

COSSACKS END MEETINGS

Demonstrations Stopped at Nevsky.

TROOPS ON THE SCENE

Immense Crowds Gather But Gendarmes Keep Them on the Move.

NATIONAL HYMN IS HISSED

Printers Go On Strike On Political Grounds and Only a Few of the Leading Papers Will Get Out a Sheet of Any Kind Today—May Be General.

St. Petersburg, Oct. 15.—Red flag demonstrations in Nevsky this afternoon drew immense crowds of spectators, but a squadron of gendarmes and Cossacks drove the demonstrators away without resorting to force. No disturbances occurred in the industrial quarter of the city.

Large forces of troops were held in readiness in the court yards of the barracks and in squares in various parts of the city to deal with any disorders. From Nevsky Prospect a band of students and workmen, carrying red flags and chanting revolutionary songs, marched across the river and began an open air meeting in the square in front of the university.

While the speeches were in progress the police again charged and dispersed the crowds.

In the melee a workman and a student received sabre cuts. The crowd took refuge in the university building and the meeting continued without being disturbed by the police.

During the annual school festival at the fifth gymnasium today, members of the audience began to hiss the national hymn. A panic ensued and in the excitement was augmented by the explosion of giant firecrackers. Many persons were bruised in the rush, but no one was seriously injured. The students were exasperated over the attacks by the police and the arrest of several members of the coalition committee at the students meeting on September 26 and the renewal of disorders is not improbable.

A serious feature of the situation is the strike of the printers declared to-night, on political grounds, which is to last for a period of three days, but may be continued longer in case of repressive measures or arrests. A few of the leading daily newspapers hope to be able to issue a single sheet giving telegraphic news, but the others will suspend publication entirely. Employees in several factories are ready to follow the lead of the printers and the authorities are fully alive to the danger that the strike may become a general one.

Should the strike spread grave danger is to be apprehended from riots that may follow.

DOORS ARE CLOSED

Shutting of Government Building Affects Many.

LIKE BREAKING UP A HOME

Scene More Closely Resembled a Death Scene Than Shutting up of an Exhibition Building—Band Plays "Star Spangled Banner" as Lights Go Out.

Portland, Oct. 15.—There was no more pathetic incident connected with the passing of the Lewis and Clark exposition than the closing of the beautiful building which the United States government erected in commemoration of this great centennial. The government building has been one of the centers around which the deepest exposition interest centered this summer. It was the one exhibit which interested the poor man and the rich man alike the one in which every mother's son of us felt a like proprietary interest. And when it was forever closed yesterday evening at 5 o'clock there was scarcely a dry eye in the great multitude which gathered on the island to witness the closing ceremonies.

Up in the big building sentiment was more unrestrained, and many friends wrung each other by the hand. They all stood it pretty well until taps sounded—the soldiers good-night—and then many broke down entirely.

"Seems just like it was a family breaking up," explained Mr. Springman as he swallowed a big lump in his throat and cleared his voice. "We have been here all summer together, and many of us were in St. Louis, too. Now that it is all over—well, we couldn't feel worse if we were all akin."

Orders Issued for Release of Ships Interned in Neutral Ports—Date for Exchange of Prisoners Has Not Yet Been Fixed—Ministers Are Notified.

St. Petersburg, Oct. 15.—The ratification of the treaty of peace was formally announced this morning in the Official Messenger which says its operation began yesterday.

As a graceful mark of appreciation of the part he took in bringing the conference at Portsmouth and resultant peace, President Roosevelt was the first person notified by the Russian government that Emperor Nicholas had ratified the treaty. As soon as the emperor's signature was affixed to the instrument, and before the treaty had been brought back from Peterhof for the countersignature of Foreign Minister Lamdorff, the news was sent directly to the president.

The official notification to the French government, according to the foreign office, followed several hours later. As soon as the treaty had been fully ratified the foreign office communicated to the war, navy and other ministers and, necessary orders were immediately issued for bringing home some ships interned in neutral harbors.

The date for an exchange of prisoners of war has not yet been fixed.

REMAINS MAY RESIDE IN WESTMINSTER ABBEY

People Believe That Sir Henry Irving Should Lie in Hallowed Spot.

