DISCRIMINATING LADIES.

Enjoy Using Herpleide on Account of Its Distinctiveness.

The ladies who have used Newbro's Herpleide speak of it in the highest terms, for its quick effect in cleansing the scalp of dandruff and also for its excellence as a general hair-dressing. It makes the scalp feel fresh and it allays that itching which dandruff will cause. Newbro's Herpleide effectively cures dandruff, as it destroys the germ that causes it. The same germ causes hair to fall out, and later baldness; in killing it, Herpleide stops falling hair and prevents baldness. It is also an ideal hair dressing, for it lends an aristocratic charm to the hair that is quite distinctive. Sold by leading druggists. Send 30c. in stamps for sample to The Herpleide Co., Detroit, Mich.

ON APACHES' TRAIL

Settlers Pursue Apache Kid's Raiding trail.

WARRIORS WEAR WAR PAINT

Enraged at Encroachment of Whites on Their Pasture, Indians Kill Horses With Poisoned Arrows and Steal Cattle—Raiders Pursued.

Santa Fe, N. M., Aug. 20.—The Apaches from Arizona who are committing depredations in Southwestern Socorro county on the Mogullon forest reserve, raided the ranch of August Kiehn and killed several horses with poisoned arrows. They ran off a span of mules and other stock. People who saw the Indians state that they were decorated in feathers and warpaint.

Settlers fear this is the beginning of a general outbreak, as this has been a poor year for the Indians and they have become incensed because the stock of whites has been running on their pasture land. The raiders were pursued by settlers, who secured some of the stock. The trail of the Indians was followed as far as Eagle peak, where it was lost. Later, in the Elk mountains, the Indian camp was located and several mules and the camp outfit secured, but the Indians escaped, having abandoned the camp, stock and a supply of poisoned arrows. Cowboys from Frisco, near Prairie mountain, tried to run down the redskins, but failed, after a hot chase.

THE DOOM OF CHICAGO.

Bottom of Lake Michigan Is Rising—Will Submerge City.

Scientists of late have joined in doleful chorus in regard to the doom of Chicago. They do not, like evangelists in the old days, assert that the city one day will be submerged because of its wickedness. Their observations are made in the most cold-blooded manner possible and then conclusions are worked out with mathematical precision. And this is what they find:

The level of Lake Michigan has risen a foot within the last year and at this rate not more than ten years will elapse before all the low-lying sections of the city will be submerged. Professor Cox, of the bureau of meteorology of the national government, has given special attention to the remarkable phenomenon presented by the gradual elevation of the lake and agrees with Professor Maury of Columbia college and others that the lake region is tipping toward the Mississippi valley. He thinks, moreover, that if the process noted is not checked by some counter movement of nature—man of course being powerless—only a few years will elapse before all the present city of Chicago will be added to the floor of the lake that now washes its shores.

How far eastward this tipping process extends, scientists have not definitely determined. If Lake Erie be included, the list of its waters westward will inevitably affect the flow at Niagara Falls, and Buffalo, if that city is soulless enough to exult in the menace that is over Chicago, will enjoy a short-lived triumph over its great shipping rival, since Lake Erie, being deprived of its source of supply would become but a shallow pond or swamp, and in the course of natural events, dry land.

The situation is not a matter for humor, though ghastly odes have been based upon it. It is a physical fact which may, at no distant time, revolutionize the physical and commercial conditions of a vast region. Chicago, it is said, takes the matter philosophically, resolved to eat, drink and be merry to-day though possibly submerged tomorrow.

The tipping of the earth toward the Mississippi valley is a matter of tremendous import to a vast region outside of Chicago. While it is idle to attempt to assess the agricultural, commercial and industrial magnitude of such a disaster, it may be well to give ear to the facts as disclosed by the observation of scientists and regard the conclusions submitted by them, at least as possibilities. The prudent man, says Solomon, foreseeth the evil and hideth himself. The prudent man being enlightened by the mathematical calculations of the scientist, may readily foresee the evil that menaces a great city and a vast region by a movement that would drain the great lakes into the gulf through the Mississippi river. But how he can escape the consequences—or as the wise man has put it, "hide himself" from the evil—it is hard to see.

SUNDAY TRAFFIC TO SEASIDE IS VERY HEAVY.

Night Train to Portland Run in Two Sections of Twelve and Eight Cars.

Thousands of people visited Clatsop beach yesterday, the Astoria contingent, as usual, being a large one. The breaking in two of the train last night was an innovation on the A. & C. R. A section of 12 coaches filled to the overflowing was run and this was followed by one of eight. With Superintendent McGuire on hand to attend to the minutest details the traffic was handled without mishap.

WASHINGTON BEACHES FILLED.

Accommodations at Long Beach and The Breakers Crowded to Limit.

