The county court has adjourned until March 25, by which time it is expected the supreme court will decide the Clatsop county court house case. It will also act on the petition of N. O. Bourglund for a county road.

Mr. Templin, one of Strauss Bros' expert cutters, has been at C. H. Cooper's for the past three days taking special orders for spring and summer suits. He leaves tonight for the east. Come before 5 p. m. if you are interested.

Temple lodge No. 7, A. F. & A. M. received word yesterday that J. F. Bender, formerly of Knappa, Ore., died at Everett, Wash., Thursday night. The funeral will take place Sunday under the auspices of the Masonic lodge of that place.

A number of gamblers from Portland and other cities, where gambling has been closed are arriving in Astoria, it being about the only city in Oregon where gambling is permitted. It is very probable that there will be something doing by the officials in the near future.

Harris Emanuel, for many years in engaged in business in Astoria, has pulled up stakes and moved his store and family to California where he will engage in business. Pully and Mush the incorrigible twins will leave as soon as they can dispose of their interests in Astoria.

Busy—Yes, and very busy, said Mr. Templin of Chicago, one of Strauss Bros' expert cutters. I have taken the measurements of over a dozen of the biggest men I have found on my trip since leaving Chicago, all the way from 44 to 54 bust. He leaves tonight for the east at 6:10 p. m. Come and see him before he goes away, at C. H. Cooper's.

From the effect of celebrating St. Patrick's day, some shipping men yesterday reported seeing a Japanese privateer about five miles out to sea and acting rather strangely. From a sailing schooner she was magnified into a Japanese battle ship from the time the matter was reported up to the close of the celebration last night.

A United States postal inspector and a secret service man from Washington have been in the city the past two days. They were interested spectators at the Allen libel suit trial. They have also been conducting a quiet investigation, and it is reported that Mr. Hahn will not get the Astoria postoffice. Just what foundation there is for such rumors is not known.

At a meeting of the society of the Congregational church, an invitation was extended to Rev. L. D. Mahone, to become the permanent pastor of the Congregational church. When Mr. Mahone arrived in Astoria, six months ago, he was engaged on trial for six months, and his work has been so satisfactory that he will become its permanent pastor.

The state land board of Salem has instructed Oswald West, state land agent to cruise and investigate all state lieg lands belonging to the state and submit a report to the board. This has never been done before and the affairs of the office have been so crooked heretofore that the board are compelled to make an investigation to ascertain where they are at. The trip will probably take a month. In addition to the ownership and location of the lands, Mr. West will also report as to the amount of timber on the lands, so as to determine its value in the future.

Governor George E. Chamberlain arrived in Astoria yesterday on the noon train and was met at the depot by Mayor Surprenant and a number of prominent citizens. In the afternoon a cruise was taken on the bay and the governor shows the extent of the fishing industry and the many improvements made since he was here about two years ago. Alex Glenn, a prominent local musician and president of the Musicians Union of Astoria died early yesterday morning from the result of hemorrhage of the lungs. It was not known that he was troubled with any pulmonary troubles and his death was a surprise to his many friends. The body was taken to Pohl's undertaking parlors and at 5:30 to night, the members of the Forrester's lodge will meet there and escort the body to the train which will take it to Portland for interment.

Hon. W. H. Barker left last night for his winter residence in Vancouver, B. C. Before going he handed his resignation as a member of the school board to the chairman, P. J. Goodman. He did not, however, resign the office of police commissioner, maintaining that Astoria was his home, that he intended to vote here and that he was satisfied with the manner in which Mr. Gordon is handling the police business. Personally he is in favor of Chief Hallock, as Mr. Hallock worked for him several years prior to going on the police force.

Joseph Bartholdes has been appointed by the county court to take charge of the road work in Elsie precinct. It was also decided to make a personal examination of the west approach to the Lewis and Clark bridge to see what is necessary to open the road for public travel. At the time the bridge was built, certain citizens of Warrenton promised to complete the approach to the bridge, but as soon as it was completed they refused to keep their promise. At it is now, the bridge is practically useless, and it never would have been built had not the court placed confidence in the promises of the people of Warrenton.
