

DELEGATES ARE NAMED

County Judge Trenchard and President Carnahan Have Announced Appointments.

STATE LEAGUE IS POPULAR

From All Parts of Oregon Words of Encouragement Are Reaching Tom Richardson, Development Promoter.

Thirty-four delegates have thus far been appointed from Astoria and Clatsop county to the Oregon Development League convention, which meets at Portland August 2. Yesterday County Judge Trenchard named delegates to represent the county, all of his appointees being residents of the smaller towns, while President Carnahan named delegates from the Push Club.

"The proper organization of a state development league would work wonders for Oregon," said County Judge Trenchard yesterday. "We need more people in this state, and if the league starts off as it should the population could be materially increased."

"The Oregon Development League ought to be a powerful factor in the upbuilding of the state," said President Carnahan of the Push Club. "Energy is required to advance the interests of any community, and the right men at the head of the new organization will do much toward the betterment of the whole state."

The county delegates named by Judge Trenchard are as follows:

- Dan J. Moore of Seaside.
  - C. F. Lester of Warrenton.
  - Charles McDermott of Hammond.
  - W. E. Dement of Chadwell.
  - William Hartil of Melville.
  - R. M. Brayne of Youngs River.
  - Elmer Warnstaff of Olney.
  - B. P. Wiggin of Westport.
  - Edward Banks of Knappa.
  - H. F. Fisher of Svensen.
- The Push Club delegation will be made up of the following members:
- President C. W. Carnahan.
  - Secretary J. A. Eakin.
  - Richard C. Lee.
  - Frank L. Parker.
  - A. S. Skyles.
  - P. A. Stokes.
  - Charles V. Brown.
  - G. C. Fulton.
  - H. S. Lyman.
  - August Hildebrand.
  - John Frye.
  - William Larson.

The Chamber of Commerce, Commercial Club, Irving Club and Merchants' Association have not yet named delegates. Each organization is entitled to 10 delegates, not including the president and secretary.

From all parts of Oregon words of encouragement are reaching Tom Richardson, who is at the head of the movement, and that the convention will be a great success is assured. It is not unlikely that a meeting of the Astoria delegates will be held before the date set for the convention.

Captain Loll Arrested for Theft.

Captain Ernest Loll, formerly master of the tug Vosburg, was arrested yesterday on a charge of larceny filed by A. J. Sharp, and during the afternoon was given preliminary hearing before Justice Goodman. Sharp and Loll had been rooming together on Commercial street near Twelfth. Saturday night when Sharp retired he had $85 in his pockets, but the money was gone when he arose Sunday morning. Loll, he charged, arose before he did, and Sharp attributes the loss of his money to the early rising of the captain. Witnesses were put upon the stand yesterday afternoon by Deputy Prosecuting Attorney Abercrombie to show that Loll had lost a sum of money gambling since the money was taken, but the charge against Loll seemed to rest largely upon suspicion entertained by Sharp. Loll, it appeared from a statement made by the court, was very anxious to have the case dropped, because of the unenviable notoriety attached to it, and his conversation with Justice Goodman prompted the court to continue the case until today. Loll was released on bonds. One of the witnesses examined was a man named Wickstrom, formerly mate of the Vosburg, who rather unwillingly testified that Loll had been intoxicated while in command of the Vosburg.

WANTS $10,000 DAMAGES FROM DAILY ASTORIAN.

Chinese Files Suit in Federal Court Because of Article Appearing in This Paper Last Sunday.

Portland Journal: When Leong Poon, a Chinese born on American soil, learned from the columns of The Daily Astorian that he had two wives, one of whom was said to have contemplated suicide, and that he had formed a highbinder leader and that he had two his oriental blood mounted about 112 degrees Fahrenheit, bringing it to the boiling point. He consulted Attorney Charles L. Ford, the result being that a libel suit for damages in the amount of $10,000 was filed this afternoon in the federal court against Samuel Elmore and The Astorian Publishing Company.

The article complained of was published Sunday, July 17. In it is alleged that Poon is a San Francisco highbinder leader and that he had two wives. He is accused of bringing one to Astoria and afterward sending her to Portland on a visit. In the meantime, according to the story, the other wife reached Astoria, and when she heard of wife No. 2 tried to induce Poon to discard her.

