

You Can Be Cured.

No. 11 Cedar Terrace,
HOT SPRINGS, ARK., April 20, 1905.

When I was first married I found that my strength and health were gradually diminishing. I became nervous and irritable, and was in bed a week and sometimes ten days every month, and had intense bearing down pains. My husband had the best physician for me and I used his medicine for nearly four months, but I gradually grew worse, had less strength, and finally, I was unable to leave my bed at all.

A friend who was calling on me brought me a bottle of Wine of Cardui and was so loud in its praise that I told her that I would take it to please her.

I was surprised and pleased that before I had used the bottle I really felt better, so I kept on using it. Eight bottles brought back my lost health and strength, and I have not had a sick day in six months.

WINE OF CARDUI

Mrs. Finnegan had little hope of relief because she knew that every time she had those spells of menstrual suffering with attendant bearing down pains she was weaker. And every month the pain was growing more severe.

But Mrs. Finnegan was cured by Wine of Cardui. She is now so well that there are few women who would not be glad to have the health she has. And any woman who has those dreaded bearing down pains can have the same relief.

You can be free from menstrual irregularities if you take this pure vegetable wine. Why don't you take it when you see what it has done for others? Secure a bottle of Wine of Cardui today. Your druggist has $1.00 bottles.

FRUIT AND FLOWERS

Facts Relative to Raising Fruit and Flowers.

A NEW VARIETY OF APPLES

A Horticulturist's Impressions of the Quality and Prospects and How to Improve the Quality of Fruits, Berries and Increase Production.

Apropos of several specimens of the seedless apple, which it says were submitted to it by the general manager of the Seedless Apple company, Rural New Yorker publishes a statement by Dr. Walter Van Fleet, part of which is as follows:

A single seed was found in one specimen in an extra or adventitious core near the blossom end of the fruit. The others were entirely free from seeds, though the usual woody carpels or core divisions were not only present, but strongly developed. The apples are rather small in size, round and smooth in form, dull red in color, with many light dots. The calyx is very large and open, and the basin is wide and deep, extending almost to the core. The flesh is white and firm, quality very ordinary, about on a par with Limber Twig, and scarcely as good as Ben Davis. The claim made by the promoters that the Spencer seedless apple contains 25 per cent more apple substance than other varieties of the same size is scarcely borne out in the specimens examined, as the substance lost by the large open calyx basin would quite offset any gain in the spaces normally occupied by seeds.

A pome or applelike fruit is, botanically, the enlarged and softened flower stem overgrowing the ovary or true fruit, made up of woody or bony carpels (core plates) and seeds. In the Spencer and other seedless apples the seeds alone are absent, but the objectionable core is present as usual. Unless the seedless variety should possess in addition unusual good quality or other valuable attributes it is not easy to see why it should be particularly desirable except as a curiosity.

We are told the Spencer apple promoters expect to develop seedless varieties of commercial apples, such as Winesap, Jonathan, Bellflower and Gano. This can only be done by the usual breeding methods of cross pollination and careful selection of succeeding generations. While it is within the range of possibility that seedless varieties resembling to some extent our present successful commercial apples may in time be secured, such result is most uncertain and likely to require indefinite time.

The Kieffer pear is as likely to drive Bartlett, Bosc, Clapp and the other good ones out of business as this seedless apple is to dispose of Baldwin, Northern Spy and other standard sorts.

Best Outdoor Roses.
At the meeting of the American Rose society M. H. Walsh of Wood's Hill, Mass., gave a list of six varieties of roses hardy in New England, though much depends on procuring good stock and proper planting. With proper soil and location and good care the following list would be found perfectly hardy:

Hybrid Perpetuals—Baroness Rothschild, Baron de Bonstetten, Clio, Ulrich Brunner, Prince Camille de Rohan, Captain Hayward.

Hybrid Teas—Caroline Testout, Maman Cochet, Mme. A. Chatenay, Captain Christy, Kaiserin Augusta Victoria, La France.

Ramblers—Sweetheart, Debutante, Farquhar, Philadelphia Rambler, Lady Gay.

W. P. Craig named as substitutes for the foregoing the following, which he has found satisfactory: John Hopper, Mrs. John Laing, Mme. Gabriel Lulset, General Jacqueminot, Paul Neyron and Ulrich Brunner. Mr. Craig would add Dorothy Perkins to the list of climbers.

Why Strawberry Plants Die.
Many strawberry plants die because they are kept too long after being dug before transplanting. Some die because set too deep and the crown or center of the plant is covered. But in a dry time more plants die from a lack of pressure on the soil about the roots than from all other causes. In a wet season they will live if left on top of the soil with no earth to cover the roots. Plants out of the ground are like fish out of water. Therefore the sooner they are in their natural element the lower the death rate.—American Agriculturist.

Planting Out.
Early June should see all the garden beds planted, as everything may be trusted out by that time, and those who wait until June to set out their tender plants have the satisfaction of seeing them start off with a vigorous growth from the first.

Weak Bordeaux Mixture.
For the summer spraying of peaches and Japanese plums: Copper sulphate, 2 pounds; fresh lime (unsifted), 5 pounds; water, 50 gallons.—Rhode Island Formula.

