...SOCIETY...

Miss Reba Hobson spent the week with friends in Portland.

Mrs. A. J. Taylor and daughter Marble have gone to Oakland, Cal.

Miss Sue Elmore visited Mrs. C. Bell in Portland during the past week.

Hon. J. G. Megler and Mrs. Megler of Brookfield spent Tuesday in the city.

Grover W. Utzinger has gone to San Francisco for a two weeks' pleasure trip.

Frederick Warren of Warrenton has gone to Princeton, N. J., to attend college.

Miss Sally Gray has gone to the Nehalem valley, where she will spend the winter teaching school.

The Ladies' Aid Society of the Methodist church and their friends were entertained by Mrs. Grimm on Thursday afternoon in honor of Mrs. M. Bozorth, who will soon leave for Portland, where she will reside.

Mrs. P. L. Cherry entertained a few young ladies on Wednesday afternoon at her home on Fifteenth street in honor of Miss Marge Halstead of Oakland, Cal. The rooms throughout the house were prettily decorated with cut flowers and those present spent a pleasant afternoon playing games. Those who received invitations were the Misses Harriet Tallant, Hannah Adair, Sadie Crang, Elsie Elmore, May Morgan, Violet Bowby and the Mesdames A. A. Finch, R. Carruthers and William E. Tallant.

Miss Nellie Busey entertained the members of the Epworth league and their friends on Friday evening in honor of Miss Carrie Bozorth and Miss Elsie Larson, who will soon go to Portland to reside. The rooms throughout the Busey home on Irving avenue were prettily decorated with sweet peas, nasturtiums and evergreens and the refreshments served were in the league colors of red and white. Games and music were provided for the amusement of those present and those taking part in the music were Mr. Johnson, Clarence Hanson, Miss Larson, Mr. George Watkins and Mr. Johnson.

Mrs. Swift and Miss Violet Bowby entertained a number of their friends with a reception yesterday afternoon.

Miss Beattie Reed was the entertainer of the Saturday Afternoon Club this week at her home on Bond street. The game of five hundred was played by those present and Miss Lonclie Cole and Miss Mary Barry won the prizes.

The members of the M. M. & M. Club returned from a very enjoyable two weeks' outing at Seaside on Monday. They resided at the Kendall Cottage and boating parties, horseback riding and bathing in the surf were the chief amusements enjoyed by those who took part in the outing, who were the Misses Sadie, Crang, Harriet Tallant, Elsie Elmore, Virginia White of Oakland, Cal., Floretta Elmore, Marge Halstead of Los Angeles, Sue H. Elmore, Margaret Higgins, Reba Hobson, Nan Reed, Olga Heilborn, Nellie Sherman and the Mesdames William E. Tallant, Horace Thing, Arthur A. Finch, Judge of Portland and the Messrs. Thing, F. Harraden, Dr. Finch, Frank Greenough, Lewton, William Whittier, L. L. Paget and L. C. Farrell.

Jessie Garner entertained a number of her little friends on Tuesday afternoon in honor of her seventh birthday anniversary. The rooms of the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Aubrey Garner, on Irving avenue, were prettily decorated with cut flowers and the birthday table was very artistically arranged with red candles and flowers with evergreens interwoven while dainty little baskets of candy formed the place cards. Mrs. Garner was assisted in entertaining the little people by the Misses Ruth Garner, Ruby Hamnerstrom and Gertrude Barker, while the children present to spend a long to be remembered afternoon were Emory Smith, Constance Fulton, Dorothy Montgomery, Ruth McIntosh, Lenore McGregor, Sara Barker, Bernice McGregor, Marjorie Barker, Grace Hamnerstrom, Earl Holmes and Allen Ferris of Portland.

IRENE FRANKLIN,

Famous Cornetist who will appear at the Star Theater this week.

A BRAVNY EVANGELIST.

He First Whipped a Bully and Then Brought Him to Church.

An exchange tells the following story about the late Sam Rozel, the great Virginian evangelist, who in his day was one of the best known pulpit orators in the South:

"Sam Rozel was a very big man and had a wide reputation for physical strength. In his college days he came off the field of combat, usually a circumscribed and secluded area of the campus, wearing the laurel of victory on many occasions, and after he became a preacher, stories of his physical prowess were spread far and near.

"One day he went to a village to hold a protracted meeting. The village blacksmith, who was a very big man, and who was recognized, especially among the tavern habitués, as a pugilistic wonder, heard about the coming of Rozel, and the villagers did not fail to tell him all they had heard about the size of the parson's arm and the length of his legs, and of the convincing way he had of closing an argument with his fists.

"All this nettled the smith considerably, so when Rozel reached the town he sought him out and asked him to fight.

"Rozel, of course, said he did not want to fight, but the smith kept on insisting, and finally Rozel became angry and agreed to gratify the fellow. As he rolled over on the other side of the fence, however, he called out: "They fought. Rozel literally wiped up the ground with the big man. When he had pounded him until the poor, vanquished bully" was gasping hard, Rozel picked him up and threw him over a fence. "The blacksmith had not said a word since the affray began up to this point. Baltimore Sun.
