FATAL COLLISION

Passenger Train Strikes Crowded Street Car.

TWO PERSONS ARE KILLED

Theater Train Running Out of Chicago Strikes Street Car With Disastrous Results—Two Killed and Many Injured.

CHICAGO, Feb. 12.—A theater train on the Pennsylvania Railroad, running the rate of twenty miles an hour, crashed into a crowded street car in South Chicago last night, instantly killing two persons and injuring twelve. The killed and injured were all occupants of the street car. The engine and first coach of the passenger train left the rails and were overturned. The dead:

MRS. WILLIAM BACON, South Chicago.

MINNIE WARSUEL, 12 years old, Chicago.

The injured including the following: J. C. MACK, East Chicago, engineer, severely bruised.

EDWARD M. DAY, motorman of the street car, cut about head and body.

C. B. BOLLAR, conductor of the street car, cut about neck and head.

MRS. BLANCHE WARSUEL, severely injured about the body.

MRS. LOUIS LUCY, injured internally.

W. B. LYNCH, injured internally.

The passenger train was a local, leaving Chicago at 11:34 p. m., for East Chicago, Ind. It was well filled with passengers who were thrown into a panic by the collision. The street car was hurled into the air, overturned, and ground to splinters before the locomotive. The crash came almost without warning, and but few occupants of the street car had an opportunity to leap from the car before it was struck. The passengers of the railway train hurried to the assistance of those imprisioned in the debris and began the work of rescue. Calls for assistance were sent to the nearest police station and physicians were summoned to aid the injured.

The engineer of the passenger train and the crew of the street car were placed under arrest.

YOUR HAT

May Be a Stylish One, But It Makes Trouble.

A man usually buys a hat that's "in style," but the modern hat for men has lots to answer for.

Baldheads are growing more numerous every day. Hats make excellent breeding places for the parasitic germs which sap the life from the roots of the hair.

When your hair begins to fall out and your scalp is full of dandruff it is a sure sign that these countless germs are busily at work.

There is but one way to overcome the trouble and kill the germs—that way is to apply Newbro's Herpicide to the scalp—it will kill the germs and healthy hair is sure to result.

POWERFUL PATIENT.

Unwilling to Submit to Operation, he Breaks Away From Doctors.

CHICAGO, Feb. 12.—A dispatch to the Record-Herald from New Orleans, says: After having been placed on the operating table at the Charity hospital yesterday to undergo an operation which was supposed to mean life or death to him, Joseph Donahue broke away from the surgeons and nurses, sprang from the table, climbed a ladder to a skylight which he smashed and was chased about the roof of the building for ten minutes before he was captured. Although several bones were broken and he was internally injured in an accident, the patient still had great strength, and the attendants had great difficulty in overpowering him.

TAX CORPORATIONS

Folk Favors the Abolishment of Personal Taxes.

PEOPLE'S BURDEN LIGHTENED

Governor of Missouri Says Removal of State Taxes From Personal Property and Levying on Real Estate and Corporations, Helps Poor.

CHICAGO, Feb. 12.—A dispatch to the Record-Herald from Jefferson City, Mo., says:

Governor Folk last night issued an explicit statement of his convictions concerning the abolition of personal taxes in Missouri and the shifting of a large part of the burden upon the big corporations. He said:

"It is asserted by some persons that the removal of state taxes from personal property, thus placing upon real estate and corporate monopolies the burden of government would benefit the rich at the expense of the poor.

"On the contrary, in proportion to personal property tax (and by personal property is not meant corporate franchises and privileges) falls heaviest on the poor and the honest.

"The abolition of this tax and putting it on corporate privileges cannot be to the advantage of the rich as against the poor, for the poor man has no monopoly privileges and no corporate holdings.

"Every farmer, under the present system, pays on every cow, horse, and hog; every widow or orphan, whose estate must go through the probate court, must pay in full, while too often the man of wealth, having his personal reality in such shape it cannot be reached, pays practically nothing.

