secure the punishment of bookmakers.

"Today, for the first time in 40 years," the report declares, "there is not a policy company operating within the city limits. When the association began its efforts, in May, 1902, there were 1200 to 1500 policy writers operating in every quarter of the city."

JAPANESE AND RUSSIANS ARE PREPARING FOR NEW DISPOSITIONS OF FORCES

Both Sides Taking Advantage of Heavy Downpour to Reform Their Troops for Next Struggle.

St. Petersburg Advises Say That Japanese Movements Are Not Clear and That Brown Men May Spring Another Surprise on the Slavs—Russians Charged With Having Employed Chinese Uniforms.

There has been an end for the time being of the fighting on a large scale which began when, on October 9, Kurapatkin announced that the time had arrived for an advance against the Japanese. Heavy rains and consequent bad roads make military operations extremely difficult, if not impossible. The interruption, according to advices received at St. Petersburg, is being utilized by both Russian and Japanese commanders in making new dispositions of forces, and new objective points are likely to develop when active operations are resumed.

A Tokio dispatch states that the Japanese government will seek to make representations to St. Petersburg through the American embassy against the alleged use of Chinese uniforms by the Russian troops, in violation of the usages of war.

Russia is hastening organization of the second Manchurian army.

MOVEMENTS ARE VEILED.

Japs May Be Preparing to Spring Another Surprise.

St. Petersburg, Oct. 20.—For the moment heavy rain and impassable roads have compelled a suspension of operations in Manchuria.

There was practically no fighting yesterday.

Evidence has developed of a new disposition of forces on both sides. Kurapatkin is extending his right, but whether with a view of a turning movement for the safety of Lone Tree hill, the importance of which point is fully realized by the Japanese, who have attempted to retake it in two night attacks, or whether to meet and thwart the Japanese turning movement from the west, is not known. The Japanese also appear to be shifting their weight westward.

Veiled hints continue that the Russians have recovered from the blow inflicted by Oyama, and that Kurapatkin is preparing for a new struggle so soon as the roads become dry. Associated Press dispatches from Mukden tonight mention reports that the Japanese are already preparing to retire, and the war office admits that Kurapatkin's left has again moved slightly forward, but no light is shed upon the movements of the Japanese. There is an utter lack of late news from Tokio, and an enemy so resourceful may really be preparing a surprise movement instead of a retreat.

REGARDED AS JAP VICTORY.

British Critics Look Upon Battle of Shakhe in That Light.

London, Oct. 20.—English newspapers and military critics find it difficult to apportion the exact strategic significance attaching to Kurapatkin's action on the Shakhe river. It is supposed his success here was due to having kept three divisions of troops in reserve, and it is admitted the attack on Lone Tree hill may have been an intentional counterstroke after drawing out the Japanese from strong positions. The balance of opinion, however, favors the idea that it was a desperate endeavor to cover a retreat of his forces from the Benschu district, and that the battle of Shakhe may be considered to have ended in victory, but not in a decisive one, for the Japanese, who were too exhausted to follow up their success.

USE CHINESE COSTUMES.

Russian Troops' Subterfuge to Be Protested Against.

Tokio, Oct. 20.—The Japanese government yesterday decided to draw the attention of the Russian government to the unlawful action of Russian troops in using Chinese costumes. The notice will be served through the American state department, which will transmit it through the American embassy at St. Petersburg.

A memorandum issued by the foreign office says that on October 4 a body of infantry belonging to the Russian third regiment of sharpshooters, wearing Chinese costumes, attacked the Japanese forces on the Mukden road, and that Russians similarly clad approached the Japanese lines and attempted surprises. Different reports received, it is charged, indicate that the Russians are purchasing large quantities of Chinese costumes.

The memorandum points out that combatants not properly uniformed are liable to punishment as offenders against the laws of war, and that participation in fighting without uniforms is a violation of international usage, an unlawful act and contrary to the meaning of article 23 of the supplementary rules of the convention governing the laws and customs of war on land.

It is pointed out further that this action of Russian troops will prove a source of great calamity to innocent Chinese, who will thereby be exposed to danger owing to their inability from distances to distinguish the Russian soldiers from the real Chinese.

FIGHTING IS DESULTORY.

Battles Not so Fierce as Those Which Occurred Last Week.

With the Russian Army, Oct. 18 (by courier to Mukden, via Pekin, Oct. 20).—The fighting which lulled for a time on October 15, was renewed on October 16, when the Russians holding positions on the north bank of the Shakhe river continually exchanged an artillery fire with the Japanese.

The hardest fighting was in the center, where two regiments of Russian infantry made a desperate attack on the night of October 16, capturing two Japanese batteries of eight guns each. It was an expensive undertaking, however, as the Russians lost a great many men. The colonel commanding was dangerously wounded. The Japanese were compelled to destroy their ammunition. The fighting all that night was most severe, both sides suffering heavily. During the progress of the infantry fight the artillery kept up a bombardment.

