CAMPAIGN TEXT BOOK

Republican Manual for the Presidential Year 1904 an Interesting Political Document.

OUTLINES PARTY'S POLICY

Claims All Pledges Have Been Redeemed and That Prosperity Has Come to the Country.

The republican campaign textbook of 1904 is just about to be issued. A synopsis of the book prepared by the republican campaign committee, says the four great facts which justified the republican party in asking the support of the public in 1900 were:

"First—That its pledges of 1896 had been redeemed.

"Second—That prosperity had come as a result.

"Third—That developments since 1896 had shown the fallacy of the principles upon which the democracy then appealed for public support.

"Fourth—The condition which had come to other parts of the world and their people as a result of promises fulfilled by the republican party in the United States."

The book then goes on to say that these assertions made in the textbook of 1900 have been fully justified by the added experiences of another four years. The pledges of 1896 and those made in 1900 have been redeemed. The protective tariff has been restored, the gold standard made permanent; Cuba freed and given independence; the Panama canal assured under the sole ownership and control of the United States; a department of commerce and labor established; rural free delivery given to millions of the agricultural community; the laws for the proper regulation of trusts and great corporations strengthened and enforced; prosperity established; commerce developed; labor paid and given ample employment and reward; intelligence, prosperity and good government established in distant islands and the flag of the United States made the emblem of honor in every part of the world.

All of these great accomplishments, it is pointed out, have been the work of the republican party. In each of them it has met the discouragement, the opposition and the hostility of the democracy. It is upon this additional evidence of the past four years, evidence that the republican party is the party of progress and the democracy the party of inaction, retardment, fault-finding, that the party again confidently appeals for public support in the presidential elections of 1904.

Every feature of the prospective campaign is considered with fairness, and all available information bearing upon the subjects is presented. The claim that the protective tariff increases prices is met with facts and figures from the economic history of the United States and other countries which fully show the inaccuracy of the charge, while the relative prosperity of countries having low and protective tariffs, respectively, is also shown from official figures.

The chapter on labor wages shows beyond a question, as a result of thorough official investigation, that the advance in wages during the past decade has been greater than the advance in the cost of living, the figures being based upon retail prices, the prices which the public must pay for the articles consumed, while it is also shown that the rate of wages now being paid in the United States is higher than have ever been paid in this or any other country.

The book also contains a sketch of the life and work of President Roosevelt and of Senator Fairbanks.

NOTES ON OREGON CROPS.

Data for the Week Ending August 16 Collected by Officials.

The following notes on climatic conditions and crops in the state and especially in the neighboring counties are compiled and extracted from the official bulletin of yesterday:

Throughout the state in general the past week has been dry, warm and in some sections disagreeably smoky—owing to the numerous forest fires. The grain harvest has proceeded uninterrupted, and in the Willamette valley and the southern part of the state most of the fall grain has been thrashed. Fall wheat yields east of the Cascades continue excellent, but in the Willamette valley and southern Oregon only an average crop has been secured. Early seeded spring wheat made a good crop, and that seeded late is turning out better than expected, notwithstanding which much of it has already been cut for hay on account of the straw being too short to be harvested with binders. Oats are below the average in quantity. Barley yields are variable, but mostly good. The quality of all grain this year is better than usual.

Pasturage is getting very short and the milk supply in the dairy districts is diminishing. Hop burs are forming nicely and the vines continue free of lice. It is expected that even with favorable weather from now on the hop crop will be smaller than last year, notwithstanding the increased acreage. Corn is doing nicely, but it would be benefited by rain, while potatoes and gardens are actually suffering for moisture; late planted potatoes will, however, turn out well if good rains occur within the next two weeks. Early apples, Crawford peaches and blackberries are ripe and being marketed.

R. A. Abbott, of Warrenton, Clatsop county, reports as follows: The week has been warm and dry, with fog and smoke. Rain is needed. Oat hay is about all cut and housed. Stock cattle are losing flesh and milk cows drying up, as the pastures on the uplands are very dry. Root crops where they have been well cultivated are good. Sweet corn is about ready for the table. Evergreen blackberries are ripening and apples are better than they have been for several years.

In Tillamook county fogs and dews have been beneficial to fruits and vegetables. Prunes and plums are yielding better crops than expected earlier in the season.

In Polk county gardens on the uplands are a practical failure this season.

In Marion county plums, pears, apples and prunes will yield abundantly. Coos county reports corn and vegetables in fine condition and fruits plentiful.

A general survey of the state shows that while crop prospects are not as good as usual in Oregon, there will be plenty and to spare of almost every product grown.

Evidence of Cleanliness.

When the late ex-Speaker Thomas B. Reed was in California, says the Youth's Companion, he visited the Lick observatory on Mount Hamilton. It was a wonderful November day, full of gold and the bloom of flowers. Mr. Reed looked down at the gorgeous landscape 4600 feet below, and, turning to one of his hosts, said:

"Colonel, this looks too much like a special display got up in honor of the occasion. Tell me what typical winter day in California is really like."

The Californian thought at once of a day in February, so warm that after a morning bath he had lain in a hammock outdoors, smelled the roses on the trellis and listened to the trill of the meadowlark among the almond blooms.

He began to describe it eloquently: "Thirteen years ago, on February 22, I took a bath—"

He paused to arrange his account of the roses and the meadowlark. Mr. Reed broke the pause.

"Well, Colonel, he said, in admiration, "you do know something about cleanliness out here, don't you?"

You don't close your store for a day every once in a while—but that would be as wise as to drop your newspaper advertising for a day now and then.

A WOMAN TO BE PRETTY

Must Have Luxuriant and Glossy Hair, No Matter What Color.

The finest contour of a female face, the sweetest smile of a female mouth, loses something if the head is crowned with scant hair. Scant and falling hair, it is now known, is caused by a parasite that burrows into the scalp to the root of the hair, where it saps the vitality. The little white scales the germ throws up in burrowing are called dandruff. To cure dandruff permanently, then, and to stop falling hair, that germ must be killed. Newbro's Herpicide, an entirely new result of the chemical laboratory, destroys the dandruff germ, and, of course, stops the falling hair, and prevents baldness. Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c. in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.
