WE VOUCH FOR THIS

In the case of J. E. Wuersten shown here, his leg was almost entirely covered with Weeping Eczema. It raged for two years, and was afterward entirely cleared away in about six weeks time by and no taint of the disease has appeared since.

We know this to be exactly as stated. This result can be accomplished with any skin affection. Barrels of blood medicine can do nothing for a skin disease. Nine out of ten manifestations in the skin are local—parasitic in nature and absolutely curable by this new prescription. D. D. D. is a clean liquid prescription sopped or atomized over the affected spots twice daily.

This preparation has our unqualified endorsement. We are recommending it with most excellent results. The cures already effected are having wide-spread influence in this section. If you have a skin affection—come to the store. It will be the means of making you a happier human being.

WEeping Eczema soon cured.

I suffered with weeping Eczema in its worst form for about two years, in which time I tried several remedies and got prescriptions, until I had spent about $100 and found no permanent relief. Naturally I became skeptical and hesitated when a new remedy was offered me. "You will have to show me," as the Missionary said, when Mr. McDonell, of the Pioneer Drug Store, claimed he could cure me with D. D. D. I was shown photographs of cases before and after taking D. D. D., together with the story of a remarkable cure of a man working in the Valley Ax Works at Alexandria, which came under the personal observation of Mr. Jordan. I commenced using the medicine as per directions. After using the fifth bottle I was cured. I have never had any return of the disease. Many come to me asking what D. D. D. did for me, and I always tell them if they want to be cured "Use D. D. D. as per directions."

D. D. D. costs but $1.00 a bottle and is guaranteed to cure or money refunded.

NOTES FOR WOMEN

Secret of Unrest and Furnishing Guest Chamber.

SOME DOMESTIC DIFFICULTIES

Items of Interest That May Be Useful to Astoria Women Who Are Engaged in Spring House Cleaning and Beautifying the Residences.

"This is certainly the age of unrest," remarked the bachelor as he read of another woman who had encircled the globe.

"Only for women," put in the bachelor girl. "You men seem to care only for eating and drinking and selfishness."

"Personalities again," observed the bachelor dryly. "But I never saw anything to beat the modern woman. A few years ago man was supposed to be the more volatile of the two, and mothers, with bated breath, used to instruct their daughters how to keep him home from the club and how to retain his fickle fancy. Now it's the man who has to look out. In a few months, according to newspapers, woman tires of matrimony and the humdrum existence it entails. She wants to travel, to keep on improving herself, to see more of life. Naturally hubby objects. Why isn't she content to be just plain married like his mother before her? Why should a woman want to compose music and write novels and be an architect, a lawyer, a doctor, any of these unnatural things? Why not occupy herself right in the home? And, do you know," went on the bachelor, "that's what I ask myself, and that's one reason why I don't want to marry."

"As to that—m—m—" chuckled the bachelor girl. "I could tell you very easily the reason of woman's unrest. She hasn't as much to do as formerly. Compare the life of the present woman with that of her mother before her and her mother's life with that of her grandmother and watch the difference. Life is being made easier for women all the time and more difficult for men."

Domestic Difficulties.

"More difficult for the man. Will you kindly explain that?"

"It's very easy. I said life had been made easier for woman. So it has by apartment hotels with all conveniences, by department stores, which keep everything from a needle to an automobile, and by countless other devices. But these all cost money. The cost of living is now twice what is used to be, dress is more elaborate, dressmakers and tailors charge more. What used to be considered luxuries of the table are now necessities. We eat lettuce and tomatoes and strawberries out of season because they are in the market and we cannot resist the temptation. The price of an apartment in a skyscraper is many times that charged for the rent of a house formerly, and, unlike the house, it gives its mistress no occupation whatever, for everything is done almost automatically for her. Now, what is she to do? Sit at home and cross her hands? No, indeed. She tries to find some means to pass the time that will not bore her. It is even worse with the woman who has married a poor man. Rent, fuel and the comforts of life are the same price for her as they are for her more fortunate sister. There is practically no way in which she can save materially. Home dress-making, that great economy of our mothers' time, is almost denied to her because modern dress is too complex to be attempted by the amateur. So she determines to help make money instead of wasting time trying to save it. She does not gain anything by staying quietly at home, for the work there is almost all done for her, and it would not be much of a gain if she did the little there was, but she does gain by earning a fat salary and increasing her money making powers just like a man."