On the morning of October 17 the Russian center held positions 12 miles south of Mukden on the main wagon road, while the left had fallen farther back to the northeast. Just before noon the Japanese guns found the main road and a village, shelling them with shrapnel and shrapnel powder contact shells, but without doing any great damage.

Toward evening the battle lulled, but during the night the Russian center made two combined infantry and artillery attacks, which resulted in the securing of new positions about half a mile in advance. These attacks were made during a downpour of rain, and were successful in giving the Russians possession of a small stretch of the ground over which they retired last week.

Today a long line of wounded is being taken to hospitals in Mukden through a cold and drizzling rain and over a road which is covered with mud knee deep.

The Japanese today confined themselves to throwing occasional volleys of shrapnel at the Russian batteries, which kept up a continual bombardment.

While the battle still continues, it is a small affair compared with that of last week. The fighting now is entirely on the plain.

The Japanese apparently are satisfied with having stopped the Russian advance and with having brought their own line to the Shakhe river.

LIPTON MAY TRY AGAIN.

Will Challenge for America's Cup if He Finds New Designer.

London, Oct. 20.—Discussing the probabilities of a challenge for the America's cup, the Yachting World says:

"There is less justification for the assumption that Sir Thomas Lipton's regrettable withdrawal means total collapse of all chances of immediate reopening of the recent contest. The recent negotiations on the part of Kenneth M. Clarke, one of the foremost Clyde racing owners, bring it well within the bounds of possibility that he may enter the contest."

Sir Thomas Lipton was shown the Yachting World's article today and said it was utterly incorrect to assume that he had abandoned the idea of challenging for the America's cup. He had, he said, faced great difficulties in securing a designer, but had not given up.

COMPROMISE OFFERED.

Boston, Oct. 19.—An attempt was made today by the committee on canons of the Episcopal house of deputies to arrange a compromise between that body and the house of bishops. The committee on canons offered a resolution compelling divorced persons seeking remarriage to wait one year after the decree of the court for solemnization of the ceremony. After some debate the divorce issue was made a special order for tomorrow.

POOLROOM ORDINANCE IS ENACTED

Portland Council Overrules Veto of Mayor Williams by Vote of 9 to 2 at Yesterday's Meeting.

Majority Determine Upon Action at Caucus Held Prior to the Session.

OPERATIONS TO BE RESUMED

All Poolrooms Closed by Council in June Will Be Reopened, Paying Quarterly License of $300.

Portland, Oct. 19.—By a vote of 9 to 2, the city council today voted down the veto of Mayor Williams and passed the poolroom ordinance. All of the councilmen were present at the meeting. Mr. Sigler having arrived from California this morning. Prior to the meeting the friends of the measure held a conference, and it was there decided to override the veto of the mayor.

The councilmen who voted to uphold the veto were Messrs. Albee and Flegel, while those who opposed him were Messrs. Bentley, Foeller, Merrill, Rumelin, Sharkey, Sberrett, Sigler, Whiting and Zimmerman.

Mr. Zimmerman said he would favor the ordinance because of the fact that the city needed the money. He pointed out that the fair would require a greatly enlarged police force and that more funds would be needed. He said he believed the gamblers, who enjoy municipal protection and improvements, ought to be made to contribute their share, and that this could only be accomplished by taxing them. He stated that a man had offered the city $2000 to be permitted to operate slot machines, but that Mayor Williams would not agree to the proposal. He referred to the action of Chief Hunt in closing the machines and then permitting the operators to resume business, and intimated that the showing was not a favorable one.

Councilman Albee said that he realized that the veto would be overridden, and that any statement he might make would not help the situation. He expressed the belief that it would be just as reasonable to license highwaymen on the ground that they would continue to ply their vocation as to license gamblers.

The ordinance which becomes effective provides for a quarterly license of $300. It is expected that the poolrooms which were closed by the council in June will be immediately reopened.

SCHOONER GOES ASHORE.

Alice Kimball Wrecked Mile South of Mouth of Siuslaw.

Eugene, Ore., Oct. 19.—The schooner Alice Kimball, from San Francisco to Florence, after a load of lumber from the Siuslaw Lumber Company's mill, is ashore a mile south of the mouth of the Siuslaw, and it is believed will be a total wreck. The vessel arrived off the mouth of the river Saturday night and anchored, waiting for a tug to tow her in next morning. A storm came up, two different anchor chains broke, and during the terrific gale of Sunday morning the vessel was driven ashore.

The crew of seven men swam ashore, secured a rowboat, and with great difficulty rescued the owner of the schooner, George Martin, and his wife, who were still aboard. The vessel is fast breaking up. There is said to be no insurance.
