

EFFECT NOW BEING FELT

Results of the Great Strike Are Becoming More Pronounced in the Windy City.

THE PICKETING EXTENDED

Strikers Will Seek to Prevent Deliveries From Branch Warehouses and Wholesale Markets.

Chicago, July 28.—Although representatives of the packing companies declare that no further agreements with their striking employes are desired and that no negotiations with them are contemplated, rumors are persistent that two of the big companies, Schwarzschild and Sulzberger and the Cudahy Packing Company are ready to make terms with the men. The effects of the strike on the local trade has begun to be felt in Chicago and from now on it is promised that it will be more pronounced. The picketing heretofore has been confined to the packing plants and the stockyards district, deliveries of meat from the branch warehouses in different parts of the city not being interfered with, but now the strikers say these points as well as the wholesale markets of the big companies will be picketed and an effort made to tie up all distribution.

City meat inspectors report an unusually large quantity of food unfit for use is on the market now. They ascribe it to the fact that shippers are rushing all good products to Chicago to meet the demand caused by the stockyards strike. The condemned goods are chiefly fish and veal.

REVIEW OF IRON MARKET.

Mid-Summer Dullness Characterizes the Buying in the East.

Cleveland, O., July 28.—The Iron Trade Review in reviewing the iron situation this week says:

A moderate increase in pig iron buying has been noticed in the past week but finished material markets have settled farther into mid-summer dullness and have so far refused to make good the reported declarations of Wall street authorities. Now that the steel corporation meeting has been held and the expected action taken in declaring the usual dividend on the preferred stock it may be that the iron market will be allowed for a time to work out its own destiny in the regular way.

Pig iron buying was to be looked for in July, since most consumers aimed to come out even at the end of June with their purchases for the first half, and if inquiries are an index of wants, there are some little business in prospect for August. Cincinnati has had a good share of the activity the past week in foundry iron, a number of Indiana buyers taking round lots. The total is between 5000 and 10,000 tons, to which are to be added several good orders placed by Cincinnati foundries and 4000 ton deliveries in the next four months. Sales of 15,000 to 20,000 tons basic iron are also reported by southern sellers. The quotation of $9.50 by southern furnaces is now quite general but as with previous advances, business lessens when quotations move up. At present $9.25 for No. 2 seems to be the minimum for southern iron, but there is considerable variation in prices on northern foundry iron, particularly in the east, some furnaces have shown more anxiety to get business and have named low figures; others have advanced their quotations in the belief that the outlook justified the refusal of prices that cut too close to cost. In the central west, $11.75 at furnaces for No. 2 is still named. Foundries find no increased demand for castings. From 40 to 50 per cent of the output of a year ago is the average with jobbing foundries and some are running with about one-third force. Under these conditions stocks of pig iron will not decline without a further blowing out of furnaces. Present indications are that the July production of pig iron will fall below that of February, though exceeding the total for January.

FUNSTON GOES TO ALASKA.

Will Tour Army Posts, Making Very Long Journey.

Seattle, July 28.—General Frederick Funston, commanding the department of the Columbia and Alaska, accompanied by Major R. K. Evans, his adjutant general, and Lieutenant B. J. Mitchell, personal aide, arrived last night and will leave this morning for Alaska. They go on a tour of inspection of all the army posts in Alaska, a journey

Involving thousands of miles of travel, from the Canadian boundary line to Cape Nome. The trip will occupy all summer. On his return General Funston will go to New York to take command of the department of the east.

Another Freak Breaks Out.

St. Louis, July 28.—Hitched to a sulky cultivator, William Hoyt pulled his wife and their four-year-old son all the way from Moline, Ill., to the world's fair.

Mr. Hoyt set out upon a wager and covered the distance of 315 miles in just one month, thus winning his bet of $1000 and incidentally obtaining an experience which, he said, he would not have missed for any amount.

MOUNT TABOR GIRL WEDS RICH CHINESE MERCHANT

Was at Work in His Hoptfield When the Celestial Fell in Love and Started His Courtship.

Portland Telegram: Emma Schrum is a white girl, her folks living at Mount Tabor. In her childhood days, like most of her playmates, she laughed at the Chinese peddlers when annoyed by bad boys throwing rocks after them as they passed along in the quiet and peaceful way characteristic of the Chinese when in a strange land. Little then did she dream that some day she would swear lifelong allegiance to one of them, and had any one dared tell her so trouble would have followed. But Cupid's darts are sometimes aimed in a strange direction and with remarkable results, and after a year's courtship sweet-faced Miss Emma, aged 21, has become the better half of Sing Lope, aged 46, and a Celestial of great wealth.

The wedding, which came about in a most romantic way, was held the other day at Vancouver, Wash., and was performed in true American style, a justice of the peace officiating. Some way or other, the facts remained buried, although there was no particular reason for secrecy, for Sing is a highly respected man of his race, and the girl has many friends. After the ceremony, which was performed in the presence of an attorney and a wealthy Chinese merchant from Portland, the bridal couple crossed the Columbia on the ferry and then hurried on to Portland, in an electric car. It was nearly supper time when they reached the city, and the groom, contrary to the customs of the whites, secured the services of a Chinese caterer and invited a lot of friends to dine with him for the last time before settling down to married life. His guests were attired in loose trousers and wide blouses and the rooms where the feast was held bore every indication of Chinese occupation. This being a little too much oriental for the new Mrs. Lope, she bade the party goodby for the afternoon and went to her old home at Mount Tabor.

A few days later the happy couple took possession of the groom's 80-acre hoptyard at Gresham, where they will be at home to their friends, and all is said to be running along "smooth as smooth can be."

