dence to Bring Criminal Actions.

GE'S IMPORTANT WITNESS

Secures Former Standard Oil Accountant to Give Very Important Testimony Regarding the Illegal Transactions of Trust—Signed Name Falsely

CLEVELAND, Jan. 25.—At the conclusion of today's session of the investigation of the Standard Oil Company's methods of doing business inaugurated by the State of Missouri.
Attorney-General Hadley announced he had sufficient evidence accumulated to warrant bringing of criminal actions under the laws of the State of New York. Hadley said in substance that Louis H. Turrell, an accountant in Detroit, and for some years an employee of the Standard Oil Company, swore today that he was induced by the Standard Oil officials to sign the name of "F. A. Turrell" to documents when in reality his name was Louis H.
Turrell. His testimony further shows his signature was never sworn to, and the notary who took his affidavit can under the laws of New York, be prosecuted for forgery. It will be up to Jerome, Hadley says, to say whether persons who induced Turrell to sign his name falsely can be included in the prosecutions.

ternational Billiard Contest.

lie Hoppe, New York; Jacob Schaefer, Chicago; Albert G. Cutler, Boston; Geo.
F. Slosson, New York; and Ora Morningstar, New York and Paris. Maurice points up and the winner will receive

"SEE AMERICA FIRST"
CONFERENCE AT SALT LAKE

SALT LAKE, Jan. 25.—With an attendance which included the governors of three States, representatives of commercial organizations from the leading cities of the West, and prominent railroad and business men, the "See America First" conference began today. Former Governor Wells and Governor Cutler were among those who delivered addresses of welcome ship at 18.2 billiards. There will, in addition, be cash prizes to the value of $2500.

George F. Slosson is the first to challenge Willie Hoppe for the championship at 18.2. This is the title which Hoppe wrested from Maurice Vigneux last week in Paris. This must not be confounded with the 18.2 balk line game at which the International Tournament will be played. Hoppe, it is said, will probably accept the challenge of Slosson and the plan now is to have the match played in some public hall in this city in March. The match will be played in one night.

COLD WEATHER.

Eastern Oregon Experiencing Strenuous Winter Weather.

BAKER CITY, Ore., Jan. 25 (Special) —The weather here is very cold at present. Most of the snow, however, disappeared during a chinook which prevailed the first of this week. Conservative estimates place the depth of snow in the mountains at from six to eight feet.

A snowslide occurred in the Elkhorn range, ten miles from this city, in which the mountain was cleared of timber for a distance of 2000 feet, and much damage done. The thunder of the rushing mass of snow and debris was audible several miles away.

Several persons living in the vicinity are reported to have had very narrow escapes.

JOE WHEELER DIES

Famous Confederate Cavalryman Gives Up the Fight.

PNEUMONIA CAUSES DEATH

Wheeler Was One of South's Great Cavalry Leaders in Civil War—In War With Spain Served in U. S.
Army As Brigadier-General.

NEW YORK, Jan. 25.—General Joseph Wheeler, the famous Confederate cavalry leader and brigadier-general in the United States army since the war with Spain, died at 5:30 this afternoon in Brooklyn, aged 69 years.

In spite of his years there was hope until yesterday of his recovery from the attack of pneumonia which caused his death.

It is not decided where his body will be interred but probably in Arlington cemetery near Washington. General Wheeler was taken ill six days ago.
He contracted a severe cold which developed into pleurisy and pneumonia.
From the first his age told against him, but the family did not give up hope until last night when the disease was found to have affected both lungs. The attending physicians gave up all hope at midnight last night. At this time he was perfectly conscious and recognized and made signs of encouragement to his family gathered about his bedside. Later the general sank into a peaceful slumber and at no time afterwards was more than semi-conscious.
He lingered until this evening when he passed away peacefully.

and Governor Chamberlain, Governor Mead and others were among the speakers. Commendatory telegrams from Governor Brooks, of Wyoming; Governor Blanchard, of Louisiana, and J. J. Hill were read. Governor Chamberlain presided. The addresses of the different speakers touched upon the duty of all persons who intended traveling to first see what their own country had to offer.

ILL-FATED VALENCIA IS BENEATH THE WAVES

NO PART OF SHIP REMAINS ABOVE THE WATER

Light-Keeper at Cape Beale Visits the Scene of the Wreck and Says Remaining Mast Has Disappeared At Last.

REMAINING SURVIVORS BATTLE AGAINST DEATH TO THE END

AFTER CLINGING IN HOPELESS DESPERATION TO ONLY REMAINING MAST, FEW SURVIVORS OF WRECKED VALENCIA, ARE FINALLY SWEEPED TO THEIR DEATH. WHEN WAVES CARRY THE MAST INTO THE SEA—THIRTY-TWO OUT OF 154 ARE KNOWN TO BE SAVED.

VICTORIA, Jan. 26.—A dispatch from Cape Beale says Lightkeeper Patterson has returned from the wreck and reports the steamer Valencia is no more. Pieces of the steamer and her cargo were scattered along the beach when he left.

