WILL BE CONSULTED

Senator Fulton on Good Terms With Roosevelt.

IMAGINARY CORRESPONDENT

The Oregonian Tower Bull Pen Will Not Have All to Say in Regard to Oregon Appointments, But Mr. Fulton Will No Doubt Be Consulted.

The opinions expressed in the special correspondents to the Oregonian is simply the opinion of their correspondent in Washington, written to conform to the policies of that paper and do not represent public sentiment in Oregon. The report that Mr. Fulton was not on good terms with President Roosevelt, or Secretary Hitchcock emanated only from the imaginative brain of the Washington correspondent under special instructions from the Portland tower. Both Secretary Hitchcock and Mr. Fulton have agreed upon the appointment of Mr. Eddy for the Roseburg land office and there is no doubt but he will be consulted in the appointment of the receiver of the same land office. The Tillamook Headlight, speaking of the appointment of Mr. Eddy, says:

The many friends of B. L. Eddy will be sorry to hear that he will leave Tillamook, shortly, for it is more than probable that President Roosevelt will appoint him register of the Roseburg land office, which will make his removal from this county necessary. Mr. Eddy has been a good friend to Tillamook and we consider it is a loss to the county and those who put implicit confidence in him as an attorney. He won reputation for himself and Tillamook when he represented Yamhill and Tillamook counties in the state legislature at two sessions, but at some sacrifice to himself representing the people, for he had to close up his law office while he was away. Yet in spite of this, the people of Tillamook county did not show a magnanimous spirit when a majority of the voters did not support him as they should have when he was a candidate for circuit judge. The Headlight has always thought the people of this county did Mr. Eddy an injustice on that occasion, and we are sorry he is going away before that wrong could be righted. It would have been had he remained here at some future time. So on that account also a large number of citizens will be sorry he is going to leave the county. But there is one thing, he made his mark in Tillamook through industry, study and perseverance and leaves a good record behind him, and President Roosevelt is fortunate in selecting such an intelligent and clean person to fill the office of register at the Roseburg land office.

Another bone of contention that is sickening to Harvy Scott's crew is the desire to name the judge of the United States district court. Mr. Scott desires to have one of his editorial staff appointed. Hon. Henry McGinn. No one questions Mr. McGinn's eminent qualifications for the position, and were he recommended by any of the representatives in congress, it would no doubt be received with much favor by the president, although it is doubtful if Mr. Roosevelt would consider the application for a moment. Mr. Fulton is known to be favorable to the appointment of Judge Thomas A. McBride and no better selection could be made. Even Mr. Scott must admit that, if the judiciary is to be taken into consideration, irrespective of politics, there is no man in the state of Oregon that stands higher, or is better qualified for the position than Judge McBride. There is not a single blemish against his character, either personally or socially, and there is no man in the state that can say ought against him. He possesses all the qualifications necessary for the important position. He is considered one of the best and most fair-minded judges in the state and his appointment would give general satisfaction.

Clatsop county and the fifth judicial district would regret to lose the services of Judge McBride, for he is honored and respected alike by both republicans and democrats, which is attested by the fact that during the last two elections in which he has been a candidate he has had no opposition, as no politics has ever been injected into the judiciary in his department since he has filled the honorable position of judge. True it will create a vacancy in the judgeship in this district which must be filled by appointment by the governor, the appointee to hold until the next June election. Governor Chamberlain, being a democrat, will no doubt appoint a democrat to the position, and it is very probable that Hon. John H. Smith would be appointed. His appointment would meet with the approval of both democrats and republicans, and he is the only democrat in the district that could be elected. Mr. Smith is an honorable gentleman, an attorney of high attainments and judicial discretion and would no doubt carry out the same policy pursued by Judge McBride.

House Cleaning in Astoria.

For now is when the carpets are up and the mattings are not yet down; when the soap doth lay in wait on the stair for the sinner who stands but momentarily in slippery places and then shoots the rest of the chute with the rapidity of lightning.

What is man that he should complain and lament, saying:

"Mary, where is my razor?"

And that he should ejaculate wicked words when he finds it not, but walketh into the mirror to crack it and butteth over the palm where it has been placed out of the way?

For behold! she is a woman of sorrow and acquainted with grief. She is clad in the sackcloth of an old wrapper and upon the rag about her head is ashes, and her nose is clogged with fatigue, and upon her face is dust and grime and many wrinkles.

She eateth little and is too tired to sleep.

For the house cleaner com's not as promised; and the upholsterer sayeth yes! yes! but delivers not the goods; the hired girl goes sulky and the children do eat of ammonia and other things not intended for them.

And when it is nearly finished the fire of the heater do's go out and a cold storm arises and all shiver and cough.

Then does the woman go to bed with grip and deserveth her pots at the wheel of the ship of confusion.

The children cry and hit each other; the man sayeth down town; yes, even late into the night; the hired girl leaves also and then is the house desolate.

So does a family in the days of the housecleaning; and it is an abomination in the eyes of all mankind.—Philadelphia Telegraph.

Goods Sold Too Cheap.
 Any one of our 5000 readers who read the advertisement of the Morse department store yesterday formed an opinion that he was selling out at any old price, but such was not the case. He has simply received a large stock of goods and proposes to give the people the benefit of some of the greatest bargains ever offered in the city if people will carefully read his announcements every morning they will be apprised of the fact, that there is at least one store in Astoria that proposes to get the business if first-class goods and cheap prices will secure it. There is not a day but the store has some good bargain and by keeping posted an opportunity is offered to save money. Everybody likes to trade at the Morse department store.

SALOONS CLOSE SUNDAY.

Chinookites Will Now Have an Opportunity of Attending Church.

This week County Attorney Hewen received from Chinook a petition for the enforcement of the law, closing saloons on Sunday in that town. The petition was numerously signed and contained the names of a large number of business men and well known citizens. Mr. Hewen at once notified all keepers of saloons in Chinook that Sunday closing of saloons would be hereafter required and violations of the law prosecuted.

Knights at Seaside.

The celebration of the third anniversary of Nekanakum lodge, Knights of Pythias, was celebrated at Seaside Monday evening. A large delegation attended from Astoria. Over one hundred guests were present. Addresses were delivered by Rich Bradburry and Dr. C. E. Linton. The Seaside orchestra furnished music and a very enjoyable evening was spent.

Best Ever Packed.

McGowan & Sons shipped a car of canned spring Columbia river salmon a short time ago and this week received a letter from their eastern house that the salmon was the finest ever received by that firm. The quality was rich in color and unusually fine. This is a big advertisement for the Columbia river salmon and for the packers who are able to ship the finest fish ever put up on the Columbia river.
