SHOT NEAR NEHALEM

Hunter Is Killed in the Woods by Companion.

MAY HAVE BEEN ACCIDENTAL

Only Meagre Details of the Affair Have Been Received by Coroner Pohl—Both Men Passed Through Astoria Several Days Ago.

W. D. Eddy, who has been hunting and trapping in the timber near Nehalem, was shot and killed by his companion, R. L. Holtze, yesterday forenoon. Only meagre information concerning the affair has been received by Coroner Pohl, and whether the shooting was accidental or with murderous intent, is not known. The shooting occurred somewhere in the Nehalem country, this side of the boundary line.

Shortly before noon yesterday Coroner Pohl received a message from Dr. C. H. Upton, of Tillamook, stating that Eddy had been shot by Holtze, and that Holtze was still in the woods. On receipt of the news, Mr. Pohl immediately wired the coroner of Tillamook county, to investigate the affair, with instructions to take charge if he found it purely accidental and to report if it looked suspicious in any way. Since then he has been unable to reach either Nehalem or Tillamook by telegraphic communication.

Little is known of either Eddy or Holtze in Astoria. On Tuesday, October 10, they arrived down the river on the Telegraph, and made inquiries concerning steamer accommodation to the Nehalem country. As the Elmore would not make another trip for several days, they decided to go to Seaside, and go over the trail by foot. Their camping outfit they shipped to Nehalem on the steamer Elmore, and left for Seaside on the Wednesday evening train. They registered at the Parker house Tuesday night.

Charles H. Haddix, a clerk in one of the local steamship offices, had a conversation with the two men, when they applied at his office to have their luggage shipped to Nehalem. He describes both as dark, and under middle age. Theodore Broemser, landlord of the Parker house, was another who conversed with them. To both Haddix and Broemser, the men stated they were going into the Nehalem country on a hunting expedition.

From the information which Coroner Pohl received, no intimation can be taken as to whether the affair is a murder or merely an accidental shooting. It states that Holtze was still in the woods, but whether to stay by the body, or whether he is in hiding, is a mystery. According to the registry at the Parker house, both men claim Portland as their home.

OWAPUNPUNS WIN.

Outplayed by West Astorians Who Lose at Critical Time.

After they had been outplayed at practically every stage of the game, the Owapupun football team defeated the West Astorians, on the local gridiron yesterday afternoon, by a score of 6 to 0. The Puns succeeded in making a touchdown toward the close of the last half of the game, which netted a score of five, and Anstadt kicked a goal from a difficult position, which raised it to six. The game was somewhat loosely played and devoid of sensational features.

The team from the west side started the game by forcing the ball to the five-yard line of the Puns, but lost it a few moments later and was crowded back to their own ten-yard line. The contest was then fiercely waged, but neither side succeeded in scoring in the first half.

In the second half, the West Astoria team showed to better advantage, due in a measure to their heavier weight. They failed to connect with the scorecard, however, and lost to the enemy at a critical time. A large number of people witnessed the game.

The lineup follows:

Owapupun	Position	W. Astoria
Kimball	C	Marion
Elbon	RG	Larson
Owen O.	LG	Larson
Owen S.	RT	Hill
Johansen	LT	Vernon
Anstadt	RE	Sepula
Larson	LE	Emmerson
Hughes	RH	Carlson
Olsen	LH	Crowe
Andrieh	FB	Wirrkala
Brakke	QB	Juricks

MADE A GOOD STORY

Oakland "String Fiend" Tries to Grab Space in Newark Paper.

REPORTED ACTOR SHOT HERE

Story Had Earmarks of Being True, But the News Editor on the New Jersey Paper Is From Missouri and He Wired Astorian for Verification.

Everybody is familiar with the old saying that "you must go away from home to get the news."

On the evening of October 19th a telegram was received at the office of the Morning Astorian reading as follows: "Please wire us tonight identification of the Newark, N. J., actor killed on the stage. Send street address, also developments in the story."

The telegram came from Newark, N. J., and was signed by the Evening News of that city.

No member of the staff had heard of any actor being killed on the stage and the manager of the only theatre running here at the time most emphatically asserted that no tragedy had occurred in his house. It was a clear case of a "wrong steer" and the Newark paper was wired to that effect.

A few days ago a letter was received by the Astorian containing the thanks of the Evening News for the prompt reply and enclosing the following clipping:

"According to a special dispatch received from Oakland, Cal., at the News office yesterday afternoon, an actor known as H. H. Breed, claiming to be from this city, was shot and killed at Astoria, Ore., last Monday night. The dispatch state that Breed was taking part in a melodrama at the Grand Opera House at Astoria, and that another actor, whose name is given as Frank Laughton, shot the Newark man on the stage by mistake. It was explained that the revolver used by Laughton was loaded with bullets, and that he aimed the weapon at Breed during the progress of the play. Laughton thinking the gun was loaded with blank cartridges.