The girl, who flinched not at wedding outside of her own race, will have considerable to say concerning the operation of one of the largest hoptfields in the state, and it is due entirely to the existence of this yard that Miss Emma Schrum is today the wife of the wealthy Celestial. About a year ago when the hops were ready to be plucked—Emma decided upon going out into the fields to make a little pinmoney, and also incidentally to have a bit of recreation in the healthy hoptfields.

She worked so well and industriously that Sing, the proprietor, could not help admiring the girl from Mount Tabor, and he spoke to her about hops and things until at last the two were pretty well acquainted. The hops were picked, baled and eventually disposed of at a handsome profit, but all the while Sing could not forget the pretty white maiden who had helped him to reap his harvest. The knowledge of having ample funds to give a woman a comfortable home gave the hoptgrower courage to propose, so his friends say, and the ceremony in Vancouver shows that he knew how, even though his language is somewhat broken and his hair not parted in the middle.

But, in this connection, it might be said that to one of the witnesses at the wedding Sing confided that soon his queue would be a thing of the past; that he would adopt the customs of a white man as much as possible in order to overcome the racial contrast of the two who are now one.

SALOONS IN THE STREETS.

How Booze Dispensers of Vale Beat the Sunday Closing Law.

That man-made law is not always invulnerable is proven by a letter which has been received in Portland from Vale, county seat of Malheur county, Ore., and headquarters for cattle and sheepmen, a trading center and "celebration point." Despite vigorous action by the city council, as the result of a reform movement for Sunday closing, and the passage of an ordinance requiring that all saloons must be shut up tight on the Sabbath, those whose thirst impels them to seek intoxicants may still slake their thirsts on the first day of the week. However, they must drink in the open air—for the regulation about closing saloons is rigidly obeyed. The booze is dispensed from bars erected and operated in the street.

As a result of a local reform movement, the Vale council, passed an ordinance prohibiting saloons from opening on Sunday. This was a hard blow at the saloon-keepers, whose chief trade comes from cowboys and ranchmen, that generally spend their Sundays in town.

Since Vale was a little way station—long before it became a county seat, back in the '80s, a man had never been forced to go thirsty on Sunday within the town, and the new order created consternation. When the men on some of the large ranches in the interior wanted to go on a lark they could dispatch a man on horseback to Vale on any day or any night and get the necessary liquid without any trouble.

So, when the Sunday law went into effect there was widespread mourning. But the saloon-keepers in Vale are evidently men with wits, for they finally hit upon a most successful plan of getting around the ordinance. There was nothing in the new regulation to say that whisky should not be sold on Sunday—it only said keep saloons closed. So, when Sunday morning came, bars were placed out on the street where men could come and quench their thirst at will, while the saloons were closed, according to the provisions of the ordinance. The salesmen were duly provided with licenses and escaped arrest.

Whether the reform element is going to have an ordinance passed to prevent intoxicating liquor from being sold on the streets on Sunday has not yet been learned, but it is probable if this is done the wide-awake saloon-keepers will find some way of getting around it, also.

Sonoma County Hop Crop.

Santa Rosa, Cal., July 28.—Sonoma county's hop crop this year is placed at 20,000 bales, a conservative estimate and a considerable increase over the previous season. The present season has been a splendid one for hops, the cool weather holding the blooms back properly. The yield of the state is estimated at about 55,000 bales and Sonoma county will furnish more than one-third of the amount.

Brutally Tortured.

"I would cough nearly all night long," writes Mrs. Chas. Applegate of Alexandria, Ind., "and could hardly get any sleep. I had consumption so bad that if I walked a block I would cough frightfully and spit blood, but, when all other medicines failed, three $1.00 bottles of Dr. King's New Discovery wholly cured me and I gained 53 pounds." It's absolutely guaranteed to cure Coughs, Colds, La Grippe, Bronchitis and all Throat and Lung Troubles. Price 50c and $1.00. Trial bottles free at Chas. Rogers' drug store.

The beer that made Milwaukee famous—Schlitz—is always on draught at The Grotto. Otto Mikkelsen, proprietor.

BABY'S ECZEMA

Top of Head Covered with Scales Which Peeled off Taking Hair with Them.

CURED BY CUTICURA

Now Six Years Old with Thick Hair and Clean Scalp. Cure Permanent.

"My baby was about six weeks old when the top of her head became covered with thick scales, which would peel and come off, taking the hair with it. It would soon form again and be as bad as before. I tried several things and then went to the doctor. He said it was Eczema, and prescribed an ointment, which did not do any good. A friend spoke of Cuticura Soap. I tried it and read on the wrapper about Cuticura Ointment as a remedy for Eczema. I bought a box and washed her head in warm water and Cuticura Soap and gently combed the scales off. They did not come back and her hair grew out fine and thick. She is now a year and a half old and has no trace of Eczema."

MRS. C. W. BURGESS, Iranistan Ave., Bridgeport, Conn., Feb. 21, 1898. Mrs. Burgess writes Feb. 28, 1903: "My baby, who had Eczema very badly on her head, as I told you before, after using the Cuticura Remedies was cured. She is now six years old and has thick hair and a clean scalp."

Instant relief and refreshing sleep for skin-tortured babies and rest for tired, worried mothers in warm baths with Cuticura Soap, and gentle anointings with Cuticura Ointment, purest of emollients and greatest of skin cures, to be followed in severe cases by mild doses of Cuticura Resolvent. This is the purest, sweetest, most speedy, permanent and economical treatment for torturing, disfiguring, itching, burning, bleeding, scaly, crusted and pimply skin and scalp humors, with loss of hair, of infants and children, as well as adults, and is sure to succeed when all other remedies and the best physicians fail.