Compasses in Sleeping Rooms.
No Japanese ever sleeps with his head to the north. This is because the feng in Japan are always buried with their heads in that position. In the sleeping rooms of many of the private houses and hotels a diagram of the points of the compass is posted upon the ceiling for the convenience of guests.

The Berlin Masher.
The way of the masher is difficult in Berlin. A special bureau of detectives looks after him. It is their duty to protect women obliged to be on the streets alone.

Edible Frogs in England.
The edible frog is to be found in some parts of England. It is a naturalized alien at Thetford and Scolton, in Norfolk, where it was introduced a century ago, and recently it has been found in a small pond at Ockham, in Surrey.

A Far Distant Star.
Rigel, the magnificent star of the first magnitude in the constellation of Orion, is one of the most distant stars in the celestial vault.

Chinese Dried Ducks.
The Chinese in America prefer dried ducks imported from their country to those they can buy here because the food found in the ponds near the Canton river gives the meat a flavor they most like.

Eat in Solitude.
Certain peoples, the Tahitians among them, consider it a grave offense against modesty to be seen eating even by members of their family. When about to take their meals they hide themselves in the remotest corner of the dwelling, taking great care that they should not be seen by anybody.

Britain's Purest Water.
The purest water in Britain is that of Loch Katrine, which has but one-quarter of a pound of soil suspended in 1,000 gallons.

Removing Rust From Nickel.
To remove rust stains from nickel grease the rust stains with oil and after a few days rub thoroughly with a cloth moistened with ammonia. If any stains are left they can in almost every case be removed by the application of hydrochloric acid and a subsequent polishing with tripoli.

Sources of Camphor.
The annual export of camphor from Japan is about 6,000,000 pounds, three-fourths of which is produced in Formosa, the other fourth coming from Japan proper, chiefly from Kyushu and Shikoku.

The Australian Ostrich.
The Australian ostrich hen lays an average of about fifteen eggs a year.

Meerschaum Pipes.
To clean a meerschaum pipe place the pipe in cold sweet milk in an earthenware jar stood in boiling water and let it boil very slowly.

Belgian Convicts.
Three-tenths of the earnings of a Belgian convict are given to him on the expiration of his sentence. Some prisoners thus save more money in jail than they have ever been able to save out of it.

Beef.
Beef is the most nutritious of all animal foods and can be eaten longer continuously than any other kind of meat.

The Spoon Idol.
The spoon idol of the Brahmans is one of the most unusual deities in a land of strange gods. It is a curious wooden figure covered all over with iron spoons. These in turn hold oil and wicks to be lighted in the shade of the banyan tree at night when various ceremonies take place.

Cocoon Trees.
Cocoon trees are best grown in orchards set out in rows thirty feet apart. Four acres of fair trees should yield a million cocoanuts during their lifetime.

Removing Kerosene.
Kerosene when spilled on a carpet can be readily removed by putting on Indian meal, then brushing out when it has lain a few hours. It may need more than one application if much has been spilled, but it will all come out by repeating application.

A Year in College.
$200 cash or a year in college can be quickly earned by one young man or lady in each country during the summer. Plan does not interfere with other employment, and student can select the school.

Saved by Dynamite.

Sometimes a flaming city is saved by dynamite a space that the fire can't cross. Sometimes, a cough hangs on so long, you feel as if nothing but dynamite would cure it. Z. T. Gray, of Calhoun, Ga., writes: "My wife had a very aggravated cough, which kept her awake nights. Two physicians could not help her; so she took Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds, which eased her cough, gave her sleep and finally cured her." Strictly scientific cure for bronchitis and La Grippe, at Chas. Rogers' drug store, price 50c and $1.00; guaranteed. Trial bottle free.

Blood Saturated Night Shirt

A true case of wonderful cure of Eczema by

D. D. D.

For five years I have been a severe sufferer from Eczema on my neck and shoulder. It itched so much I could not refrain from scratching the sore continually, but even scratched it so as to wear the sore and cause it to bleed—was not nearly so painful as the itching. Many a time have I had to change my night shirt three or four times in one night, the blood from the sore having literally saturated it, caused from my scratching the sore to get relief. During these five years I have tried almost every remedy recommended for Eczema, and doctored with several prominent physicians, but got no relief. Your D. D. D. Remedy was very highly recommended to me, so I decided to give it a thorough trial. The first application stopped all itching and I enjoyed my first night of unbroken sleep in five years. I continued the treatment for two months and have been completely cured. I recommend it to all suffering from this annoying disease and feel very grateful to you for doing so much for me.

PAUL L. WALD, Marion, Ind., May 1, 1906.

We vouch for above

The facts in this case of Mr. Paul L. Wald, have been laid before me in all details with proofs that are unmistakable. Every particular in the history of this remarkable cure more than bears out the above statement of the case. From the proofs submitted, we feel that this announcement comes far from doing full justice to the remarkable merit of a medicine which accomplishes results so important to humanity.

Since we have handled the preparation in this city, a great number of people have used it for various skin affections. Its results have been invariably satisfactory. We are therefore willing to guarantee any purchaser full return of his $1.00, if satisfactory results are not experienced from a trial of a bottle in any case of skin affection.

D. D. D. costs but $1.00 a bottle, and is guaranteed to cure or money refunded.
