10,000 barrels of fresh water for the crude oil plant at San Francisco.

The steamer Sue H. Elmore departed yesterday for Tillamook.

LADIES IN GLASS GOWNS.

An Entire Bridal Outfit of Pure Glass on Exhibition at the World's Fair. By the Countess of Montalgu.

St. Louis, June 15.—Glass textiles is one of the developments of the skill of modern glass workers. At the World's Fair one of the most wonderful exhibits is the process of glass weaving, a delicate and and fascinating operation. The operator takes a small glass rod half an inch in diameter who exposes the point to the blue flame of a couple of lamps, when at a white heat he draws out a thread almost as intangible as that spun by the fateful Atropos. An attendant flings this glistening filament over a great iron wheel which makes three hundred revolutions a minute. It is so fine as not to be perceptible until a number of strands have been wound. When ready for removal, water must be thrown on the wheel lest the thread, on account of its extreme lightness, fly away and be lost. Three hundred of the original filaments must be put together to make the thickness of ordinary cotton thread.

The finished fabric is of an expulstely beautiful texture, somewhat resembling the rich stuffs of gold and silver used for sacerdotal vestments and altar cloths. It is usual white and asd as lustrous as satin, the surface reflecting the light with somewhat of a metallic lustre, blue, pink, Nile green and other delicate colors are manufactured.

The material is sufficiently pliable to be manipulated by the dressmaker, the needle passing through without any difficulty. It can be made up into exquisite costumes and has little affinity with any of the weavers known to commerce. On account of the peculiarity of the texture it lends itself admirably to the puffs and tucks now so fashionable. A lovely gown is fashioned with the full gathered shirt of the 1830 period, the foot being finished with half a dozen volutes of the shining stuff, the corsage matching it in style. Sometimes an all white dress is relieved with pipings or cordings of faint tones of rose or baby blue. One great advantage this fabric enjoys over silks or lins is that it does not have to submit to the manifestations of the laundress, for all that is necessary when soiled is to wipe off the surface with soap and water.

In order to illustrate the practical utility of "glass or crystal cloth," the exhibitors have erected a stage with footlights of which everything is of this inimitable fabric. The floor is covered with glass carpetings, which is not injured by use. The domed ceiling and walls are decorated with white glass cloth tucked and studded at regular intervals with resettes of every color which looks like so many bright-hued flowers growing from out of a bed of the purest white. The furniture is upholstered with glass in different colors while American flags in realistic coloring are set at each end. The picture is completed by a group consisting of six figures, a bride and her attendants, bridesmaids all robed in the purest white and in gowns illustrating the latest fashions.

This display cost $25,000. It is whispered that one of the smartest women in the smart set of St. Louis is desirous of acquiring one of these wonderful glass robes. Attired in such unique style she no doubt will excite the envy of her rivals and set the fashion of wearing glass gowns.

Almost every article of feminine wear or ornament may be fashioned from "glass cloth." There are sofa pillows, lamp mats, small covers and even pincushions. Braids for trimming dresses and millinery in all the latest styles are made in every as beautiful as those manufactured from silk. Being cheaper they bid fair to rival those made from wood fibre so successfully exploited last season.

While the textiles made of glass are by far the most interesting part of the exhibit, there are other things to arrest the attention of the curious. It is said that the re is but one man in the world who with a single breath can blow a bubble from ten to sixteen feet long. When this breaks it forms itself into a vaporous iridescent substance most as ethereal as air and finer than the finest gold. This is used for decorative purposes and when crushed between the fingers nothing remains but a powder as fine as diamond dust and of all the colors of the rainbow.

Special Excursion to the World's Fair.

The Denver & Rio Grande, in connection with the Missouri Pacific, will run a series of personally conducted excursions to the world's fair during June. These excursions will run through to St. Louis without change of cars, making short stops at principal points enroute. The first of these excursions will leave Portland June 7th, and the second June 17th. The rate from Astoria will be $67.50 to St. Louis and return. Excursionists going via the Denver & Rio Grande have the privilege of returning via a different route. This is the most pleasant way, as well as the most delightful route, to cross the continent. The stops arranged give an opportunity to visit the various points of interest in and about Salt Lake City, Denver and Kansas City. If you wish to accompany one of these excursions write at once to W. C. McBride, 124 Third street, Portland, for sleeping car reservations.
