has begun. We have just received a large shipment, plain and fancy, polished so as to show nature's gift in all its beauty. Some are hand painted. Others are made into pretty paper-weights, ink stands, etc.

The shells are cheap this season, running from 10 cents up. We have a very pretty one at 20 cents.

HONOR FATHERLAND

Representative Norwegians Celebrate Independence Day.

AT FISHER'S OPERA HOUSE

Ninety-First Birthday of Most Liberal and Most Democratic Constitution in All Europe, Honored by Vocal and Instrumental Music.

A large audience of our Norwegian fellow citizens, their families and friends made the hearts of the talent which appeared at Fishers' opera house last night, throb with joy. The applause so freely given and so well deserved, must still ring in the ears of the singers and all others who participated in the splendid program.
With the perfect assurance of doing that which was befitting the occasion, the audience had a right to be enthusiastic. With an equally befitting appreciation of what was good, the audience gave freely of its enthusiasm.

A trained male chorus is a feature at any time. A well-trained male chorus of foreign singers is a treat.
Now and then you will find a chorus of foreign-born men whose rendition of vocal music excels even these. Some Norwegians in this city several years ago formed the Astoria Norwegian male chorus, and have since won distinction. Last night's concert added to their laurels and no Astorian will be surprised if in August next he is informed that on Norwegian day at the Lewis and Clark fair the local society has carried off the honors in the contest among the leading Norwegian singing societies. So much was this well trained body of 32 male singers honored last night by the audience's applause that in response they gave of their best. At the close of the concert they rendered in addition to the scheduled numbers one verse of the Norwegian national hymn, and followed it up with "America," the entire audience rising and joining. The chorus was under the direction of Ludwig Larsen, its able instructor and leader.

Following the first number on the program Dr. Mohn delivered the greeting of welcome on behalf of the society. It was a happy rendition.

Among other things he said: "We have invited you to celebrate with us tonight the 91st birthday of the most liberal and most democratic constitution in all Europe, the Norwegian constitution of May 17, 1814." When a nation reaches the goal freedom, there is joy among struggling nations. King Charles John, instead of conquering Norway and making her a province under Sweden, had to swear allegiance to the Norwegian constitution on May 17. While strife and bitterness has been prevalent at times in regard to the country's welfare during these 91 years, today all Norway is again united in defense of its constitution.

A violin solo by Miss Elsie Larsen, the popular Portland soloist, who so successfully appeared here at the Esping concert, was heartily applauded and encored. Miss Larsen won the hearts of the audience when at the close of the regular program she valeuntered an additional solo.

The address of Senator Fulton was one of unusual merit. Patriotism rang through his every word. You could feel yourself anxious to don the uniform which should convey to all who cared to see your patriotism. Didn't you quiver with anxiety, last you might not be permitted to take part in some nation's warfare; if not your own, just to give vent to that feeling of patriotism you have acquired? Does it surprise you that there are men born to lead and others to follow.
Would you hesitate to follow the leader if he were a Senator Fulton. Nay, of course not. You have followed him at the polls and you would not fail him when facing the cannon's mouth.
Among other things the senator said that those who love their fatherland will love their adopted country. Patriotism is one of the most powerful passions of the human heart, affecting affairs and destinies of nations. Without it vast domains and mighty nations avail nothing. That patriotism has always been strong in the men of the north, and consequently the recalled no-men had much influence upon the civilization of the world.

Senator Fulton says that "it is practically established as a historical fact that the Norwegians not only discovered Greenland in the ninth century, but that they penetrated to the eastern coast of this country in the 9th or 10th century. Unfortunately they lost sight of their opportunity, thus giving Columbus the honor of the discovery of America. Owing to the fact that a work such as this is tonight makes better, greater and truer citizens. I am glad to be with you."

Miss Penot ably rendered a song.
Mrs. Pedersen won honors with a recitation, while L. Larsen and S. L.

Nanthrup received much applause for their duet in English.

The address of Rev. Pedersen in Norwegian repeatedly elicited applause. At the conclusion of the Norwegian address, he spoke briefly in English, saying among other things: "You Americans are better to use than to yourselves; but you need not worry.
We will take care of the trust. We are not endeavoring to build up a new Norway in this country, but to stir up enthusiasm for our adopted country."

The mayor was scheduled for an address, but was conspicuous by his absence, which was cleverly referred to by Rev. Pedersen, who said that we like to vote for such men as Senator Fulton and our president, Teddy Roosevelt. Absences are seldom counted when it comes to a vote. But for the neglect of the mayor, the entire evening was not marred by an unpleasant feature. On the contrary, it was a complete success.

Real Estate.

What has been needed in Astoria is a real live, rustling real estate man, one that can bring people here to locate. T. R. Davies has leased his barber shop and is now located in W.
L. Robb's office, where he will be pleased to show intending investors good bargains in city and country property. Marine and fire insurance will be a prominent feature, renting houses and collecting rents and a general real estate business will be transacted.

Distinguished Visitor.

Hon. J. O. Booth, county judge of Josephine county, who has been attending the good roads convention at Pendleton, came to Astoria yesterday with Judge Tranchard. This is the first visit of Judge Booth to As-toria in several years and he expressed himself as surprised at the great evidence of prosperity and the many new buildings being erected. He was taken on a drive around the city by Dr. Alf. Kinney, who has been his physician for many years.

Death of Mrs. Carlson.

Mrs. Addie Carlson, wife of Frank Carlson, died at her home at 375 Thirty-eighth street Tuesday evening of blood-poisoning after a short illness. Mrs. Carlson had resided in Clatsop county a number of years where she had many friends. The funeral will take place this afternoon at 2 o'clock from the family residence and the interment will be at Greenwood.

Rev. W. S. Grim of the First Methodist church will officiate.

Duane Street Improvement.
The improvement of Duane street is nearly completed. The last of the crushed rock covering is being put on.
Cement sidewalks have been constructed on both sides of the street and it will be one of the handsomest residence streets in the city. If some of the property owners would repair the front of their yards and remove the rubbish from the sidewalks it would add greatly to the beauty of the street.

Lewis and Clark Mail.
Nearly everyone on the Lewis and Clark get his mail at the Astoria postoffice, or it is delivered at his residence by the mail courier. Mail addressed to Melville or Chadwell is often delayed as few of the residents go to the postoffice oftener than one a week. In order to insure prompt delivery of letters, they should be addressed to the Astoria postoffice.

Cleared for Action.
Blood poison creeps up towards the heart causing death. J. E. Stearns,
