REPUBLICAN NOMINEES.

The Republican ticket presented for the consideration of the electors of Astoria at the coming municipal election, is manifestly the best that can be offered as to personnel. The policies behind these men is business-like and wholesome and means something for the city. It means that the encroachment upon the debt-limit of the charter will stop, and a receding movement set in, in that behalf; it means clean, straightforward, business manipulation of the finances for the general good; it means honest retrenchment in public expenditures along all lines, until the normal limits are again in force; it means that the police commission will do its whole duty by the force as well as the people, and take its place in the administration that the law gives it, without leaving the functions of police supervision to the lesser officers; it means the preservation of the present system of regulation of slum-traffic, only it will put the power and responsibility for such regulation in the hands of the municipal police and relinquish its reliance upon the County officers for the fulfillment of local ordinances by the substituted statutes; it means that Astoria will be governed by her own charter to the last limit of its prerogative and requirement and that she will be so governed that her citizens need not blush for the record; and it means, above all else, that the City is not to be thrown wide open to dangers and disorders incident to gambling and dance-halls after the June election. The election of this ticket means the making of decent, creditable history for the city and her people, and the defeat of this ticket means, just as surely, the indirect domination of the gambler, the low sport and the macque to the utter undoing of the municipality. Look to it, you voters in whose hands the whole situation rests.

PECULIAR RETICENCE.

It is a singular circumstance that the Democrat, and his "Non-Partisan" coadjutor in this campaign, will vociferously deny their scheme to open up the town, in the course of personal conversation, but neither of their organs has yet had the temerity to declare this in plain type. WHY?

ASTORIA VERSUS NEW YORK.

The Tammany Democrats of New York are in a tremendous mess for trying to steal the election from the Citizens. Why didn't they follow the Astoria plan and stand in with the Citizens, capture their support, lead them to victory and gobble the glory and other perquisites in due season? That's the program here, and that it won't work, will be due to the activity and good faith of the Republicans in saving the City and Citizens, from the game.

LOCAL TAMMANY.

The Democratic push needs organization. Why not found a local Tammany hall here? The tiger needs a lair. Give him one and call the faithful into some sort of cohesive shape. As a phase of high-finance, it cannot be improved upon. The suggestion is offered gratuitously. New York is a pretty "wide open" city, from all accounts. This is gratuitous, also.

EVERY DOLLAR A PROTEST.

There is reason to believe, horrible as the idea is, that the massacres of Jews occurring in so many places in Russia are caused chiefly by the malignant influence of the autocracy whose unlimited power is crumbling away. In seeking to guard their own safety, and to retain as much as possible of absolutism, the autocrat nobles are believed to have played upon the old hatred of Jews, and cunningly turned the wild passions of the mob in that direction. The slaughter of Jews has been going on for years in southeastern Europe, because agents of the autocracy encouraged the masses to believe that excessive taxes and other burdens of misgovernment are due to greedy machinations of the Jews, while the superior intelligence and education of the Jewish population add to the jealousy of the peasants.

The mob assaults on the Jews in Russia can not be understood at all unless some subtle diabolism is at work, lashing blind ignorance into a blood-thirsty rush upon the innocent. When the Russian Government and people learn from the great subscriptions pouring in that the sympathies of the most enlightened nations is with the Jews struggling against mob murder and rapine, the undoubted effect will be to succor the downtrodden race, for the relief funds show that the victims are not friendless, and also amount to a world-wide protest.

TEA POT TEMPEST.

The pigmy revolution in the Isle of Pines, consisting of two whoops, three yells and a manifesto, is satisfactorily explained. The movement for independence is said to have been supported by a clique of wealthy Americans who have a decidedly practical object in view. It is stated on what is believed to be good authority that an American syndicate intends to make the Isle of Pines a second Monaco. It is said to be their intention to erect upon the island a magnificent casino and a large number of expensive residences, which will be rented for the winter season to wealthy people who wish to spend the winter in that beautiful climate, and at the same time enjoy the sport and excitement which a large gambling house would offer to them. For the accommodation of those who do not wish to be burdened with a large household, several large and luxuriously equipped hotels will be built. The Isle of Pines is near the southern coast of Cuba, and is a delightful place to spend the winter, but it is not probable that it will ever be utilized as a gambling hell.

REAPING ITS HARVEST.

History is repeating itself in Russia. She now has a new pretender to deal with. In the very region where Pugatcheff arose in the time of Catherine II., pretending to be Peter III., near Penza, on the banks of the Volga, a region noted for its agrarian uprisings, a false emperor has appeared, and already has a large following, about 50,000. This, without doubt, means serious trouble for the already distracted empire. It took a year to suppress the Pugatcheff uprising.

Czar Nicholas has lost a great deal of ground by reason of his dilatory policy. The minute he announces his willingness to yield to one demand of his terrified subjects they seem to be ready with something else a little more radical to insist upon.

A Philadelphia paper that was on the losing side in the recent campaign is convinced that "It is always best to give people what they want without unnecessary delay."

It is hinted that Great Britain and Japan will start a rival to the Panama canal, using the Nicaragua plan as a basis. Senator Morgan will soon be strutting around with a vindication chip on his shoulder.

New Yorkers believe in state improvements. Some time ago they voted $101,000,000 to deepen the Erie canal, and at the recent election approved the issue of $50,000,000 state bonds to be spent in road building.

A right reverend bishop declares flat-houses inimical to married life, but of course the head of the family may, if he wishes, insist on bringing up the coal himself as a matter of principle.

It would be a joke if the Panama canal should be finished before those engineering experts agree on the plans, but there does not seem to be much sense of humor down on the isthmus.

Russia may be aggrieved at having twenty-four hours without a revolution, but those St. Petersburg correspondents are entitled to a day off after a good week's work.

It is reported that in sixty-eight counties of Kentucky no whiskey is sold. That is a terrible responsibility to throw upon the other fifty-one counties.

The Russian proletariat have again called off the strike, without prejudice to their favorite occupation of calling down Witte.

The Benefits of Modern Plumbing.

One of the most generally approved ideas of modern plumbing is that of installing one-piece lavatories supplied with hot and cold running water in the sleeping apartments and dressing chambers of the individual members of the household.

The benefits derived from this arrangement will not only be found necessary to modern living, but also prove a source of convenience and comfort to the occupants.

Send for a copy of booklet "Modern Lavatories," which shows the complete line of "Standard" One-piece Lavatories with approximate prices in detail.