London, Oct. 15.—That the body of Sir Henry Irving should find a resting place in Westminster Abbey appears to be the general desire. An editorial in this morning's Telegraph says:

"The nation will, we are persuaded to believe, ask this honor for him with no uncertain voice and we know we interpret the wish and feeling of the country when we plead for a public interment in the Abbey."

It seems beyond a doubt, that Irving sacrificed himself by hard work. He had been advised long ago to give up roles owing to strain thrown on a weak heart. Sir Charles Weindham says that in February of last year he begged Sir Henry to take warning and not burn the candle at both ends, with receptions in the morning and exacting performances in the evening.

SMUGGLING CHINESE

Southern Pacific Is Asked to Block Organized Gang.

RAILROAD MEN ARE INDICTED

Secretary of Commerce and Labor Metcalf Requests Railroads to Prevent Employes From Smuggling in Coolies From Mexico—Spotters Are Sent Out.

San Francisco, Oct. 15.—The sequel to the indictment of two Southern Pacific freight conductors at El Paso by the federal grand jury for smuggling Chinese in freight cars from Mexico into the United States, and especially California, is a request from Secretary of Commerce and Labor Metcalf to Julius Kruttschnitt that the Southern Pacific official aid his immigration agents in stamping out the smuggling of Chinese on its west-bound freight trains from El Paso.

Kruttschnitt has taken the matter up with his subordinates here and it is understood that "spotters" are scattered along the line between El Paso and Los Angeles and this city to try to discover what "främmen," if any, are interested in running through contraband Chinese.

William B. Aiken and John Goddard are the two conductors indicted. It is charged that they and a number of confederates among brakemen and conductors divided $150 apiece for every Chinaman they succeeded in bringing into California hidden in a boxcar. Secretary Metcalf informed Kruttschnitt that a good many contraband Chinese have entered California from El Paso during the past three or four years with the assistance of trainmen, and that the latter have divided among them many hundreds of dollars.

The Southern Pacific people admit having a number of trainmen employed in New Mexico and Arizona under suspicion, and say they will be discharged if the facts finally warrant such action. The road believes the smuggling business is practically at an end.

DEATH FOLLOWS DISHONOR

E. H. Darrow Elops With the Wife of His Son and When Repentance Came He Shot and Killed the Woman Before Ending His Own Worthless Existence

Sioux City, Oct. 15.—While driving in a hack from a hotel to the railway station here today, E. H. Darrow, aged 60, shot and killed his son's wife, Lillian Darrow, aged 25, and then shot and killed himself.

The hack driver, immediately upon hearing the first shot, without stopping to investigate, started for the police station where both occupants sitting upright on opposite seats, were found to be dead.

The cause of the tragedy is not known. Darrow and the woman came to the Arcade hotel in this city October 10, and registered "E. H. Darrow and wife."

This afternoon they started for the railway station, ostensibly to take the train for Sioux Falls, the home of Darrow's son.

Letters were found in the woman's purse unsigned, but apparently from her husband, saying the writer was dying of a broken heart.

SPIRITS AID HIM

Ghostly Friends Tell a Californian Where He Has Money Coming From.

Santa Barbara, Oct. 14.—A fortune is coming to J. K. Moore of Summerland, a well-to-do old gentleman, out of a business transaction that dates back almost 30 years. For years Moore has utterly forgotten an investment he made in 1876, and a small sum then loaned on a mortgage has now amounted to between $9000 and $10,000.

Moore took his mortgage and for business reasons transferred it to a friend of his boyhood. Then an illness temporarily impaired his memory, to which the loan never recurred. Moore claims that friends from the spirit world reminded him of it. Every detail came back to him a couple of weeks ago. With much trouble his friend, a wealthy druggist, was located in one of the north middle states. He writes that he canceled the mortgage in 1888, receiving $1800 for it, and states that the money was deposited in an Iowa bank, a big concern. More, who figures the sum as now worth almost $10,000, has written the bank, but has not yet had a reply.

One of the engineers was caught in the cab of the locomotive and cooked by the escaping steam. He lived several hours, although large pieces of cooked flesh fell from his bones.

Hancock was formerly in charge of the mails at the census bureau here, but had not been employed for two years.

Upon the finding of additional evidence in the case, to establish a criminal operation, a warrant was issued for the arrest of Mrs. Amanda Macakall, a sister of Hancock's, for complicity in the crime.