Thousands of people, hailing from everywhere, were visitors at the Washington beaches yesterday. The Breakers and Long Beach easily proved the most popular of the resorts. In its history traffic has not been so heavy as yesterday. The steamer Harvest Queen brought several hundred people from Portland and a great many of these boarded the Nahcotta. This little boat soon reached its limit, regarding the carrying of passengers, and the surplus was taken to Ilwaco on the steamer Shamrock, and on various gasoline craft.

A slight chill in the atmosphere suggested hesitation before bathing in the surf and at all beaches on the north shore there were comparatively few in the water. A hundred other means of diversion, however, were indulged in and people spent a most enjoyable day. There was a good crowd at the Breakers—a congenial crowd among whom "mixing" was easy. Following dinner, the crowd split up into little groups of two or three; some who were consistent remained loyal to the surf, others sought the 50 means of diversion always to be found.

FIGHTING THE STEGOMYIA.

The Eyes of the World Are on New Orleans.

In a circular letter issued by George P. Thompson of New Orleans, in his official capacity as first vice-president of the Southern Wholesale Grocers' association, the situation in New Orleans is thus set forth:

"The eyes of the entire world are on New Orleans in her fight for supremacy against the stegomyia. It is only a question of a short while when yellow fever in New Orleans will be a thing of the past. The United States marine hospital service, with experts at its head whose reputation is world-wide, is now in absolute charge; confidence has been restored, and business is moving along smoothly, with few exceptions, statements to the contrary notwithstanding. "When it is considered that out of a population of over 300,000 people, there have been to date only a few hundred cases of yellow fever in our midst and that a large proportion of these have been discharged, leaving barely 200 cases under treatment at this writing, the comparison of these few cases with our large population ought to be a very simple argument against the quarantining of freight, and so forth. "It is no longer a theory but an established fact that the mosquito is the transmitter of the fever. Freight will not convey it. Therefore, the quarantining of freight seems to be a fallacy. The stegomyia is now being systematically eliminated from our community; his banishment means the speedy end of the fever. Every one is working as a unit to one ultimate end—victory."

M. B. Beebe of Los Angeles Objects to Men Visiting Sister.

Regatta Notes

For All, and All For Astoria.

We'll have strangers in our midst

Looking out for fun.

Let us show them we are men

Pulling all for one.

For no strangers will decide

To make another call

Unless we show them we are men

Pulling one for all.

One for All, and All for Astoria.

The Boys' brigade has adopted the following regatta yell, for use while in Portland:

Here we are,
Here we are,
Who are we?
Why, A. A. R.

One for All, and All for Astoria.

Admiral Brown of great renown is now in town.

One for All, and All for Astoria.

Choose your partners for the Punkin quadrille at Farmer Scully's dance.

Meet me on the regatta boulevard. They say such things and they do such things on the boulevard.

One for All, and All for Astoria.

No, miss, Admiral Brown is not the leader of Brown's band. That's a Brown of a different town; but both Browns are well done.

Princess Sacajawea, we salute you!

One for All, and All for Astoria.

Chairman Charles E. Gray and associates of the regatta ball committee will decorate Astor hall tastily, but simply.

One for All, and All for Astoria.

A man in Victoria, B. C., wants to come here during the regatta and give an exhibition of walking upon the water in front of the grandstand. But he wants too much.

One for All, and All for Astoria.

One for All, and All for Astoria.

Say, don't forget to decorate your building; $40 first prize, $20 second prize, and besides that, show our visitors some dings.

One for All, and All for Astoria.

Chief "Sure Mike" Concomley is in training still. He quietly took the train for Seaside yesterday.

One for All, and All for Astoria.

The Norwegian Singing society will wear regatta ribbons while in Portland attending the great gathering of Norwegian Singing clubs in Portland next Friday. The badges are of white ribbon with the words, "Come to Astoria Regatta, Aug. 29, 30, 31," printed in blue ink.

One for All, and All for Astoria.

Mayor Surprenant suggests that while "One for All, and All for Astoria," is a good motto all the year around, that it would be appropriate during regatta week to say: "Fun for all and all in Astoria." The mayor is wise.

One for All, and All for Astoria.

Judge Howby is giving an exhibition of energy and loyalty which should be emulated by some our younger men. You're the right quality, Judge. By your fruits and vegetables they shall know your work.

One for All, and All for Astoria.

It is suggested that a shoot the chutes be built near the grandstand so that the boys may have a little fun and entertain the people on the grandstand at the same time.

One for All, and All for Astoria.

Secretary Johnson is proving himself the ideal secretary, forever working and forever smiling. The editor is growing fat on your good humor, Freddie.

One for All, and All for Astoria.

And Treasurer Dunbar. He is the real, genuine, 18-karat goods. You'll weigh less, but know more after this regatta. Bert; and all the rest of the boys, not a knocker in the bunch; our work will be over in two weeks, but the good fellowship just started among us will last for years.
