The protest has created a big sensation and the diocese is shaken to its foundations.

CLASH BETWEEN RUSSIANS AND JAPS IMMINENT

Dispatches say That Japanese Forces Are Advancing

London, July 2.—The correspondent of the Morning News cables from Shanghai that the Japanese troops are now advancing toward Vladivostok. The Russians have been utterly unsuccessful in attempting to stay this latest move and a battle along the Tumen river is imminent. Nothing has been heard of the armistice reported as being negotiated in Washington. Unusual activity is manifested among the troops.

London Is Suspicious.

London, July 2.—For the past few days the inclines of the public here have been to regard with suspicion most of the reports emanating from Russia and the tendency to believe the condition of affairs at Odessa, Libau, Cronstadt, and elsewhere is much worse than reported and no surprise will be expressed should the alleged surrender of the Georgi Pobiedonosetz turn out no better founded than the reported surrender of the Kniaz Potemkine.

Surrender Was Conditional.

Odessa, Midnight, July 2.—According to some reports, the surrender of the Georgi Pobiedonosetz was conditional upon the crew being informed what their punishment would be. The vessel lies in the inner harbor in a position very unfavorable for bombarding the city.

She is completely under the heavy guns now mounted in the Boulevard overlooking the harbor.

HYDE IS ARRAIGNED

Hendrick's Investigating Attorney Makes Sensational Statement.

INTEREST WAS PECUNIARY

Says Hyde Manipulated Subsidiaries So As to Add to Own Pocket and to Great Financial Loss of Equitable Rented Apartments For 100 Years.

(Special to the Astorian.)

Syracuse, July 2.—Congressman Driecoll, Superintendent of Insurance Hendricks, investigating attorney, has made a lengthy statement in which he takes James H. Hyde severely to task and asserts that Hyde convicts his father out of his own mouth. Then he goes on and in a sensational statement cites instances of how James H. Hyde manipulated the different subsidiaries so as to add income to his own pocket, in each case cited, to the great financial loss of the Equitable society.

One instance was the transfer of a safe deposit lease from a company owned in part by the Equitable, to one owned entirely by Hyde in order not to share profits. Hyde later, according to the statement, caused the erection of a large addition to the Equitable building in order to accommodate the expanding business of this deposit company and leased the addition to the safe deposit company at $100 a year for 100 years.

FORTIFIED HOUSE.

Pacific County Administrator Afraid to Take Possession.

According to the Willapa Harbor Pilot, W. A. Barrows, of Chinook, who was recently appointed administrator of the estate of Charles Isaacson, deceased, has a difficult and dangerous task on his hands to secure possession of the personal effects of the deceased. Mr. Isaacson lived in a small cabin on a home stead. The contents of the cabin; however, is unknown, and if the report given out by Mr. Isaacson is correct, Mr. Barrows, as administrator, will be taking big chances when he attempts to enter the building to ascertain its contents. Mr. Barrows informed the court that it was the custom of the deceased, when about to leave home, to give out information that guns were set at the door ready to blow any inquisitive person into kingdom come. Previous to leaving home the last time, about three months ago, Mr. Isaacson was particular to give out the information that every door and window of his mansion had guns set ready to protect the premises from all comers. As letters of administration were granted Mr. Barrows, it will now become his painful (if the guns go off) duty to take an inventory of the cabin, arsenal and all.

While Mr. Isaacson left but little personal property, his estate might be said to be valuable. On one forty of his premises, which are located on Bear river, is a lime ledge, said to be of considerable value. A year ago last August Mr. Barrows says a stranger put in an appearance at the Rosendahl logging camp and inquired for Mr. Isaacson. He requested Mr. Barrows to accompany him to Isaacson's place and introduce him. This Mr. Barrows did, and during the conversation which followed, the stranger offered Isaacson $7,000 for the ledge. The offer was refused at that time and later the stranger again visited Isaacson and, so report goes, made him a better offer for the ledge, which was also refused.

Flee From Odessa.

Kishineff, July 2.—All hotels are filled with persons from Odessa, thousands of whom are leaving that city in a panic.

DESCRIBES HIS TRIP.

quaintance of his royal nibs, the Jersey mosquito. I don't like his touch. With all the vast numbers of hotels they are putting up more and grander palaces and still all are crowded. I went through the subways and during the hot weather it is unbearable. It is so close and stifling like a vast washroom, a steamy, soapy atmosphere. I ascended a moving stairway to elevated railroad, but one ascension was enough for me, because the stairs keep on moving and you have to jump off as soon as you reach the top, else you will run against the wall.

A curious spectacle in Chicago is a policeman on the wagon seat with each driver. On each side of the wagon is a large printed sign: "Warning—an injunction has been issued by this Court against interference with this vehicle." (or words to that effect.) Signed by Judge Kohlsaat. It is a sad commentary on twentieth century fair play. No doubt there are hot heads among the thousands of strikers, but most of the trouble is engineered by strike breakers, the tools and hirelings of some overbearing trust. It is so easy to ensure the union. They are called criminals, but what of the Beef Trust that pays the farmer $40,000,000 less on cattle this year, while, at the same time, raising the price of steaks and roasts. Read "Everybody's Magazine" for July and study the figures. Also, how about the officers of the equitable Life Assurance company, who have collected from you and I excessive premiums, that our wives and children might be protected when death comes. They gave Monkey dinners, $25,000 a year to Senator Depew and a score of other directors for attending meetings once or twice a year. Padded salary lists for wages supposed to have been paid to a long line of deceased clerks. Let us not condemn one while overlooking the other. I am not a pessimist. Sure, there are lots of things that require regulation. The country is not being ruined by unions, as some claim. Neither will these big society anarchists continue to plunder the people forever. Not while we have Teddy Roosevelt and Billy Bryan, and so long as the average American has the same common sense that his forefathers have shown, in crisis past. We are all right, you bet. This is all for this trip, I am tired.

Smilingly yours,
HERMAN WISE.
