Complete Market Reports Corrected Each Day Giving the Wholesale Prices of Commodities, Farm Produce and Vegetables.

PORTLAND, Jan. 27.—The price of grain bags has advanced to 8c, which is from 1-4c to 1-2c higher than last year. Scarcity of burlap at Calcutta, and signs of a heavy demand on the part of California wheatgrowers this year, combine to strengthen the market for both domestic and foreign bags.

"The bag market has not fairly opened yet, however," said a bag dealer to-day, "and the California wheat crop is likely to be much larger on paper than when threshing begins in July. Heavy rains have fallen recently in that State, but in the opinion of those best posted on the situation there the showers came too late to insure a good crop. It is conceded that if the grain has not sprouted well by January 1, there will be no heavy crop any season. The rains cease usually in March, and the grain attempts to ripen while but a few inches high. This condition favors a reduction in the price of grain bags before the spring delivery of the bags to the grain producers of the Northwest."

Wheat is firm, with a tendency to advance. However, the season has opened so late that heavy crops may be expected to come in. Big shipments will come in next week, which will send the price down several cents. Dealers say the demand for eggs was never greater at this time of year than now. Eastern eggs are not to the liking of buyers, and the fresh Oregon article is what they can get it.
