Portland, Aug. 12.—The "bulls" aver that the new hop crop will be worth at least 25 cents a pound, while the "bears" hint at 15 cents. As all reports of crops and stocks on hand are colored according to the status of the informant, time only will disclose the true value of the hops baled this year.

Dealers say Salinas potatoes are now selling at San Francisco at 85 cents per 100 pounds and that this reduces quotations here.

Butter of the best quality continues scarce, but large quantities of second grade butter are offering. Some heavy shipments have been received from Puget Sound, as the markets here was better than that of Seattle or Tacoma.

Some purchases of wheat are being made at quotations for San Francisco, but the market cannot be said to have opened up yet.

Cheese has advanced for the same reason that butter has become scarce—the drying up of pastures on the Pacific coast. Young America is now quoted at 15 cents a pound, and full cream at 13 1-2 cents. Half the orders for cheese cannot be filled.
