THE REAL TEST

Of Herpicide Is In Giving It a Thorough Trial.

There is only one test by which to judge of the efficiency of any article and that is by its ability to do that which it is intended to do. Many hair-vigors may look nice and smell nice, but the point is—do they eradicate Dandruff and stop falling hair?

No, they do not, but Herpicide does, because it goes to the root of the evil and kills the germ that attacks the papilla from whence the hair gets its life.

Letters from prominent people everywhere are daily proving that Newbro's Herpicide stands the "test of use."

It is a delightful dressing, clear, pure and free from oil or grease. Send 10c. in stamps for leading druggists. Send 10c. in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.

SHOT HIS COMPANION

R. L. Hotze Kills W. G. Eddy by Accident.

BODY FOUND 18 HOURS LATER

Men Had Gone Into the Nehalem Country on a Hunting Trip—Hotze Mistakes His Companion for Wild Animal and Fires Fatal Shot—Lost in Woods.

The following dispatch from Nehalem gives complete details of the shooting of W. G. Eddy, referred to in the Morning Astorian yesterday:

Almost frantic with grief at having mortally wounded his hunting companion, W. G. Eddy, by having mistaken him for a deer, R. L. Hotze was unable to find his way back to where he had left the wounded man to get him a drink of water and Eddy died probably long before he was found by a searching party 18 hours later. Both men are from Lents, Or., and the accident occurred seven or eight miles up the North Fork of the Nehalem, whither they had gone to establish a winter hunting camp.

The accident occurred early Saturday afternoon. Hotze and Eddy were hunting and had separated. The young man thought his companion was behind him, and seeing a stir in the bushes ahead fired. The cries of the victim of the mistake soon made it known. Hotze hastened to the scene and did what he could for the wounded man by laying him in an easy position and bolstering his head up with a coat. Then he started to the nearest creek, some distance away, to get a drink of water for Eddy, who complained of intense thirst.

He reached the river but was unable to find his way back. He searched for several hours, and finally as darkness approached, started for help. They had been encamped in a deserted cabin in the region, and the nearest house was four miles away. Hotze reached it late at night, almost exhausted, and panted out his fearful tale.

Assistance was summoned from Nehalem, and a party started out on the search before daylight. About 8 o'clock they found the dead body where Hotze had left it in search of water. Eddy had been shot through the hip and his wound in any event would probably have been fatal.

Hotze is almost distracted because he deems himself responsible, not only for Eddy's death, but also for untold agonies which he must have suffered before death relieved him.

Eddy and Hotze came here from Lents a few days ago. Eddy practiced magnetic healing there, and had resided in the vicinity about seven months, coming from Yaquina Bay, where his father is still living. The dead man was a widow, and had no family living. He served at one time in the army, and was a pensioner on the disability list. He was about 37 years old, and his companion was much younger.

RARE BIRD KILLED NEAR GRAY'S HARBOR

Resembles American Wood Duck—It Has Never Before Been Found So Far North.

The first specimen of the fulvous tree duck ever killed north of the British French and Dutch Guiana was shot a few days ago by Phil. Locke, of Aberdeen, near Gray's Harbor. The bird has been stuffed and is now in possession of the hunter who killed it and is prized as a rare trophy by him.

The creature is much like the American wood duck, recognized as one of the most beautiful of birds. In color it is light brown on the breast and a beautiful mottled brown on the back. In shape it is much the same as the American wood duck, but is considerably more leggy.

The bird is believed to have been driven north from South America by some storm which it encountered while out at sea. The bird was probably carried out of its bearings by the gale and finally landed near Gray's harbor, where it was killed by Locke.

STATION ON SANTIAM

Fish Warden Van Dusen Wants an Experimental Hatchery.

LOCATES FAVORABLE SITE

Inspects Experimental Work at the McKenzie Station, and Finds Work Progressing Nicely—Two Million Eggs Have Already Been Taken.

Master Fish Warden Van Dusen returned from a trip of inspection along the streams of the upper Willamette, Sunday morning. He visited the experimental station on the McKenzie river, and made a trip up the Santiam where an experimental station will probably be later established.

At the McKenzie station, Mr. Van Dusen found that nearly two million eggs had been taken, and that the work was progressing nicely. This station will be operated for another year, before steps are taken toward establishing of a permanent hatchery. It is believed that a much better showing will be made next season as the result of the improvement made on the Oregon City fishway, and it is not desired to provide for a hatchery until its needed capacity can be ascertained.

Mr. Van Dusen states that he found several desirable sites for the location of a station on the Santiam river, and will probably recommend that provision for a station be made at a subsequent meeting of the State Fish Commission.

FOR MAYORALTY.

Cashier J. E. Higgins is to be personally importuned by a numerously signed petition, today, to permit the use of his name in connection with the mayoralty nomination. The petition was in full flight about the city yesterday and in the hands of L. E. Selig. The interested signers will probably know sometime today just how Mr. Higgins views the proposition.

49 VOTERS REGISTER

All Parties and Nationalities Represented at City Hall.

ONE MAN REFUSES TO TELL

Ordinarily He Is a Republican, But First He Wants to See Who the Republicans Nominate—One Socialist in the Bunch.

Fifty voters, lacking one, filed up before Auditor Anderson at the city hall yesterday afternoon, and made the necessary oaths incidental to registration. From 9 o'clock in the morning, when the registry books were opened, until they were closed at 4 in the afternoon, men of all kinds, sizes, nationalities and parties, lined up at the registration counter, and took the oath alike. After the day's work was over, Auditor Anderson examined his records and found that just 49 had registered during the day, 13 from Precinct No. 2, 11 from No. 3, 15 from No. 4, three from No. 5, and 6 from No. 7.

Republicanism and Democracy were both liberally represented by the voters who took the oaths of suffrage, while some pinned their allegiance to the non-partisan creed. One loyal party individual was bold enough to proclaim that he was a Socialist.

It remained for the solitary voter, however, to take the breath of the registration officer, when he refused to give his political faith. Coaxing and cajoling alike proved in vain, and an entry "refused to state," was finally made on the register. He then explained himself by saying that under ordinary conditions he was a Republican, but that he had been fooled by a certain Republican official once, and he proposed to see who they placed in nomination this time.

The grating over the counter at the Auditor's office has been temporarily removed, in order to better accommodate applicants for registration.
