Examiner Fired Him.

Davenport worked on the San Francisco Examiner in those old, old days when the cartoonist was one of the least important of the paper's staff. He got $110 weekly, and this was considered so adequate a compensation for his services that when he asked for a modest raise in his salary, he was fired on account of his nerve. When he left the employ of Mr. Hearst he was drawing a salary of $15,000 a year. For what? For the ability to make a cartoon, to do with pictures what Mark Twain has done with words, make people laugh, think and then laugh again.—Town Talk San Francisco.

CAMPS WILL RESUME WORK.

Owner Says They are Merely Closed Down Until After Fourth.

In conversation with a prominent owner of a logging camp yesterday, he stated that the logging camps had only closed down temporarily. That it was impossible to keep a crew together on the Fourth of July and they were compelled to close down the camps. Most of the loggers came to Astoria where they were paid off.

Some of them will go to Portland and visit the fair, others will remain in the city and some will attend the celebrations in adjoining towns where dances will be held in the evening. About next Thursday the loggers will begin to return to camp and inside of two weeks all the men will have returned and logging operations will again be resumed. He states that there is a good demand for logs and the camps will run continuously all summer.

A Clever Window.

It was not due to neglect that in "Chance Shots" in yesterday's paper the ad man failed to take notice of B. F. Allen & Son's Fourth of July windows. At the time Chance Shots were turned into the composing room the windows were not ready. At this late moment it is worth while to state that for the first time in many years has ad man noticed a wall paper window trimmed for a special occasion as advantageously as is the B. F. Allen & Son window. It is clever and deserves more than ordinary credit. It is evident that the Allens who make every effort to advertise well also intend to keep abreast of the times in the appearance of the store and windows.

WORK PROGRESSING SLOWLY.

Six Weeks Longer Will Be Required To Complete Smith Road.

Work on the Smith's point road is progressing slowly. No portion of the road has been completed, as the men work at different points and allow teams to pass over to pack the road and then return. Work was commenced about the middle of April and has cost up to the present time about $2,000. It will require at least six weeks longer to complete the road and it is estimated that the total cost will be about $4,000. It is doubtful if the portion of the road along the slide will be permanent, as there is nothing to prevent the ground from again sliding.

Peter Muma Dead.

Peter Muma, a resident of Pleasanton, Alameda county, California, died at the hospital yesterday of cancer of the liver. He has a sister living at La Center, Wash., Mrs. J. F. Wednel. The funeral will take place this morning at 10:30 o'clock at Pohl's undertaking parlors and the interment will be made in Odd Fellows' cemetery at Ocean View. The remains will be taken down on the 11:30 train.