The Guest Chamber.

How few women know how to furnish a guest chamber! For instance, there should be coat hangers in the closet. They are indispensable, and it is hard to make room for them in a trunk. A soiled clothes bag is another necessity the visitor does not find in one room out of ten. A small desk, with paper of assorted sizes and pens, is simply a blessing, and a hot water bottle has often been very much appreciated on cool nights.

MAUD ROBINSON.

THE OVERAMBITION WOMAN

She Has Not the Patience to Wait For Things.

There are plenty of foolish people in the world, but among the most foolish must be counted those women who, to use a vulgar expression, "bite off more than they can chew."

You see them on every hand. There is little Mrs. Poorman—she married Poorman with her eyes open. She knew he had a tiny income. Now, why on earth does she stretch that income beyond all powers of endurance by trying to float along with the Richly set? She belongs to a dinner club, for instance, and has to give a swell banquet when she has only one maid, who doesn't even know enough not to pass plates in front of the guests. And she worries herself very nearly into the grave in the effort to "keep up appearances."

Then there is Mrs. Vanity. She lives for clothes and stays awake during the wee small hours planning whether she really can scrape enough from the household money to have that extra dress of pale blue cologne. The result is that she becomes sallow and wrinkled fretting about it all, and the pale blue cologne, when she gets it, doesn't help her appearance much.

And there is Mrs. Proudmother. She sends little Gladys to a fashionable school, which she can no more afford than she can afford to keep a horse and carriage. And why? In order that little Gladys may have a chance to learn more? No. She will learn less in the fashionable school, but she will make fashionable friends, associate with little girls who are worth twice as much money as she is and consequently imbibe ideas of discontent and of living beyond her means.

Of course it is a good thing that in America we have no limitations of rank, but it is also a bad thing because it breeds discontent. Every woman in the land, regardless of her own or her husband's limitations, wants to do the same things that the most wealthy women in her town do.

BALCONY EFFECT.

A Very Good Idea For a Large Hall or Reception Room.

Very often there is a large entrance hall or a square unlovely room in an old country house which will not admit of artistic furnishing. The picture suggests a balcony treatment, which is attractive, particularly for entrance halls.

The woodwork of this room is white, giving it a light, cheerful appearance. There is a large window composed of five smaller ones, and across the top of this there is the balcony, just wide enough to accommodate a few plants or musicians in the event of a dance. An oriental rug hangs over the railing and with its deep red and green tones gives a touch of color to the room. The window seat is upholstered in green, and the window draperies are of the same tint. A round table or two and some easy chairs are furnishings sufficient for this sort of a room, together, if desired, with a piano, which is placed with its back to the room.

The general effect is simple, without small rugs or many pictures and break up the walls and without any bric-a-brac whatever.

DAMES AND DAUGHTERS.

The rank of knighthood in the French Legion of Honor has been conferred upon Adeline Patti.

The daughters of Captain John Mullan, U. S. A., are running a laundry in Washington and are making a success of the venture.

Marquise Oyama, wife of the Japanese field marshal, while in this country in 1876 embraced Christianity and was baptized in the historic Christ church, Upper Merion township, near Norristown, Pa.

Miss Sallie Heath White Carroll, a Baltimore belle and one of the Carrolls of Carrollton, graduated from the New York university law school recently in brilliant style and will begin the practice of her profession there shortly.

Mrs. Jane Germon, cousin of Joseph Jefferson, who lives in Baltimore, is the last of the old line of Jeffersons and one of the old school of actors and actresses. She made her debut when she was seven years old as little Albert, to Edwin Forrest's Tell.

It is remarkable that Julia Ward Howe, now in her eighty-sixth year, remains so decidedly a figure of the present. She still is active in the movement for the legal and political rights of women, at whose birth she assisted and whose growth she fostered and championed.