MADAME ARRIVES IN TOWN.

Reaches Astoria and Will Visit Every Home in the City.

As announced in this paper for several days, sample copies of the popular magazine for "women who think" will go into the homes of Astoria today by courtesy of The Morning Astorian. Readers of this paper are urged to read Madame carefully. It will be found up-to-date in all respects and reading that will prove valuable to everyone. It will be recalled that this magazine will be sent free to readers of The Morning Astorian for a period of one year. Attention is called to the announcement on the second page of yesterday's issue. No one can afford to miss this generous offer. Courteous representatives of this paper will personally call on the subscribers, and we bespeak for them and their proposition kind consideration.

Smith Wins Wrestling Match.

Strangler Smith last night evened accounts with Adolph Drews, winning three of four falls at the Commercial Club gymnasium. The first fall went to Drews on what might technically be called a fluke, but the stranger took the second, third and fourth falls. A large crowd saw the match, with which the spectators seemed well pleased.

The Weather.

Portland, July 20.—For Washington, Oregon and Northern Idaho: Thursday, fair, continued warm; northerly winds.

Pure Water May Have Effect.

There is some speculation as to the effect the bringing in of pure mountain water will have on the sale of beer during the warm months. Some men drink beer now because they can't bear to drink the Spring valley mixture, while a considerable number drink beer now and always because they can't bear to drink anything else. It is not believed, however, that mountain water will be acceptable with all unless mixed with the extract of barley.—Port Townsend Call.

GERMAN FISH DEALER HERE

Einer Byer of Hamburg Visits Astoria to Familiarize Himself With Salmon Industry.

PLEASED WITH NORTHWEST

Believes Pacific States Have a Great Future Before Them—Outlook Is Promising for the Salmon Market.

Einer Byer, a member of the great fish-handling house of Rudolph Kan-zow of Hamburg, Germany, spent yesterday in Astoria, the guest of Samuel Elmore. There is no other concern in the German empire so extensively engaged in the handling of pickled and frozen salmon as the house of Rudolph Kan-zow. Through this house the product of the cold-storage plants of the Columbia River Packers' Association finds its way into the retail markets, and great quantities of Scotch herring are also distributed.

Mr. Byer is one of those Germans who learned English in the schools of his native country. He is about 35 years of age and quite interesting. Slow of speech, his English is at all times accurate, and his idea of America, and particularly the Pacific Northwest, is indeed a high one. He had never before visited this country, and the more he travels the greater becomes his admiration for America and everything American.

Yesterday afternoon Messrs. Byer and Elmore visited the east end cold-storage plant of the Packers. Mr. Byer had never before seen the salmon put through the pickling process. Fortunately there was a goodly supply of salmon on hand, and the visit to the plant proved of great interest to the foreign fishman. He was amazed at the quantity and quality of the fish and pleased beyond measure at the excellence of the methods employed in preparing the salmon for market.

He Likes America.

Mr. Byer came west over the Canadian Pacific railway and stopped for a time at Bamas Springs, B. C. He reached Astoria yesterday.

"What do I think of America?" Mr. Byer repeated after a press representative. "Why, I think it is indeed a great country—the greatest country in the world. Your northwest is destined to become very great and wealthy. You have immense mines of gold, silver, coal and other minerals; great forests of the finest trees in the world; fisheries surpassing in extent those of any other country, and grain fields that can not be equalled anywhere. You have the greatest natural resources I have ever seen, and I look to see the northwest become one of the most prosperous sections of your great country."

Salmon Market Outlook.

"What is the outlook for the pickled and frozen salmon industry, Mr. Byer?" was asked.

"I regard it as most promising. Of course, the business is a growing one and will not attain its proper proportions for some years to come. However, Columbia river salmon is in greater demand every year. There is not a hotel, restaurant, cafe or other similar resort in Germany, including railroad stations, where salmon sandwiches are not to be found. Salmon is growing steadily in popularity and gradually a very extensive market is being created for it. Sharp competition among salmonmen has had the effect of reducing profit to the minimum, and perhaps the additional effect of injuring the market, but this is a condition that will regulate itself in time. Generally speaking, I should say the salmon market outlook is very bright."

