

Seaside Social Events of the Week

Seaside, July 30.—The excellent service on the A. & C. R. R. is bringing more people to Seaside this season than ever before. There is hardly a vacant cottage in the place, and it will soon be difficult to get accommodations at any of the hotels without previously applying for them. The extreme personal popularity of Mr. and Mrs. Dan J. Moore is making it an impossibility for their friends, and their friends' friends, to go any place else for the summer. Seaside house, Locksley Hall, Necanicum Inn and Gearhart hotel are all holding their own. From the number of people registered from California and other states, it is apparent that Clatsop beach has a widespread reputation as one of the fashionable summer resorts of the Pacific coast.

Quite a number of people from Astoria have been attending the dancing parties and other social affairs. One

Mrs. C. W. Knowles entertained at luncheon Wednesday, in honor of her guest, Mrs. W. W. Spaulding. Halcyon Lodge, which is one of the most artistic homes in Seaside, was charmingly decorated for the occasion, with dahlias and ferns. In a gymnastic contest, which aroused great enthusiasm among the guests, the prizes were won by Mrs. Troyer and Mrs. Gordon. After luncheon was served "five hundred" was played. The first prize was won Miss Fisher, Miss Hartner and Mr. Schulderman by a score of 94 to 90.

Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Tallant were the guests of Mrs. C. W. Knowles at Halcyon Lodge last Sunday.

Mrs. C. Clarke and Miss Jean Clarke, who are very popular in Glendale, are at the Hotel Moore.

Mr. George Ohler and Mr. Frank Woodfield, of Astoria, attended the dance Saturday evening.

Mr. Oscar Hayter and wife, of Dallas, spent several days of their honeymoon at "The Moore" this week.

Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Webber are occupying the "Hilcrest" cottage for the summer.

of the pleasantest parties of the week was given by Mrs. F. P. Kendall, Mrs. C. W. Knowles and Mrs. L. N. Fleischner also entertained. A number of picnics and parties are anticipated for the coming week, among which are trips to Elk creek and Thompson's falls.

A great many people came from Portland to stay over Sunday at the beach, and the easy accessibility of Seaside makes it the favorite resort for busy city people who have a day to spare.

The largest party of the season was given Thursday by Mrs. F. P. Kendall at "Crow's Nest," in honor of Mrs. Neal and Mrs. Troyer. The house and grounds were beautifully decorated with elder berries, ferns and Chinese lanterns and umbrellas, the prevailing colors being red and green. A spirited guessing contest aroused much interest. Cards bearing the picture of a ship were passed, and inside were found 20 questions to be answered by the names of various parts of the ship. The first prize was won by Mrs. E. W. Tallant, the second by Mrs. H. D. Thing and the third by Mrs. George C. Flavel. Some of Mrs. Kendall's most charming girl friends assisted in serving the luncheon. They were: Misses Margaret and Helen Taylor, Hattie and Alice Cooper, Hattie Jacobson, Ada and Florence Kendall, Madge Fulton, Dorothy Thomson, Ruby Hamerston and Mildred Smith. The invited guests were:

Mrs. Clara Reames is chaperoning a party of young people at "Lomna." They are: Miss Wilma Young, Miss Ella Gamble, Miss Gladys Graham, Mr. Arthur Young and Mr. Sigfried Young.

A number of Indians from other tribes are visiting the camp near Seaside. They have a fine collection of baskets and are doing a flourishing business among the summer visitors.

Bowling is one of the favorite amusements at Gearhart hotel. In a contest Tuesday evening Mr. Stone, Mrs. Brougher, Mrs. Schulderman and Miss Brown defeated Dr. Brougher, by Mrs. S. G. Allen and the booby by Mrs. Kendall. Mrs. Knowles' guests were: Mrs. W. W. Spaulding, Mrs. H. H. Neal, Mrs. N. Troyer, Mrs. F. P. Kendall, Mrs. Dan J. Moore, Mrs. Phil Metachan, Mrs. S. G. Allen, Mrs. W. A. Gordon, Mrs. Frank Dayton.

A picnic crowd, carrying their luncheon and supper, left Seaside Tuesday morning and spent the entire day at the "Old Orchard," on Elk Creek road. They returned late in the evening, and no questions were needed to see what a delightful time they had. Those in the party were: Mesdames F. P. Kendall, C. H. Cooper, A. Campbell, A. Mackenzie, J. H. Smith, N. Troyer, Misses Ada and Florence Kendall, A. Mason, E. Mackenzie, Mildred Smith, Hattie and Alice Cooper, Miriam Mackenzie, Bessie Cordiner, Hazel Robb, Messrs. Neal Kendall, Jack Smith, Kenneth Mackenzie.

"Harcelwold" bore quite a festive appearance Wednesday evening, the occasion being a card party given by Mrs. L. N. Fleischner, who is always the same charming hostess. The living room was decorated with nasturtiums and the dining room with dahlias. "Five hundred" and euchre were played, after which delicious refreshments were served. Besides her own party, Mrs. Fleischner's guests were: Miss Teresa Rothchild, Miss Carrie Friendly, Miss Rosalie Friendly, Miss Amy Siller, Mrs. Frederick Siller, Miss Florence Koshland, Mr. and Mrs. Theo. Bernhard, Mrs. I. Lowengart, Mrs. G. Gerst, Mrs. S. Cohen.

A large bonfire was built in the grounds at Necanicum Inn Friday evening, in honor of the choir boys from Trinity church. Excellent music and various games were the amusements, and it is safe to say that every boy present enjoyed himself.