"Some persons object to corporations and real estate bearing the burdens of state government. But the statutes given to corporations, which are artificial creatures of the state, rights and privileges which the ordinary citizen does not enjoy, and it is only just that the state should receive full return in the way of revenue for the powers granted."

FOOTBALL FATALITY.

Another Victim Added to List of Deaths From Football.

CHICAGO, Feb. 12.—Another name was added to the list of football fatalities of the 1905 season yesterday by the death of John Smith of Austin at Annes Hospital. Smith, who is eighteen years old, died as the result of injuries received in a game, October 25.

He was kicked in the stomach and although he played several games afterward, serious complications followed which necessitated his going to the hospital several weeks ago. Death came after three operations had been performed.

Mr. Hyde says the doctors have prescribed a change and a rest. The policy holders will get the change; Hyde already has the rest.—New York Press.

Speaks on "The Individual Man" to Large Audience.

STATES CORPORATION EVILS

Says That the Evils in the Large Corporations Lie Largely in the Wide Latitude Given Them by the National Governmental.

NEW YORK, Feb. 12.—Lecturing on "The Individual Man," Judge Peter S. Grosscup of Chicago expounded yesterday to a large audience in the People's forum at New Rochelle, his scheme for popularizing the corporations. The audience seemed intensely interested.

William M. Ivins, who was the Republican nominee for mayor last fall, presided and added local color to Judge Grosscup's theme.

"The wrong of the corporation," said Judge Grosscup, "is not in the corporation itself, but in the extreme latitude of the state and national government that has permitted the corporation to become the exclusive right of a few people. If, when these great transformations were taking place, there had been carried with it the interest, the proprietorship, the co-operation of the men whose places were being taken—if, for instance, the shoemaker had become a part proprietor in the shoe factory—none of this outcry and causes for outcry would exist. But such was not the case, for some reason or other, for some reason which is a very good reason, looked back at retrospectively."

After speaking of public lands as related to corporations, Judge Grosscup continued:

"We must invite our citizenship back to first principles again. I do not wish to be understood as being against wealth or the wealthy man. The man who has by the force of his character, by honest endeavor, driven his estate to thousands, nay, to millions, has my unbounded respect. I would, however, have laws enacted which would be operative on the large corporations as well as the small ones. We all know that some of our larger combinations are flourishing now under conditions, which, if the combinations were smaller would lead to their extermination. I would enact a law which would cause the bandits, the marauders, and the trespassers to go forever."

Judge Grosscup said that his remedy would be, first, to have any body of men who proposed to form a corporation show that they had the actual assets, the capital they pretended to have at the outset, than to place proper safeguards around the corporation to see that it was legally managed, and to simplify the routine, the issuance of stock, and so on, so that the man in the ordinary walks of life could understand the conditions.

"Many of the corporations have long been in the suspect class," he added.

BOOKER T. SPEAKS.

Addresses White Cross Industrial Association in New York.

NEW YORK, Feb. 12.—Booker T. Washington spoke yesterday before the White Cross Industrial Association, at its headquarters in this city. The association's home offer shelter for respectable negro girls seeking employment.

There are many white persons present who have taken an interest in the work of the president of Tuskegee.

Mr. Washington urged the necessity of the negro servant being a better servant than his white rival.

"This is one of the places of good works in which I have been most deeply interested," he said. "It represents practical and not imaginary needs. In the city of New York there are 65,000 representatives of our race—negroes."

"The negro population increases rapidly, and it is for the welfare of the nation that there are institutions like this. In the great anxiety to get forward in modern business and life it is difficult to get one race to feel that it is not the only race. Forty years ago there were six million negroes in this country and now there are 10,000,000. They must be considered.

"In the large wholesale business they send out drummers with samples of the goods they want to sell, the honest salesman declares that the goods represented by the samples are even better than the sample. It is very important to our race that you here in the North should show yourselves worthy samples of industry and progressiveness. Your responsibility is tremendous. You owe it to yourselves and your people in the South that you should gain the favorable opinion of the people of the North."
