Latest Quotations in the Portland Markets.

Complete Market Reports Corrected Each Day Giving the Wholesale Prices of Commodities, Farm Produce and Vegetables.

Portland, Sept. 15.—Little is doing in the wheat market, as both farmers and exporters are waiting for settled conditions.

Mill stuffs of all kinds are held as high as though no new wheat were being ground up.

Samples of new hops are beginning to arrive in Portland, and are being sent to New York, London and other large hop centers of the world.

Those who have contracted are of course delivering at the contract price—16@18c; and this is really the only guide to present values. Hop quotations at this time are dubbed "nominal." Growers were never before so suspicious of buyers as they are now.

Fresh eggs continue to be firm in price according to most dealers, and are quoted at 25@26c. Cold storage eggs are being taken out of the refrigerators and sold at a profit, as they were put in last spring when they could be bought for 18@19c.

Poultry continues to sell about as fast as it arrives, but prices do not advance. Horseradish has begun to reach this city's markets. It sells at 9@10c per pound.
