Oceano Arrives and goes into Quarantine.

MUST BE DISINFECTED

Like Imaum She Brings Water Ballast From Chile Infected Port—Work Progresses on Pulitzer—Other News of Ships and Sailors.

The British steamer Oceano (3050 tons) twenty-two days out from Shanghai, arrived in yesterday afternoon about 4 o'clock and anchored off the lower quarantine grounds. She is in command of Captain Cave and consigned to Laidlaw & Co., at Portland, whither she will go when the federal quarantine officer here is through with her.

She is in water ballast, as was the Imaum, only she carries 1700 tons of the suspected fluid to the Imaum's 900, and Dr. Earle, the quarantine official has ordered her to sea to discharge her ballast and replace it with uncontaminated sea water, after which she will return to quarantine and undergo complete and systematic fumigation. When these orders have been complied with, she will be released for her port of destination probably within the next six days.

Her voyage was uneventful and made in good average time. She will without doubt, load with lumber for the Far East. On her last trip out she carried the giant cargo of lumber on record, 3,900,000 feet.

The steamer Roanoke, from San Pedro, San Francisco, Eureka and Coos Bay, will be at the Callender pier some time this morning, where a heavy manifest of south-bound freight awaits her.

The steamer Alliance from Eureka, and Coos Bay is due to arrive here this morning.

The federal customs steamer Patrol has arrived in home waters from her Portland trip of a week's duration.

The gasoline schooner Gerald C., will leave out on Saturday morning next for Nehalem with sixty tons of general merchandise.

The light-house tender Columbine left up for Portland yesterday morning on sudden orders.

The Nahcotta's captain, Thomas Carter, left for Portland yesterday on a long deferred and deserved vacation. The Ilwaco steamer will be in charge of Capt. Starr, her first mate, during the absence of his chief officer.

The little gasoline coaster Della is all ready for a trip to Nestucca and will leave instantly the weather is propitious.

The steam schooner Czarina, from California ports has arrived and is en route to Portland.

The steamer Aurelia, from San Francisco arrived in yesterday afternoon, and after dropping a small consignment of freight here, proceeded to Portland.

The steamer South Bay, running on route and business of the disabled coaster, F. A. Kilburn, now in dry dock at Brookfield, has arrived and gone hence to Portland.

The schooner W. F. Jewett will leave up for Portland, under tow, today.

The work of dismantling the bar-pilot schooner Pulitzer began yesterday, her topmasts being taken out and down. The work will be rushed to completion and will probably take ten or twelve days.

Attacked by a Mob

And beaten, in a labor riot, until covered with sores, a Chicago street car conductor applied Bucklen's Arnica Salve, and was soon sound and well. "I use it in my family," writes G. J. Welch of Tekonsha, Mich., "and find it perfect." Simply great for cuts and burns. Only 25c at Chas. Rogers' drug store.

AFTER THE DELINQUENTS.

Yesterday City Auditor Anderson was busily engaged in preparing warrants against certain lots and parcels of land responsible for, and delinquent in, the payment of sums assessed against them for the street improvements, and of which there are nearly 150, aggregating a tidy amount of money needed in the city treasury. As soon as they are ready they will be placed in the hands of Chief of Police Hallock for collection and subsequent prosecution if they are not paid "on the nail."

WAIT FOR FIGURES.

The alleged balance of $705 supposed to be in the hands of the Regatta committee, 1905, does not exist, according to a prominent officer of that body. This is not written as a criticism in any sense, but the fact has been published in other columns, and is either true or misleading. The officer referred to declares the balance will approximate the sum of $400 and not exceed it, and that it will be wise to await the full and final report of the committee which will give exact and minute details that will have the merit of being actualities. It is hoped this report will be ready for the public early next week.

NOW IS THE TIME TO GO.

Many special features have been arranged for the closing days of the Lewis and Clark fair at Portland, notably, the great live stock show now being held in the exposition grounds, which will close September 29th, and the "Portland day celebration" to be held Saturday, September 30.

The latter occasion promises to attract a record-breaking attendance within the gates of the exposition and undoubtedly will be the greatest event in the history of the fair and a fitting climax to the remaining days. That this special day will be a grand success seems already assured and the efforts to accomplish this end. The extremely low round trip excursion tickets sold daily by the A. & C. R. R., at the rate of $3.00 from Astoria to Portland and return will attract hundreds from this city to witness the special events.

A MAN MISSING.

Walter Scott, foreman of the job office of the Morning Astorian is missing. His disappearance was made known last night and caused serious alarm among his many friends in this city, until the intelligence reached the office that he was seen walking rapidly through the southern outskirts of town carrying a roll of bedding and a gun. When questioned as to his sudden flight and his objective point he simply grunted "Nehalem," and swung on through the night. Being hailed with a query as to what he was going there for he yelled back "Bear"; this was the last seen of him. The wires were kept hot for a while advising the constables in that district of his route and approach, and asking them to see that he did not go hungry. He had ample provisions against thirst. The bears were not notified of his coming, as this was deemed superfluous. It is hoped his strutting lapse into lunacy will soon pass and that he will find his "bearings" and return.

BURIED IN GREENWOOD.

The funeral services over the remains of little Masca Felangos, the child who was drowned in the river at Clifton on Tuesday afternoon were held yesterday at 2 o'clock p. m., at the undertaking parlors of Coroner Pohl and at the graveside in Greenwood cemetery Rev. W. Seymour Short, rector of Grace Episcopal church, officiating. The parents with a large party of friends arrived on the noon train from Clifton. It is an unfortunate circumstance for the Greek population hereabout that they are denied the ready ministrations of their church owing to the fact that their nearest priest is at Portland and the bishop of this diocese as far away as Seattle. It is said these conditions will be remedied in the near future if it is possible to accomplish it.

WORD FROM FORT CANBY

Work Progressing Rapidly in View of Approach of Winter.

Work on the government fortifications at Fort Canby is rapidly nearing completion, and it is not expected that it will last more than a month or six weeks longer. Just what the government has in store for the post, in the future, is problematical, yet present indications point to the rapid transformation of the post, into a modern formidable fortification. At present only two batteries have been commenced, but it is generally supposed that other batteries will be placed on all the hills, holding a commanding position.

The fact that General Mackenzie, chief of engineers, at the head of the committee on inspection recently out from Washington, made a minute inspection of the post, but refused utterly to commit himself on the project, is considered indicative that comprehensive plans are being formulated. General Mackenzie had all kinds of things to say about the jetty, but Fort Canby, not a word.

Work will probably be suspended on the fortifications only during the winter months, and be actively resumed with the opening of spring. However, the matter will be governed largely by the funds available for the purpose.
