The Children's Operetta—Thursday, June 20th, and Friday, July 1st. Don't forget the dates.

Children for the operetta "Snow White" will rehearse at Fishers' opera house tomorrow at 1 o'clock.

Alfred Abrahams and Anton Hansen, natives of Norway, yesterday declared their intention of becoming citizens.

Daughters were born yesterday to Mr. and Mrs. William Jacobsen of West Astoria and Mr. and Mrs. William Frederickson of Thirty-eighth street.

The schooner Mabel Gale departed yesterday for San Francisco with 930,000 feet of lumber. The Columbia left out during the day, but there were no other movements of consequence along the waterfront.

Andrew Kiljunen, a well-known tailor, was arrested yesterday for having assaulted Victor Bergman, editor of the Finnish paper, Pacific Herald. The trouble was the culmination of an old grudge. Kiljunen pleaded guilty before Justice Goodman and was fined the costs of the case—$7.50.

Amateur Photographers—Mr. H. L. Richardson, an expert demonstrator, will be at the Owl drug store today, Wednesday, June 22, to give practical and scientific instructions in the art of photography. This will be of interest to all those who use a kodak. Hours of demonstration will be from 2 to 5 p. m.

The coronation scene in the operetta "Snow White," to be given at the opera house on June 20 and July 1, will be fully worth the price of admission alone. Every feature of the original German royal court will be reproduced. The gairland dance is another feature of the play which will attract much attention. Rehearsals are being held regularly with much success.

Have you a quarter about your clothes? You can't invest it in anything that will give you more pleasure and satisfaction than four boxes of "Hood River Berries." We have 'em. Ross, Higgins & Co.

A rather unusual sight was witnessed on Commercial street last evening, when a fisherman came riding along on a bicycle with a large chinook salmon strapped to the handle-bars. The oddity of the spectacle appealed to the humor of the crowds that lined the street, and the cyclist was subjected to much "kidding."

At yesterday's session of the circuit court Judge McBride granted decrees of divorce in three cases. Grace E. Wolf was granted a divorce from F. M. Wolf; Nils P. Adamson was granted a divorce from Anna M. Adamson, and Minnie O'Neil was divorced from John J. O'Neil. A few orders in equity cases were also handed down. The session will be continued today.

There was a murder in the Third ward yesterday. An innocent-looking lamb was the victim, and the city council is an accessory to the crime. For some time promiscuous lambs have been feeding off flower gardens in the Third ward. Yesterday afternoon one started in to get a square meal and happened to select as desert a particular flower in which the lady of the house took great pride. The husband of the lady of the house appeared on the scene with an ax and the lamb is now ready for the butcher shop. Arrests are imminent!

Sheriff Linville left last night for Salem with a trio of men sentenced to the penitentiary. Floyd Dunlop goes up for two and a half years, and Tony Besch for 14 months. Yesterday Ggo. Neer, who robbed several logging camps near the city, entered a plea of guilty and was sentenced to a year's imprisonment. His case was disposed of in time to enable the sheriff to take him along. George Noland represented Neer at the trial and secured for the man a light sentence upon his agreement to plead guilty to the larceny charge which had been placed against him.

Charlie Jackson will appear before Justice Goodman this afternoon upon a charge of assault with a deadly weapon. The man slashed Henry Busby with a pocketknife the previous night. The gravity of the case made it a matter for the state courts to handle, and yesterday Jackson was taken before Justice Goodman. He told the court his story of the affray and was held in $50 bonds to appear today for preliminary examination. Jackson could not furnish bonds and was sent to jail. There is a strong case against the man, who enjoys the reputation of being a very decent sort of fellow when sober, but absolutely worthless when under the influence of liquor. The victim of his slashing is not seriously hurt, although he presented a dilapidated appearance after the cutting scrape. Jackson has been in trouble before.

Birch & Jacobsen yesterday commenced the work of moving the old court house, which is to be located 11 feet nearer Eighth street. The old structure is in the way of the foundation of the new building. For a time it was supposed it would be necessary to remove the engine house from the court house block, but it transpires now that this building will be permitted to remain until the court house is finished. The lot is to be excavated two feet lower than was originally intended and a layer of crushed rock installed. Upon this the concrete foundation will rest. The excavation work is now progressing rapidly and within a few days the crushed rock will be placed. Yesterday the workmen experienced more difficulty with the bear and Newfoundland dog which Norris Bros' men buried in the lot, but the carcasses were finally removed.

Mayor Surprenant yesterday signed all of the ordinances passed by the council the previous night, and as well attached his signature to the warrants ordered drawn. The only general ordinance that became effective yesterday was the measure increasing the weekly license for foot peddlers from $10 to $25. An interesting incident occurred when the bill was brought up for third reading and final passage. Councilman Hansen said several merchants had suggested to him that the increase should have been to $25 and he thought the ordinance, which he supposed provided for an advance to $20, should be altered to conform to his view. He moved to that effect, after a little speech, but before the motion was put Auditor Anderson came through with the information that the bill provided for the increase to $25. Councilmen and spectators laughed, and Mr. Hansen himself was compelled to smile as he took his seat.

We are in receipt of a very handsome souvenir program of the eleventh annual assembly of the Willamette Valley Chautauqua Association, which meets at Gladstone park July 12, and continues in session 13 days. Dr. Thomas McClary, who appears on the program for the fourth year, has designated chautauqua as the "people's college, where they get the newest thought in their own language." The platform talent this year is of superior quality. Dr. Newell Dwight Hillis comes from Beecher's famous old Plymouth church. Captain Richmond Pearson Hobson, the hero of Santiago, comes to speak on our navy. Hobson is one of the greatest drawing cards on the lecture platform today, and crowds throng to hear him. Then there is Lou J. Beauchamp, the "humorous philosopher," of Hamilton, O., who comes with a chautauqua reputation second to none. His two lectures, "Take the Sunny Side" and "The Age of Young Men," are masterpieces. Dr. Thomas McClary, always popular, comes for his fourth engagement. Dr. Stanley L. Krebs of Pennsylvania gives three lectures on psychology, with actual demonstrations on the platform in mind reading. Mrs. Marian A. White, the editor of the Fine Arts Journal of Chicago, delivers two popular lectures and ten morning art talks. Mr. Herbert Bashford, the poet of California and writer of distinction, tells of the "Literature of the West."
