QUEER GOIN AT FAIRS.

One Method Employed by Fakirs to Earn Small Sums.

The counterfeiting of small coins, for which offense a dozen men have been arrested in Pennsylvania and New Jersey within the past ten days, is given impetus every year at this season, according to secret service operatives, by the approach of the "country fair." The operatives say that the opportunities to pass bad money at the many state and county fairs throughout the east are such that small counterfeiter, thieves and the worst class of fakirs cannot let them pass.

Some men who follow the circuit of fairs will do anything except work honestly, to make a little money, and they turn to moulding of cheap counterfeits to get small capital to start some faking enterprise, or to use, in connection with operation of such enterprise at the fairs. As a result there is usually counterfeiting going on on a small scale in many places throughout the east at this season.

These makers of small coins move from place to place, and when the fair opens the farmer, the farm hand, and the country young man who takes his sweetheart to the country exhibition get as many of these counterfeits as the fair fakir can turn over in exchange for good money. It is believed that the so-called tramps who were found making counterfeits near Burlington, N. J., and others recently arrested by Chief Matthew F. Griffin and his subordinates of the Philadelphia secret service bureau belong to a syndicate that was preparing for the fairs.

Oscar Dellucci, Picola Cervino and Andrew Tilly of Paterson, arrested a week ago at Allerton, charged with making counterfeit half-dollars, and were taken to Philadelphia by United States Deputy Marshal Helms to await trial, were, it is alleged, of a separate gang, which the secret service operatives have been watching for a long time. The prisoners are, according to Chief Griffin, identified with Italian counterfeiter who have made their headquarters at Trenton, Paterson and New York. Dellucci, Cervino and Tilly were traced from Paterson to Allerton after the secret service men had unearthed a counterfeiting plant at Paterson. It is alleged the trio were putting out the counterfeits which were made at Paterson. They are under $200 bail each for trial.

Polite Ever.

The Japanese proprietor of a tea shop in the east end of London has been much annoyed by the incessant howling of his neighbor's dog under his window while he was trying to sleep. There came a night when his patience gave way. He raised the window, stuck his head out and called to his neighbor in terms that indicated that his English environment was gradually undermining his native politeness. "Mist' Jones" he said, "will you do the kindness for request the honorable dog that he stop his honorable bark? If you don't, by gosh, I knock his jam head off!"—Irish Weekly Times.

End of Bitter Fight.

"Two physicians had a long and stubborn fight with an abscess on my right lung," writes J. F. Hughes, of DuPont, Ga., "and gave me up. Everybody thought my time had come. As a last resort I tried Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption. The benefit I received was striking and I was on my feet in a few days. Now I've entirely regained my health." It conquers all Coughs, Colds and Throat and Lung troubles. Guaranteed by Chas. Rogers' drug store. Price 50c and $1.00. Trial bottles free.
