SUNDAY SERMON.

"Are not two sparrows sold for a farthing, and not one of them shall fall to the ground without your father."-Mathew x: 29.

The sparrow is a cheerful, energetic little individual, never downcast under the most hopeless of circumstances, and at all times bearing himself with a jaunty, certainly bespeaking, perfect said. self-reliance. The sparrow energetically plays his little part in the economy of nature and while it does not listened to with many nods of approvstand out strongly compared with some other things, still from this feathered, al. Captain Jones was author of the play that brought success to the pavy that bore the stars and stripes. He advised carrying the war into England's unprotected seacoast towns, and by a daring that was unknown before his time, he brilliantly and successfully carried out his theory of aggressive tactics at sea. His greatest victory, By mail, per month ....... 50 that of the Bon homme Richard over Serapis, a British 54-gun ship vastly superior to his own, formed one of the most thrilling chapters of the world's naval history.

John Paul Jones died in France, It was fitting that the end should come where he suffered his greatest trials and disappointments, for it was in France he waited for the recognition and aid so long denied him.

CHILDHOOD PRAYER.

A few alleged mothers, who don't know it, recently held a convention or society for scandal, and the following is the telegraphed report of the proceedings

"Chicago, Feb. 24.-The West End mothers' council has declared out of childhood, and offers in its stead othpoetic.

"One of the members said: 'If we take away Santa Claus from childhood and now remove the 'Now I lay me' prayer, what will be left as landmarks for the young?"

"Mrs. Edgar A. Hall, president of the council, led the crusade against the prayer. She took particular exception to the lines, 'And if I die before I wake, I pray the Lord by soul to take." "The idea of death during the night

Labor Unions Decide Not to Make an Exhibit of the Federation of Labor Exhibit Which Was Used at St. Louis Fair.

Portland, March 4.-Between 300 and 400 laborers, tradesmen, union men o and non-union men are at work on the Lewis and Clark exposition grounds today, about one-third in all of the working force. Some additional men, probably 50, is the outside limit, failed to appear at their posts this morning. date the 'Now I lay me' prayer of Of those now at work many are men who went out yesterday, or had been ers that sound more euphonious and working previously on the exposition grounds; many are new men who went to work this morning in search of jobs Work is going on on all the buildings; on some with almost complete forces, and on some with about one-fourth of the regular number.

At a meeting of the representatives of all the trades unions of Portland | held last night in the hall at Second and Stark streets, it was decided not to bring the exhibit of the American Federation of Labor to the Lewis and Clark exposition. This exhibit was on display at the St. Louis world's fair. It is said that the present strike and the employment of non-union men on Hail had a substitute to offer. It was the buildings of the Lewis and Clark exposition is the real cause for this decision of the trades unions. It was even hinted by some in attendance at the meeting that as the American Federation of Labor exhibit was a strictly union exhibit, emblematic of unionism, it would hardly be right to place it in a building which had been erected even in part by non-union labor. The exposition managers don't care whether the exhibit is made or not, as they have Jemands for all their space and the labor unions are only spiting them-