Some idea of the immense business of the house of which Mr. Byer is a member can be gained from the statement that it pays annually more than 50,000 marks in cold-storage charges. The firm does not operate storages of its own, as they can be rented almost as cheaply as the house could operate them, and the firm is thereby relieved of all the worry incidental to conduct of the cold-storage department.

Mr. Byer left last night for San Francisco. He will return to Astoria in 10 days, and at that time will study the entire method of catching salmon, visiting the traps and seines and observing the operations of the gillnet fishermen. His researches are calculated to put his firm in closer touch with the salmon business.

Scientists Babk From Orient.

Chicago, July 20.—Prof. Wiley D. Willis, R. H. Sargent and Eliot Black-welder of the Carnegie Institute of Washington, have arrived at Chicago after a year's absence on a scientific expedition in the Orient.

The expedition is said to have produced valuable scientific results.

The most important work was a geological survey in the mountains of China. The scientists penetrated far into the interior of China and visited several provinces in which no white man had ever ventured, going as far as the headwaters of the Yangtze river.

MANY SEAMEN ARE ILL.

Bad Water at Athens Plays Havoc With American Crews.

New York, July 20.—Considerable illness is reported among the officers and men of the American fleet, particularly aboard the flagship Kearsarge, says a Herald dispatch from Trieste. Lieutenant Clement of the Kearsarge, an ordinary seaman, and James T. Foley have typhoid fever and have been taken ashore to a hospital.

Major Williams of the marine corps Lieutenant Budgins, Ensign Timmons and Chaplain Isaacs, all of the Kearsarge, are ill, but not seriously.

Six other officers and men are under close observation because of the high temperatures they show.

Ensign Timms is being nursed on shore in a private sanitarium by his wife, who is a daughter of Senator Fairbanks.

Lieutenant Hudgins, Captain Williams, fleet marine officer; Lieutenant Comander Willis, a fleet engineer and two more sailors also have been taken on shore to the hospital, where they enjoy every care. Bad drinking water used at Athens is believed to have caused the sickness.

WEALTHY LADS GO TO WORK.

Cudahy Boys and Secretary Morton's Brother Don Overalls.

South Omaha, Neb., July 19.—Because their father's packing house at Omaha was on the point of closing on account of the strike of the workmen, Edward I. and Joseph Cudahy, sons of the millionaire, Michael Cudahy, of the Cudahy Packing Company, donned overalls and went to work as common laborers at 19 cents an hour in the packing house.

Down in Nebraska City, Mark Morton, brother of Paul Morton, the new secretary of the navy, also entered the Morton packing plant in the same capacity as did the Cudahy boys in South Omaha. Joseph Cudahy trimmed hams, while Edward carved hogs. Mark Morton shoveled coal. All worked the full 10 hours.

The Cudahy boys are known socially in all eastern cities, while Mr. Morton is a son of J. Sterling Morton of Arbor Day fame.

Chinese Girl May Land.

San Francisco, July 20.—Commissioner of Immigration North has been ordered to land Alice E. Soon, a 15-year-old Chinese, from the steamer Mongolia, where she has been detained since its arrival owing to the fact that her papers were signed by the consul general for Portugal at Shanghai and vided by the American consul there. She came as a student and as she was a native of Macao island, which is under Portugal, the state department has decided that the Portuguese official is authorized to sign students' certificates.

Prolific Parents Congratulated.

Pawtucket, R. I., July 20.—Mr. and Mrs. I. J. White of this city are in receipt of a letter from President Roosevelt through Secretary Loeb on the birth of their 12th child, a son. All the children are alive and in good health.

Woman Shoots Brother-in-Law Over Ownership of Piece of Rope. Eugene, Ore., July 20.—During a quarrel over a piece of rope used to tether a cow, Mrs. James Kinman of Mabel today shot her brother-in-law, W. W. Korn, inflicting injuries from which he may die. The woman is held pending the outcome of her deed.

QUARREL ENDS FATALLY.

Bad Place for Burglars. A Spokane burglar, caught upon the street with his pockets full of plunder, must have remained reprehensibly stubborn in refusing to deny the fact. He was actually arrested and placed behind the bars.—Aberdeen Bulletin.