Ellen Key, one of the foreign leaders of the movement for equal rights for women, expressed her regrets in a recent Viennese lecture at the "Americanization" of that movement. While radical in some respects, she is conservative in regard to the domestic duties of women.

The American Library association, composed of the heads of the most noted and largest libraries in the country, has recently elected a woman as its vice president. She is Miss L. E. Stearns of the Wisconsin Free library commission and is the first woman chosen to fill the office.

CHURCH AND CLERGY.

The pope has had a magnificent new organ constructed in his private chapel in the Vatican.

Rev. H. L. E. Luering, the German M. E. church missionary to Malaya, will shortly visit the United States. He has lived for years in the recesses of the Bornean jungle.

Father John Henry Tibben, a Roman Catholic priest of Wichita, Kan., has been appointed chamberlain to Pope Pius X. The office carries with it the honorary title of monsignore.

It costs money to live in South Africa. A woman resident in Johannesburg pays $90 a month for her cook and $35 a month to a Hindoo servant. In India she would have had to pay only $5 a month for the Hindoo's services.

Justice Harlan urges the Presbyterians of the United States to build in Washington a great Presbyterian church—a "minster." With the church he wants a fitting manse for the pastor, a parish house, a (small) clergy house, a staff of assistant ministers and lay workers and an endowment.

WRITERS AND PAINTERS.

Joseph C. Lincoln's new novel, "Partners of the Tide," has been secured by an English publisher.

Jules Verne did not write his memoirs and disliked having his personality brought forward in the newspapers.

A monument to Rembrandt is to be built at Leyden, Holland, on the site of the windmill owned by the painter's father.

Miss Arria S. Huntington, daughter of the late Right Rev. Bishop Frederic Dan Huntington, has under preparation a literary work dealing with the life and letters of her father.

Menzel, the famous Berlin painter, who has just died at the age of ninety, left, aside from his sketch books, about 5,000 drawings in black and colors. These are valued at 1,000,000 marks, and the Prussian government has the first bid.

GLEANINGS.

Stockholm has slot machines which for a copper yield a glass of milk. Official figures show that about a hundred lives were lost in making the Simplon tunnel.

A Creeping Death.

Blood poison creeps up towards the heart causing death. J. E. Stearna, Belle Plaine, Minn., writes that a friend, dreadfully injured his hand, friend dreadfully injured his hand, which swelled up like blood poisoning. Bucklen's Arnica Salve drew out the poison, healed the wound, and saved his life. Best in the world for burns and sores. 25c at Chas. Rogers' drug store.

Terrific Race With Death.

"Death was fast approaching," writes Ralph F. Fernandez of Tampa, Fla., describing his fearful race with death, "as a result of liver trouble and heart disease, which had robbed me of sleep and of all interest in life. I had tried many different doctors and several medicines, but got no benefit, until I began to use Electric Bitters. So wonderful was their effect, that in three days I felt like a new man, and today I am cured of all my troubles." Guaranteed at Chas. Rogers' drug store; price 50c.

THE PEOPLE ALL

In Chorus Cried, Give Us Newbro's Herculide.

This word of late has been in everyone's mouth, and many are wondering what the word signifies, though no one has yet been found, who will deny that NEWBRO'S HERPICIDE does the work. Well, for the information of thousands of people who like to know all about a good thing, we would say that HERPICIDE means, a destroyer or killer of "Herpes." Now "Herpes" is the family name of a disease caused by various vegetable parasites. A similar microbe causes dandruff, itching scalp, and falling hair; this is the microbe that NEWBRO'S HERPICIDE promptly destroys; after which the hair grows. Sold by leading druggists. The June Everybody's, as the title of this Terrible Story, has told by Thomas W. Lawson.

If you have been following the story you have probably rushed to the store and bought your copy already, so much was your interest in the remainder.

However, if you have not, the story is very plainly set forth in this number—Practically a summing up of the story without the detail, so that one can easily see how the people were ruthlessly robbed of thousands upon thousands of dollars. Price 15c.
