Latest Quotations in the Portland Produce Markets.

Complete Market Reports Corrected Each Day Giving the Wholesale Prices of Commodities, Farm Produce and Vegetables.

Portland, Aug. 15.-Apples will be very scarce this year in Oregon, according to dealers who have agents in the country trying to buy for the Portland market. A light crop in the Willamette valley, and a large proportion of the applies infested with the codling moth, are given as the prime reasons for the unusual scarcity.

A carload of watermelons reaching this city from The Dalles today proved too green for use, and so would not be received by the consignees here.

Some shipments of California butter have arrived, and the product can be laid down here at 24 1-2 cents per pound. Butter brought here from a distance, like cold-storage butter, does not stand competition with fresh product of home creameries, and must sell for less.

Eastern eggs in considerable quantity are in the market, but fresh ranch eggs hold their own at top prices.

Potatoes are firmer at present quotations and receipts are light,

Poultry is considered weak, Old chickens are in demand, but springs are not called for. Evaporated peaches and apricots have advanced 1-2 cent per pound. Seedless raisins are very scarce, and orders cannot be filled this year,
