POLITICAL DOINGS

Things Being Said and Done and for What Purpose.

DEMOCRATS ARE EXPLAINING

Odds and Ends of Gossip of Street, Office and Public Places—How the Leaders Feel and How the Voters Do Not Feel—Indications Plainly Given.

The campaign goes merrily on, apace. The local leader is doing the talking, and the voter is doing the thinking, a prerequisite to doing business—at the polls.

The Budget is in politics again, additional and emphatic proof that its party is at the head and front of the local campaign.

If the Democrats, primarily, and the "Citizen" understudies secondarily, are not working for a "wide open town," via the December and June elections, why don't they say so in specific terms? Alas! It's too late, besides being too true.

Thomas Campbell, Democratic nominee for superintendent of streets, is to the forefront of the battle. He is passing but his political card d'visite broadcast, in the simple, old fashioned way. Among others, he "does not know" just what the Democratic policies are.

The Astorian is in receipt of a signed letter complaining of the police, that is, some of them, for drinking openly in saloons with dissolute women. The writer mentions no names, dates nor places, and this paper refrains from comment until it is in possession of tangible facts.

The local Democracy is in an uproar because it is credited with the management of the "Citizens" campaign. Well, Well! If the numbers, the celerity, the avidity and the unquestioned success, with which they took hold of things at the alleged Citizens meeting on last Wednesday night, is any indication of proprietary leadership, then the credit is justly, wholly and unfailingly theirs. So be it.

The Budget announces in cold, black type the Police Commission is not responsible for the police. Will it inform a patient and curious public, just what the police commission is for? If all the public offenses and offenders are to be handled by county officials in the state courts and the charter provisions against all phases of public immorality are to be read as dead letters, the police had better turn in their badges and be sworn to service as deputies-sheriff. The evasion sought to be made is on a par with the rest of the hang-fire, dubious and mis-fit propaganda of the Democrats, to date.

According to Democratic testimony, duly echoed by the trailers and "non-partisans," everything municipal is all right; the officers are all doing their duty, nothing is amiss, the city is safe, the public debt is not increasing, the charter limits are all being observed, the police commission, the chief, and the force, are doing all the law commands them, nothing is wrong, all is right and the devil is asleep. The Republicans beg to differ; an audacious and untimely thing to do, of course but if it were not for an occasional "butter-in," life would be so smooth some people might get to "slipping."

With John W. Babbidge, W. C. Laws, and Martin Foard as a police commission, there will be something like oversight and control of police matters in this city. The chief, and the force, will know more about their relations to the commission than the Budget seems to know, and there will be control, regulation, and supervision that controls, regulates and supervises.

Yesterday the formal acceptance of their respective nominations as candidates on the Republican ticket were filed with Judge Anderson, by A. S. Tee, for city surveyor; John Nordstrom, for city treasurer; C. A. Leinenweber, for councilman, and J. F. Kearney, for city superintendent of streets.

The Astorian deeply regrets that any one should fail to understand all it has to say in relation to the pending campaign its people, its issues, its effects, but as complaints on this score, to date, have hailed from the Democratic camp only, it hesitates to apologize, lest, in so doing, it shall contribute proof that the complaining Democrat can really read, a concession that contravenes one of the holiest traditions of that party.

bar at that time. When he was admitted to practice before the supreme court, the late Charles B. Bellinger, whose place he is now appointed to fill, was then clerk of the state supreme court.

May Name Thomas Hailey.

Salem, Nov. 21.—Governor Chamberlain will appoint Thomas G. Hailey, of Pendleton, to fill the vacancy on the Oregon Supreme Court bench, caused by the appointment of Judge Wolverson as United States District Judge. The Governor did not say in so many words that he would appoint Hailey, when asked this morning but left little ground for supposing that any one else would be named. He stated, however, he might appoint William Ramsey, of La Grande. The Governor said he was not ready to announce whom he was going to appoint, and in all probability no positive announcement will be made until after the resignation of Judge Wolverson is received and acted upon.

A Word About York-shire Suits

Wise is the only man in Astoria who has them; as a rule fine houses in the largest cities carry these clothes.

Each clothier selects his own name, some call theirs "The Chesterfield," "The Buckingham," I call mine the "Yorkshire." These clothes are made by Sturte, Mayer & Co., Chicago; who do not advertise at all, but they are known by all clothing men as the makers of the highest grade clothing in the United States.

Suits to sell from $22.50 to $40.00 and there are not a dozen tailors in all of the largest cities who can equal their work; a big boast but a true one.

TWO GOLD MEDALS AWARDED THE MONARCH

At the Lewis and Clark Exposition

Two Gold Medals awarded the Monarch at the Lewis and Clark Exposition, the first and only time this range was ever shown at any exposition.

No grand prizes were offered, but the Jury on stoves and Ranges voluntarily manifested their high esteem of the Monarch Range by writing the letter reproduced here.

Several gold medals were awarded different Range and Stove manufacturers for various things--the Monarch received two. But it remains for the Monarch alone to receive the unqualified endorsement of the Jury, as is evidenced by this letter.

Mr. F. V. Rogers,
c/o Malleable Iron Range Co.'s Booth,
Manufactures Building,
Lewis & Clark Fair, Portland.

Dear Sir:
I am in receipt of your letter of thanks and appreciation in receiving the gold medal, (highest award) on Monarch Malleable Ranges.
It may please you to know, we the jury, awarded the gold medal on first ballot and had there been any higher prize offered, the Monarch Range would certainly have received it.
We found the Monarch the best finished and best constructed Range with more special features than any other Range on exhibit.

Jury on Stoves and Ranges
D. H. Barton
J. W. Rappley
P. J. ...
L. ...

This Demonstrates beyond the shadow of a doubt the superiority of the Monarch over all others. No other Range or Stove exhibited was, in the opinion of the Jury equal to the Monarch.

Pages of matter in praise of this Range could not speak as convincingly as does this letter, written by men of undisputed judgment and knowledge.

An examination of the MONARCH Range at our store will prove to any one the justice of this verdict.
