WONDERFUL ATTRACTIONS FOR G. A. R. ENCAMPMENT

Boston, July 2.—(Special Correspondence.)—Members of the Grand Army who are intending to come to Boston to attend the next annual encampment will be interested to know what is to be furnished in the way of entertainment. Many of them will be most interested in the great parade which is to be held Tuesday. Many, especially those from the interior, will be interested in the squadron of battleships which the secretary of the navy has promised shall be ordered to Boston during the Grand Army week. But there are other features which have been planned by the entertainment committee which are quite different from those usually seen at such gatherings.

One of these unique features will be a river carnival at Waltham, on the Charles. With the Charles river and its south bank as the stage, and the north bank as the auditorium, there is booked to be produced on the night of Wednesday, August 17, the grandest spectacle ever seen in the history of river carnivals. There will be no curtain save the shades of night, and these will be necessary to bring out the effects. There will be a real moon and real water. The scenery will comprise real grass, trees and houses. Brilliance will be brought out by a gigantic pyrotechnic display. The spectators will come from all parts of the country. It is estimated that the audience will consist of at least 200,000 people.

Montreal is famous for her winter carnivals, New Orleans for the mardi gras and Charleston for its electrical celebration of Bunker Hill day, but Waltham is famous for two things—watches and her river carnivals. This city is nature-favored for such a scheme of entertainment. On a two-mile stretch of the river there is a half-mile straight-away course, while the remainder of the way abounds in bends and curves—not abrupt, but generally sinuous. To one looking at the sight from an eminence, it has the appearance of the trail of a long, fiery serpent.

Added to this general effect will be the illuminations along the shore, battles between skyrockets and searchlights, and the unique or grotesque tails of some of the boat decorations. Four thousand canoes will dot this two-mile course.

It is the intention of the entertainment committee to provide free transportation, between Boston and Waltham, to all the representatives and delegates of the G. A. R., as well as the distinguished guests of the allied organizations. The scene of the carnival is but a short ride on the steam cars, or, if one prefers the electric cars, it furnishes one of the most beautiful trolley rides out of Boston.

Residents along the south bank of the river are already planning their decorations and illuminations, and a spirited rivalry will ensue to see who shall do the most for the old soldier visitors.

The grandest chorus ever heard in the United States will be heard on that night, when the 200,000 spectators join in one mighty burst of song to the tune of "America." That all may be in time, Bandmaster John M. Flockton of the world-famous American Waltham Watch Company band will use as a baton a lighted torch. Then, with the full brass band as an accompaniment, will the multitude join in the inspiring song.

A unique feature of the carnival will be the finale. Plans are being made so that each boat will be supplied with red fire. All possible places of vantage along both banks will be similarly supplied. A signal will be given by a gun, and the six miles of red fire, three lines of two miles each, will be simultaneously ignited. In such a blaze of glory will the old veterans and other visitors see the close of an unrivaled spectacle.
