A large force of men is at work repairing and rebuilding the government jetty, and as soon as the appropriation is available and good weather sets in a large force will be put at work.

A good quality of coal is the most satisfactory and economical fuel you can use. Poor coal, like poor wood, is only an aggravation. High grade coal is far cheaper than any other fuel. Elmore & Co. sell only the best and deliver it in any part of the city, in sacks or lumps. Ring up phone 1961.

Owing to a fog Sunday night at the corner of Bond and Fourteenth streets the fire department was called out. The fog was put out before the department arrived and its services were not needed. We have heard of fog so thick you could cut it with a knife, but this is the first instance on record where it caught on fire.

More White Pine cough syrup has been sold in Astoria this winter than any other kind, because it gives instant relief. The Owl and Eagle drug store are sole agents for all the best goods.

The Hoefler Catering Company has leased a large strip of land at Seaside running from the west end of the bridge to the line fence at Hermosa park, including the building formerly occupied by F. Dresser & Co. as a store. The company will erect a large building on part of the property for an ice cream and confectionery store this summer.

J. H. Johansen, mayor of Seaside, was in the city Sunday. He reports business improving in Oregon's popular summer resort. He states that the Seaside water system paid for itself in the recent fire at the mill, owing to which the mill property was saved from destruction by fire. He will build a large store near the lower bridge this spring.

The Freight Agents' Association held a meeting Saturday at which the resignation of R. V. Jones was accepted and Giles B. Johnson elected to the vacancy. The Callender Navigation Co. was admitted to membership. The following officers were elected: President, G. W. Roberts; vice president, Giles B. Johnson; secretary and treasurer, C. H. Callender.

Chris Nelson, a fisherman living in a cove at Knappa, was drowned Sunday. It is stated that he was intoxicated Saturday night which was the last seen of him and as he did not show up Sunday morning several men dragged the river and recovered the body. The back yards of some residences and the vacant lots adjoining residences, are not beautified by making them a dumping ground for tin cans, rubber boots and swill. The sanitary regulations of Astoria are not enforced and there are many disease-breeding spots that are a disgrace to the city. It is just as essential that the back yards be kept clean as the front yards and the conditions of some residences is certainly not a good advertisement for the city.

A raft of logs yesterday blocked up Grays-river and four cows in trying to cross were drowned. The logs are owned by a private logging concern.