VICTORIA, Jan. 25.—The wrecked steamer Valencia now lies submerged and broken, save for a portion of one mast which still stands above the water. A fleet of steamers and tugs today have been turning their attention to patrolling the vicinity, with the hope of finding boats, rafts or wreckage. Ashore several parties have been tolling over almost impassible trails, some carrying succor to those washed ashore, others securing the rugged rocks of the shore line seeking any survivors that have reached shore, while others are engaged in the melancholy work of recovering bodies. Of the total of 154, but 32 are definitely accounted for. In addition to the 32 the two men who were seen on the shore by the steamer Salvor near the wreck, may be survivors. Five survivors have been taken on board the Salvor, nine more are encamped at the Darling Creek telegraph hut, with their bodies bruised and their feet cut, besides being too overcome as to stand, to say nothing of attempting to walk, and eighteen were picked up by the City of Topeka. If the two men seen by the Salvor are survivors, there are still 126 persons missing. Not a solitary woman or child is among the rescued. Little or no hope is entertained by the patrolling fleet that any others will be recovered for doctors say the limit of human endurance has already passed.

and the bluejackets on the boat made a heroic attempt to get them. They were unsuccessful and returned to the Lorne after succeeding in getting within two boat lengths of shore. Some doubt is expressed as to whether these men are survivors, as they seemed to make no attempt to get to the boat. The Salvor also attempted to land at Darling Creek with supplies for the survivors, but returned with the information that supplies must be sent overland as the surf was running too high.

Neither the Orion nor the Salvor report finding any corpses and the tugs Lorne and Pioneer and the steamer City of Topeka have proceeded inward satisfied that nothing more can be done from seaward. Tonight parties are being made up along the beach to make an investigation of the spot where the two men are reported to be.

Topeka Has Twenty-three.
The City of Topeka reported from Neah Bay tonight that she had twenty-three on board. These are the eighteen rescued from the raft and the five which had been taken from the Salvor.
The Salvor will continue to patrol the shore in the neighborhood of Cape Beale.

The steamer Shamrock has arrived at Toquart near here with three survivors of the wreck. The men are all members of the crew. They were picked up on Turret Island on Barelay Sound. Another survivor is on the island, but is lost in the bushes. Two bodies were found on the island.

Salvor Reports Find.

ALGERIRAS, Jan. 25.—Spain, at today's session of the Moroccan conference presented a draft to the convention providing a better return system of taxation in Morocco and also the creation of new revenues. The conference, after some discussion expressed the opinion that nothing could be prom-basis of organization of the country or in contradiction with the habit of the Moroccans regarding land taxation.

REMONSTRANCE IS RECEIVED

Postmaster-General Cortelyou and Members of Congress Receive Protest Concerning Affair From National German-American Alliance.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 25.—Postmaster-General Cortelyou and the members of Congress received a remonstrance from the National German-American Alliance against the alleged improper use of the frank of Senator Gallinger.

The petition alleges a pamphlet bearing the title "Scientific Testimony on Beer" is being sent through the mails bearing the advertisement of the International Reform Bureau and is said to be taken from the Senate document on "Moral Legislation." The Alliance declares the speech in the pamphlet is not a speech delivered by Gallinger in 1901, but the alleged article being sent out under Gallinger's frank is an article taken from the Toledo Blade.

FOREIGN AFFAIRS DEBATED.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 25.—The fore-spoke in support of the annexation of Santo Domingo.

JEROME READS LETTER

In Colliers Weekly Trial District Attorney Jerome Makes Argument.

"TOWN TOPICS" IS SCORED

Last Stage of the Trial of Norman Haggood and the Editors of Collier's Weekly on Criminal Libel Charge is Reached.

NEW YORK, Jan. 25.—The last stage of the trial of Norman Haggood, and the editors of Collier's Weekly, charged with criminal libel in their publication of a paragraph commenting on city Magistrate Deuel's connection with Town Topics, was reached this afternoon when the taking of testimony ended and Edward M. Shepard of the defendant's counsel made the opening argument for the defense in which he declared everything stated in the paragraph true, and in which he commented severely upon the character of Town Topics.

Tomorrow District Attorney Jerome will sum up for the prosecution. A striking feature of the testimony today was given by Haggood himself, when he declared what he had written about Town Topics was based upon information furnished by District Attorney Jerome himself. Jerome here caused some merriment by the statement, that it showed after all he was the author of the article involved in the trial.
"That is true is a measure," asserted Haggood.

Robert J. Collier, of Collier's Weekly, testified today that Haggood wrote the article concerning Deuel and "Town Topics" under instructions from him.
The last act of Jerome today for the prosecution, was to place in evidence a letter from ex-President Cleveland which stated Cleveland had examined "Fads and Fancies" and thought it an "admirable book."

CAPTAIN MUST PAY.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 25.—The report rendered by Deputy Collector Farley on the charges of Maarten Dirkswager, who was harpooned by the mate of the whaler John and Winthrop, dis-credits the sailor's testimony but finds the captain liable to a fine of $100 every day of the 300 spent at sea, on which limejuice was not served the men. The captain said limejuice was served only once a week when in warm waters.
